No. 485.—Simla, the 17th May 1865.—Mr. Herbert Hankey, of the Civil Service, is permitted to proceed to Europe on furlough for a period of one year from the date of embarkation. Mr. Hankey has reported his departure from India per Steam-ship Simla, which vessel was left by the Pilot at Sea on the 25th ultimo.

The following Order issued by the Government of India in the Foreign Department is re-published for information :—

Notification.—No. 179.—Simla, the 15th May 1865 —The Chief of Jhubboon in Central India having knowingly permitted a case of mutilation to occur at his Capital, in which a person confined under suspicion of theft was deliberately deprived of a foot and a hand, His Excellency the Governor General in Council, in order publicly to mark the displeasure with which the British Government regard the conduct of the Chief, directs that the salute of 11 Guns to which he has been hitherto entitled be henceforth discontinued.

The following Order issued by the Government of India, Financial Department, is re-published for information :—

Notification.—No. 212.—Simla, the 16th May 1865.—It being declared by Section 249 of Act No. XXXII. of 1860 "for imposing duties on profits arising from Property, Professions, Trades, and Offices," that the Act shall continue in force until the 1st day of August 1865 and no longer, the attention of all Offices of Pay and Audit is hereby directed to Section 100 of the said Act, with reference to which official salaries and emoluments which are subject to audit, or are payable on or after the 1st of August 1865, will be exempt from Income Tax. Thus the salaries for July, which are payable only on the 1st of August, will not be liable to the tax.

2. The same principle applies to the Funds. None of the interest which may accrue on and after the 1st of August will be liable to Income Tax, notwithstanding that some portion of it may be for a period prior to the 1st August.

By Order of the Governor General in Council,

J. STRACHEY,

Offg. Secy. to the Govt. of India.

ORDERED, that a copy of the above Notification be sent to the Foreign, Home, Military, and Public Works Departments of the Government of India; the Local Governments and Administrations; the several Deputy Auditors and Accountants-General; the Accountant-General to the Government of India; and the Auditor-General of India.

NOTIFICATION.—The 25th May 1865.—In continuation of the Notification of the 23rd March last, published in the Calcutta Gazette of the 29th idem, it is hereby notified that the Lieutenant-Governor has been pleased to sanction the transfer of Pergunnahs Jellasore and Napoochour from Zillah Midnapore to Zillah Cuttack. No. 178.

The 4th May 1865.

The following Draft of Rules having reference to the Canals from Coloobaria to Midnapore and from the Roopnarian River to Balasore, called respectively the MIDNAPORE CANAL and the BALASORE CANAL, is published for information under the provisions of Section XI. of "the CANALS' ACT, 1864,"—(No. V., B. L. C.)

I. EVERY Vessel on entering either of the above Canals shall be liable to measurement for the purpose of ascertaining the amount of toll the Vessel should pay according to the Schedule of rates authorized by Government to be charged on the Canal.

II. The tonnage of every Vessel, whether laden or empty, shall, for the purposes of the "Canals' Act, 1864," and of these Rules, be determined by the following measurements :—

a. The product of half the length of the Vessel from stem to stern measured along the water line, multiplied by the interior greatest breadth of the Vessel, multiplied by the depth from the water line to the bottom of the Vessel, is to be taken as the number of maunds upon which toll shall be levied.

b. The measurement of the length is to be made in feet rejecting inches, and the measurment of the breadth and depth in feet and quarters of feet rejecting portions of less than a quarter of a foot.

c. In calculating the amount of toll to be levied any fraction of 100 maunds less than 25 maunds is to be omitted; exceeding 25 and not exceeding 50 maunds is to be charged as 25 maunds only; exceeding 50 and not exceeding 75 maunds to be charged as 50 maunds only; and exceeding 75 maunds as 75 maunds only. Above one thousand maunds no fraction of 100 maunds is to be charged.

III. Every Vessel entering a Canal shall be furnished with a ticket on paying the prescribed toll. The ticket shall specify the Station at which it has been issued, the name of the person in charge of the Vessel, the date the Vessel entered the Canal, the point to which it may proceed in the Canal, the maundage of the Vessel, the amount of toll charged, and the number of days for which the Vessel may remain in the Canal, and the date of such last day. The number of days which the Vessel may remain in the Canal without additional payment shall be calculated at the rate of one day for every eight miles or portion of eight miles to be traversed.

IV. Toll may be paid at the first Station either for the entire number of Toll Stations on the line of navigation, or for any less number of Stations.

V. The tickets thus given may be demanded for inspection by any duly authorized Canal Officer, and must be kept on board and at hand for that purpose. They must be shewn at each Toll Station the Vessel has to pass as a Passport that no further payment of toll is to be demanded. The tickets shall be delivered up at the last Toll Station.

VI. Owners of Vessels may compound by the payment of a fixed sum for the use of the whole or a portion of a Canal for any period that may be agreed upon, not exceeding one year. Each Vessel so compounded for shall be furnished with a ticket, shewing the amount of toll paid, the period for which the toll has been compounded for, and the limits of the Canal within which the Vessel may pass; such ticket shall be kept on board the Vessel and shall be produced when required under Rule IV, but shall be given up only on the date of the expiry of the period for which granted and at the Station from whence issued.

VII. Duplicates of lost tickets, of which the numbers and the dates of entry can be satisfactorily established, will be granted by Officers in charge of Toll Stations on payment of a fee of one Rupee.

VIII. Vessels remaining in the Canal for a period exceeding that allowed under Rule III. will pay a demurrage of eight annas per 100 maunds per diem for each day or part of a day that they may remain in excess.

IX. No boats above 18 feet beam over all, and no rafts or floats of more than 10 feet width and 150 feet in length will be allowed to enter the Canal.

X. It will not be compulsory for the locks to be opened to single Vessels of less than 500 maunds burden, except in the case of mail or dispatch boats; but the locks shall be opened for the passage of boats at least twice a day.

XI. Vessels must have their masts fitted so that they can be let down with ease and speed, and when under sail Vessels must always keep in the middle of the Canal; when being tracked Vessels are, as far as practicable, to keep to their port or left side of the Canal.

XII. All Vessels anchoring at night are to keep to their port or left bank of the Canal.

XIII. Only one Vessel shall be allowed to make fast along and in a line with the Canal banks, and no Vessel shall be made fast, or be placed outside of Vessels so secured without the permission of a Canal Officer. No Vessel shall, however, be placed in such a position as to endanger the safety of other Vessels, to obstruct their passage, or to impede the navigation; and no bamboos or poles shall be allowed to be erected on Vessels when at anchor: any infringement of this rule will be punishable by a fine not exceeding Rupees 5 for each offence.

XIV. Every Vessel when put to shall be securely fastened and shall at all times have some person in attendance on board of it: any infringement of this rule will be punishable by a fine not exceeding Rupees 5 for each offence.

XV. In every case of wreck or obstruction of the channel by sunken Vessels, the Canal Officer may call upon the person in charge of the Vessel to remove the same without delay, and shall give every reasonable assistance towards so doing. But should the owner of the Vessel or raft be not forthcoming, or should he not use reasonable expedition in removing the obstruction, or should he decline or fail to use proper assistance which may be offered to him by the Canal Officers, these Officers may undertake the removal of the obstruction themselves at the cost of the owner of the boat, recovering the expense in the manner laid down in Section IX. of "the Canals' Act, 1864."

XVI. If the Canal Officer be unable to ascertain the name and place of business or of abode of the owner of the cargo of any Vessel or Boat seized under the Canals' Act, he shall notify the seizure in the most public manner available.

XVII. The banks or berms of the Canals shall not be used as wharves for the deposit of goods under a penalty of 10 Rupees for each offence; but except in special cases, when the permission of the Canal Officers will be necessary, all articles shall be removed to the outer bank of the Canal and all such articles as shall not be finally removed from within the Canal boundaries within a period of 6 days after being so deposited shall be liable to a charge of four annas per 100 maunds.

XVIII. The Canal may be closed once a year for effecting the necessary repairs to it on one month's notice of the intention so to close it, but in the event of any sudden emergency the Canal may be closed at any time without prior notice, and no claim shall be made in such case by owners of Vessels or others for compensation on account of detention.

XIX. All offences against the provisions of these Rules shall be punishable as provided for in Section XVIII. of the Canals' Act, 1864, and all fines imposed may be recovered in the manner mentioned in Section XVII. of the same Act.

XX. The term "Canal Officer" in the foregoing Rules shall include the persons alluded to in Section VIII. of "the Canals' Act, 1864," and any other persons who may be specially appointed to exercise such powers by the person appointed to collect the tolls.

3. The Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal, under the power vested in him by Section VIII. of the Canals' Act, hereby appoints the Commissioner of the Chittagong Division for the time being to collect the Tolls on the three lines of navigable Channels above specified

No. 190.

The following Rules having reference to the undermentioned three Navigable Channels in the Chittagong District, viz., the line of Channel connecting the Kurnafoolee and Sungoo Rivers, the line of Channel connecting the Sungoo River with the Julkudder Creek as far as Julkudder Ghât, the Moishkhallee Nullah or Khal, have been passed this day by the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal under the provisions of Sections XI. and XII. of the Canals' Act, 1864, (No. V., B. L. C.):—

1. EVERY Vessel on entering any of the above navigable Channels shall be liable to measurement by the Officer in charge of the Toll Station for the purpose of ascertaining the amount of Toll to be paid.

2. The tonnage of every Vessel, whether laden or empty, shall, for the purposes of the Canals' Act and of these Rules, be determined by the following measurements :—

a. The product of half the length of the Vessel from stem to stern measured along the water line, multiplied by the interior greatest breadth of the Vessel, multiplied by the depth from the water line to the bottom of the Vessel, is to be taken as the number of maunds upon which Toll shall be levied.

b. The measurement of the length is to be made in feet rejecting inches. The measurement of the breadth and depth is to be made in feet and quarters of a foot, rejecting portions of less than a quarter of a foot.

c. In calculating the amount of Toll to be levied any fraction of 100 maunds less than 50 maunds is to be omitted; and a fraction exceeding 50 maunds is to be charged as 50 maunds only.

3. No raft will be admitted into any of the Channels in excess of 50 feet in length or 5 feet in breadth. No timber, bamboos or grass will be admitted except securely and compactly packed in the form of a raft.

4. Every Vessel entering any of the Channels shall be furnished with a ticket on paying the prescribed Toll. The ticket will specify the date of entry, the maundage of the Vessel, and the amount of Toll paid.

5. No Vessels whatever, except such as are employed on works connected with the maintenance or improvement of the lines of Channels in question, shall be exempted from paying Toll.

6. Every Vessel or Raft which has paid Toll shall be allowed three days to pass through any one of the Channels, the days of entering and leaving being both included; and any Vessel or Raft remaining in any part of the Channels longer than the period above fixed shall, for each day in excess of such period, be charged demurrage equal to one-half of the Toll paid. Every Vessel or Raft remaining in any one of the Channels more than one month, without authority from the Supervisor, shall be subject to be summarily removed.

7. Any person infringing any of the above Rules, or wilfully interfering in their enforcement, shall be liable, under Section XI. of the Canals Act, to a fine not exceeding 50 Rupees for any one offence.

BOARD OF REVENUE,
The 9th May 1865.

Notification.

Fort William, the 25th April 1865.

IN pursuance of the Notification from this Office bearing date the 3rd March 1864, notice is hereby given that fifteen lakhs of maunds of the Government Stock of Pungah or Boiled Salt stored in the Depôts noted in the margin will be put up for sale by public auction on the 5th of July next.

The sale will be held at the Presidency, the place to be hereafter notified.

The following are the Conditions of sale:—

1*st*.—The Salt will be offered for sale at an upset price to be determined at the time with reference to the then state of the market, and it will be sold to the highest bidder above that price.

N. B.—Deficiency in Stock of any year will be supplied by delivery of like Salt of other year at the Depôt.

2*nd*.—The sale shall commence at the hour of 11 A. M. of the day abovementioned and shall not be continued after the hour of 5 P. M., but if at that hour any of the Lots advertised for sale shall remain unsold the sale may, at the discretion of the Board of Revenue, be resumed on the next day following (not being Sunday or a public holiday) at the hour of 11 A. M., and so on until the whole of the remaining Lots are disposed of, or, if the whole quantity advertised shall not be sold on the day appointed, the Board may dispose of the Lots which remain on hand at a future sale.

3*rd*.—Each Lot will comprize one thousand maunds of Salt, the maund being of forty seers, of eighty tolahs to the seer.

4*th*.—The Salt will be deliverable from the Store Depôts.

5*th*.—A Promissory Note for the sum of one hundred Rupees shall be taken as a deposit on each Lot from the purchaser in the Sale Room and before the Lot is registered in the Sale Book, and all such Promissory Notes shall be redeemed on the part of the purchasers at this Office by Bank of Bengal Receipts, or by substitution of other Public Securities of the Bengal Government on or before 4 o'clock in the afternoon of the fifth day after the sale, or on the other hand failing such redemption by the time aforesaid, then the Lot or Lots for which no Bank of Bengal Receipts, or deposit of other Public Securities as aforesaid shall have been delivered in shall be re-sold at such time or times and under such conditions of re-sale as the Board of Revenue shall see fit. All losses and expenses whatsoever attending such re-sale shall be borne and paid by the defaulters, whilst any profit accruing from such re-sale shall be credited to Government.

6*th*.—The Promissory Notes taken on the day of sale under the last-mentioned condition, if remaining unredeemed at 4 o'clock of the fifth day following the day of sale, will be placed in the hands of the Solicitor to the Government for realization.

7*th*.—No Tender of Money, Bank of Bengal Receipts, or Public Securities on account of Salt upon which the prescribed deposit may not have been made before 4 o'clock of the fifth day following the day of sale will be afterwards accepted.

8*th*.—The duty on the Salt shall, unless the purchaser wishes to bond it, be paid for within sixty days from the day of sale; and in case any Lots shall not be so paid for and adjusted, then the cash deposit made under the fifth condition, or any Public Securities that may have been deposited on account of such Lots, shall be forfeited and the Salt shall be disposed of on account of Government at such time and in such manner as the Board of Revenue shall think fit, and the first purchaser shall further be required to make good any loss or difference of price between that obtained at the re-sale and the amount at which the Salt was first purchased, forfeiting all advantages that may arise from such re-sale.

9*th*.—For any Lots which may remain uncleared beyond the above period of sixty days, excepting such as may be bonded, Golah rent will thereafter be charged at the rate of four Rupees per mensem for each 100 maunds.

10*th*.—The Salt may be bonded in a Government or a Private Golah under the Bonding Rules applicable to Sea-imported Salt.

11*th*.—Certificates specifying the name or names of the purchaser or purchasers, the number of the Lots sold, and the description of Salt purchased will be delivered on payment of the deposit at the time and in the manner mentioned in condition 5th, and each Certificate to be so granted must be returned to the Office of the Board before any Orders and Rowannahs (corresponding with such Certificate) for the delivery of the Salt shall be issued.

12*th*.—No Orders and Rowannahs for the delivery of any Lot of Salt shall be issued until payment in full of price and duty shall have been made for the same.

13*th*.—Fees must be paid for Rowannahs agreeably to Clause 5, Section XLVI., Regulation X. of 1819.

14*th*.—No deposit of Public Securities under the 5th of the present conditions will be received in this Office, except from the party recorded as the purchaser in the Sale Book, or his authorized Agent. The receipt for deposit of Public Securities will be granted only in the name of such purchaser, and the Securities so deposited will be returned when payment in full has been made by the said purchaser or his order.

15*th*.—The Officer superintending the sale on the part of the Board of Revenue is empowered to reject, at his discretion, the bid of any individual unless such individual shall on demand tender at the time a deposit, either in Government of India Notes, Bank of Bengal Receipts, or Government Securities, a sum equal to the amount for which a Promissory Note would otherwise be taken under the 5th of these conditions.

16*th*.—The purchaser of any Lot shall have the option of naming and purchasing in immediate succession, at the same price and under the same conditions, any number of Lots of the same Salt not exceeding altogether fifty Lots; provided always that there remain a sufficient number of Lots of the Salt to complete the said fifty.

17*th*.—In the event of any dispute or difference touching or concerning any matter or question arising out of the sale of the Salt included in this Notification, or adjustment of the account thereof, the same shall and may be tried and decided in the High Court of Judicature at Fort William in Bengal.

By Order of the Board of Revenue,

T. Bruce Lane,
Junior Secretary.

The following Notice is published for general information :—

COASTS OF BRITISH BURMAH.

Alguada Reef Lighthouse.

Notice to Mariners.

A First Class Revolving Light was exhibited, for the first time, from the Alguada Reef, in the Bay of Bengal, on the night of the 23rd April 1865, and will contiuue to be shewn from that date.

The light, which is 144 feet above H. W. mark, attains its greatest brilliancy once a minute, and is visible, in clear weather, 20 nautical miles from the poop of a large ship.

Cape Negrais bears from the Lighthouse N. ¼ W.

The Pagoda on Pagoda Point N. ¾ E.

Porian Point N. E. by N.

The centre of Dimond Island N. N. E.

Vessels approaching the Alguada Reef will still find it necessary to be careful. The tides, when influenced by the wind, set across the Reef, and with a good deal of strength between the Reef and the Phæton Shoal. Vessels, therefore, should not come under 20 fathoms on the North-Western side, as the water shoals suddenly on this side, especially towards the South-West part of the Rocks.

Fifteen fathoms will be a safe depth to pass in on the Southern and Eastern sides.

There is a good channel to the North of the Reef between it and the Phaeton Shoal; but the navigation must always be attended with some risk to those unacquainted with it, there being no plain marks that can be specified as a safe and sure guide through. Should, however, circumstances compel a vessel to go through the Northern Channel, it will be well to borrow on the Alguada Reef side, passing about half a mile distant from the North-Easternmost visible rock, and not coming under 11 fathoms. Should it be high water, the breakers will shew the rocks.

On the Eastern side of the Reef vessels may know they are clear of danger by keeping the high land of Heingyee (or Negrais Island) well open to the Eastward of the Diamond Island.

A. FRASER, Lieut.-Col., R. E.,

Dated off Heingyee, 4th May 1865.

MUNICIPALITY.

SUBURBS OF CALCUTTA.

HIS HONOR the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal having, under the provisions of Section 85, Act III. (B. C.) of 1864, approved and confirmed the following Conservancy Bye-Laws for the Suburbs of Calcutta, they are hereby published for general information :—

1. The external roofs and walls of any hut or any other building whatever about to be erected or renewed in or near any public highway shall not be made of grass, leaves, mats, or any other inflammable material.

2. The Municipal Commissioners may cause to be put up or painted on a conspicuous part of any house, building, wall or place in any highway the name by which such highway is to be known, and no person shall destroy, pull down, or deface any such name, or put up any name different from that put up by order of the Commissioners.

3. The Municipal Commissioners may fix a number in a conspicuous place on the outer side of any house or building, or at the entrance of the enclosure thereof fronting any highway, and no person shall destroy, pull down, or deface any such number.

4. No person shall let loose, or cause or allow to be let loose, or allow to get loose any diseased or worn-out animal into any highway, or into any place where such animal can escape into any highway.

5. Every person within whose premises any animal may die shall, within two hours after its death, either remove at his own expense the carcass to such place as may be set apart by the Municipal Commissioners for the reception of such carcasses, or report its death to the Conservancy Overseer of the Division within which such premises may be situated, and in such latter case shall pay to the said Overseer the expense of removing the carcass at such rate as the Commissioners may determine; and in cases where the said person is not the owner of the animal and the owner is known, the owner shall alone be responsible for the payment of such expense, and such expense shall be recoverable as a debt due to the Commissioners.

6. No person, after warning from the Municipal Commissioners, shall allow any pigs to be at large, or keep them otherwise than in closed pens.

7. No person shall suffer any offensive matter from any manufactory or place of business to flow into any river, nullah, canal, tank, or surface drain.

8. All dust, dirt, and rubbish of every kind the removal of which is undertaken by the Municipal Commissioners shall be deposited on the side of the road, and not more than ten yards from the entrance of the premises from which it has come every morning between the hours of 4 A. M. and 8 A. M.

9. No refuse resulting from any business, trade, or profession shall be removed by the Municipal Commissioners except on payment for removal at such rate as the Commissioners may determine, and any expense incurred on this account shall be recoverable as a debt due to the Commissioners. No such refuse shall be deposited on any highway without permission from the Commissioners.

10. All dirt, dust, ashes, rubbish, sewerage, soil, dung, and filth collected from the highways, houses, privies, sewers, and cesspools by the Municipal Commissioners shall be the property of the Commissioners, who shall have power to sell or dispose of the same as they may think proper, and the money arising from the sale thereof shall be applied to the purposes of the District Municipal Improvement Act.

11. No person shall in any way obstruct, or allow to be obstructed, any of the lanes, walks, bye-ways or other thoroughfares in any Bazar by exposing for sale, or accumulating or allowing to be exposed for sale, or to be accumulated on any such lane, walk, bye-way, or thoroughfare any package or any other materials whatever.

12. Every owner, occupier, or farmer of any Bazar shall, within fourteen days after he shall have notice from the Municipal Commissioners so to do, provide such latrines and urinals as in the opinion of the Commissioners may be necessary for the cleanliness and health of such Bazar.

13. No owner, occupier, or farmer of any Bazar or shop shall sell, or expose for sale, or permit to be sold or exposed for sale, or admit into, or permit to remain in any such Bazar or shop any offensive meat, or fish, or decomposed vegetable matter, and every such owner, occupier, or farmer shall, without any delay, cause any such meat, fish, or vegetable matter to be at once removed to a place to be notified to him by the Municipal Commissioners. No such owner, occupier, or farmer shall obstruct any person appointed by the Commissioners for that purpose from entering and inspecting any such premises at any time between sunrise and sunset.

14. No person suffering from any contagious disease shall bathe in any bathing place set apart for that purpose by the Municipal Commissioners.

15. No person shall throw, or cause to be thrown, any corpse or carcass, or any part of a corpse or carcass upon any ground or into any river, nullah, canal, drain, or tank.

16. No person shall bury, or cause to be buried, any corpse in any burial ground in a grave constructed of masonry in such manner that the coffin shall be at a less depth than four feet from the surface ground.

17. No person shall bury, or cause to be buried, in any burial ground any corpse in a grave not constructed of masonry which shall be less than six feet deep.

18. No person shall build or dig, or cause to be built or dug, any grave in any burial ground at a less distance than four feet from any other existing grave.

19. No person shall build or dig, or cause to be built or dug, a grave in any burial place in any other line than that marked out by the Municipal Commissioners.

20. No grave once used shall be opened for the burial of another body without the permission of the Municipal Commissioners.

21. No person when burning or causing to be burnt any corpse or part of a corpse in any burning ground shall permit the same or any part thereof to remain without being completely reduced to ashes, or shall permit the clothes or other articles connected with the burning of such corpse to remain at or near such burning ground unless the same be completely reduced to ashes.

22. Every person who shall bring or convey, or cause to be brought or conveyed, any corpse or part thereof to any burning ground shall burn or cause the same to be burnt within four hours after its arrival at the said burning ground.

23. Every corpse, or part of a corpse, that has been kept or used for purposes of dissection must be removed in a closed vehicle in such manner as may prevent any offensive odour or any indecency.

24. Every person who shall commit an infringement of any of the foregoing Bye-Laws by doing any act prohibited by any such Bye-Law or by neglecting to do any act directed to be done by any such Bye-Law shall be liable to fine according to the scale laid down in the subjoined Table :—

Scholarship found in the Calcutta University by the Maharaja of Vizianagram.

From the Hon'ble the Maharajah of Vizianagram, to the HON'BLE A. EDEN, Secretary to the Government of Bengal,—(dated Calcutta, the 31st March 1865.)

WHEN I attended the late Convocation of the Calcutta University for presenting Degrees, I was extremely glad to hear of the progress the Students had made in the different branches of their study, and I feel anxious to encourage in Bengal a liberal Education in Literature and Science in the same way in which I have done so at Vizianagram. I would, therefore, propose to give to the University 50 Rupees per month to be awarded to the first Scholar (being a Native of India) on the B. A. List for the year in the Order of Merit, on condition of his continuing his studies in an Affiliated College with a view to the attainment of the higher Degree of M. A. The Scholarship, whilst creating emulation among the rising generation, will at the same time perpetuate my memory, and I would, therefore, wish it to be called "The Hon'ble Maharajah of Vizianagram's Scholarship." I shall make a monthly payment of 50 Rupees, which will be paid by Maharajah Sutt Shurn Ghosaul, of Bhookoyloss, until such time as I may conveniently invest in Government Promissory Notes such a sum as may produce an annual income of 600 Rupees.

From S. C. BAYLEY, ESQ., Junior Secretary to the Government of Bengal, to the Hon'ble the Maharajah of Vizianagram,—(No. 2758, dated the 12th April 1865.)

I AM directed to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 31st ultimo, and to communicate to you the thanks of the Lieutenant-Governor for your very liberal offer to the University of Calcutta of a Scholarship of Rupees 50 per mensem, to be called after your name.

2. Your letter has been forwarded to the Registrar of the University, by whom it will be laid before the Syndicate.

From S. C. BAYLEY, ESQ., Junior Secretary to the Government of Bengal, to the Officiating Registrar, Calcutta University,—(No. 2759, dated the 12th April 1865.)

I AM directed to forward, in original, a letter, dated the 31st ultimo, from the Hon'ble Maharajah of Vizianagram, offering a Scholarship of Rupees 50 per mensem to the Calcutta University, and to request that you will be so good as to lay it before the Syndicate.

2. The Maharajah has been thanked by the Lieutenant-Governor for his liberal offer.

From S. C. BAYLEY, ESQ., Junior Secretary to the Government of Bengal, to the Secretary to the Government of India, Home Department,—(No. 2760, dated the 12th April 1865.)

I AM directed to forward, for the information of His Excellency the Governor General in Council, copy of the correspondence noted on the margin, relative to an offer made to the Calcutta University by the Hon'ble Maharajah of Vizianagram to establish a Scholarship of Rupees 50 per mensem, to be called after his name.

The Hon'ble Maharajah of Vizianagram, dated 31st March 1865.
To the Hon'ble Maharajah of Vizianagram, No. 2758, dated 12th April 1865.
To the Officiating Registrar, Calcutta University, No. 2759, dated 12th April 1865.

From J. SUTCLIFFE, ESQ., M. A., Registrar, Calcutta University, to the HON'BLE A. EDEN, Secretary to the Government of Bengal,—(No. 403, dated the 2nd May 1865.)

I AM directed to acknowledge the receipt of your letter No. 2759, dated 12th ultimo, forwarding in original a letter from the Hon'ble Maharajah of Vizianagram, offering to found a Scholarship of 50 Rupees per mensem in the Calcutta University. In reply I am desired to state that the Syndicate, on behalf of the University, gratefully accept the liberal offer, and that regulations will be laid down for awarding the Scholarship from 1st January 1866 in accordance with the wishes expressed in the Hon'ble Maharajah's letter.

From J. GEOGHEGAN, ESQ., Under-Secretary to the Government of Bengal, to the Hon'ble the Maharajah of Vizianagram,—(No. 8428, dated the 12th May 1865.)

IN continuation of letter from this Office No. 2758, dated the 12th ultimo, I am directed to forward, for your information, copy of a letter, No. 403, dated the 2nd instant, from the Registrar of the Calcutta University, communicating the thanks of the Syndicate for your offer to establish a Scholarship in connection with that Institution, and stating that regulations will be laid down for awarding the Scholarship from the 1st January next.

2. A copy of the whole correspondence on this subject has been forwarded for the information of His Excellency the Governor General in Council.

Eastern Bengal Railway Extensions.

From CAPTAIN E. C. S. WILLIAMS, R. E., for Secretary to the Government of India, Public Works Department, to the Joint Secretary to the Government of Bengal, Public Works Department, Railway Branch,—(No. 243R., dated the 21st March 1865.)

I AM directed to acknowledge receipt of your letter No. 1319G., dated 23rd September 1864, regarding an extension of the Eastern Bengal Railway to Goalundo at the confluence of the Jaboona and Ganges, and to inform you that the proposal has been referred to the Secretary of State in view to its being ascertained on what terms the Company would undertake the construction of the line.

From CAPTAIN F. S TAYLOR, R. E, Joint Secretary to the Government of Bengal, Public Works Department, Railway Branch, to the Agent, Eastern Bengal Railway Company,—(No. 886G., dated the 27th March 1865.)

I AM directed to communicate copy of a letter, No. 243R., from the Secretary, Government of India, Public Works Department, intimating that your proposal for an extension of the Eastern Bengal Railway to Goalundo at the confluence of the Jaboona and Ganges has been referred to the Secretary of State, and to forward the accompanying copy of a Memorandum by the Commissioner of Dacca on further Railway extensions to the East, and to request that you will favor this Office with an expression of your opinion on the suggestions offered by Mr. C. T. Buckland for the useful and profitable development of the Eastern Bengal Railway.

Memorandum by C. T. BUCKLAND, ESQ., Commissioner of the Dacca Division, on the Eastern Bengal Railway continuation,—(dated the 17th February 1865.)

THE following suggestions are offered for the useful and profitable development of the Eastern Bengal Railway :—

2. It is, I believe, admitted that the terminus at Kooshtea is no permanent terminus; and to avoid any appearance of controversy, I shall not do more than allude to the proposed extension to Darjeeling, which rests on its own merits, and has no connection or competition with Eastern Bengal properly defined.

3. I also understand that Dacca was the original proposed terminus of the Eastern Bengal Railway, and the line marked on all the Government maps supports this idea. But the line so marked involves the crossing of two very large rivers, the Ganges at Kooshtea and the Jaboona at Serajgunge, and I believe that the difficulty of this double crossing has been one of the obstacles to the completion of the original project.

4. It has since been proposed, and I believe that the Government of Bengal and the Government of India are favorable to the idea of continuing the line of Railway from Kooshtea, or from a point somewhat south of it, so as to lead it along the south bank of the Ganges to the point of confluence of the Ganges and Jaboona, by which scheme one crossing will suffice for both those rivers. The point of confluence has been named Goalundo from an old Factory of that name, and for convenience I shall use the name Goalundo in the rest of this Memorandum.

5. I believe that there are no very great Engineering difficulties between Kooshtea and Goalundo. There are the Rivers Gorai and the Chundun. The latter is rather the bed of an old river than a river. The banks of the Gorai are generally high and hard, and I have no doubt that the position for a bridge could be selected without much difficulty. With regard to the rest of the line of country, I have been informed by Lieutenant-Colonel Gastrell, who made the Revenue Survey of it, that it is an old and hard formation, and that he is not aware of any serious objections to it.

6. The extension of the line as far as Goalundo would have one particular merit, that it would at once lead to the increase of the goods traffic of the Railway, as it would intercept all the produce which now passes that point en route to Calcutta by boat. When a boat from Assam or Serajgunge has reached Goalundo, it can either go down the united stream of the Jaboona and Ganges, locally called the Pudda, till it reaches the tidal rivers of the Sunderbuns; or it can go up the Ganges as far as Kooshtea, where it finds the River Gorai in direct competition with the Railway, the River Gorai being in direct communication with Calcutta by the inner and safer Sunderbun route. But when a boat has made its way from Goalundo up to Kooshtea, a journey of three or four days for a laden boat, it is hardly worth while to transfer the cargo to the Railway. Whereas, on the other hand, the position of Goalundo would be so favorable as to induce the transfer of the cargo there, to avoid all risk of further water carriage by either of the Sunderbun routes.

7. A reference to the map will shew that Goalundo is a point which would naturally, i. e., according to the water-shed of the rivers, receive all the produce of the country lying to the north of it in Pubna, Bograh, Rungpore, and Mymensing, and the whole of Assam. It is not too great an assumption to make that Goalundo might, in the course of a short time, take the place of Serajgunge, which now commands so much of the trade of the North-Eastern Districts.

8. So again of the trade to the south and east, representing Dacca and the east half of Mymensing, Sylhet, Cachar, and Furreedpore and Tipperah; a regular and well appointed service of Steam Tugs and Flats between Goalundo and Narraingunge (eight miles south of Dacca) would shortly command the trade of all those Districts to which Narraingunge is the present centre of trade. At present little produce goes to Kooshtea, because the distance is so great and the navigation is so bad for boats, and there has been no properly directed and sustained attempt to maintain a Steam Tug and Flat service between Narraingunge and Kooshtea.

9. Therefore one chief merit in an extension from Kooshtea to Goalundo is that it will at once conduce to enrich the goods traffic of the Railway, whilst it brings all the Eastern Districts so much nearer to the central authority of Government in Calcutta.

10. But having reached Goalundo it cannot be intended that the Railway should stop there. It is to a certain extent, it may be said, stopped by the confluence of the two rivers which is admitted; but independently of its being a good terminus on its own merits, it is also good for a point from which the continuation or next section of the line should be made.

11. I look on it as unnecessary and undesirable, at least for the present, to bridge the Pudda; but the confluence of the Ganges and Jaboona will always insure a good depth of water for the crossing of the river by a Steam Ferry from one hard bank to another hard bank at all times of the year.

12. The next point is the continuation of the Railway from the east side of the Pudda towards Dacca. The village locally known on the eastern bank is called Teonto Hât, and I shall use this name for the sake of convenience. The line of Railway should run almost due east, keeping a few miles south of Manikgunge, till it meets the River Dullessery at a place called Sabhar.

13. The Dullessery opposite Sabhar is a little larger than the Gorai near Kooshtea, but I believe not more difficult and not much more expensive to bridge.

14. From Sabhar the line of Railway should run with a slight curve to Dacca, following, as much as possible, the line of the old scheme as marked in the map. It is thus brought along the high red-clay ridge which runs from Sabhar to Dacca. The continuation of the line from Dacca to Narraingunge has no difficulty.

15. But it may be that Sabhar will become a place of great importance, for it is from this point that a line of Railway leading to Assam should diverge towards the north. It would be able to follow the high red-clay ridge as far as Jamalpore, in Mymensing, and at Jamalpore the bed of the old Berhampooter, which was once several miles wide, has now only a small channel and about six inches of water in the dry season. From Jamalpore the line would run under the west point of the Garrow Hills, and so up to Gowalparah and Gowhatty. But I merely refer to this Assam line "en passant," as the interest of that great Province is not the subject of my particular care.

16. Having brought the Railway as far as Dacca I am not content, nor will it be possible to stop there. But with regard to the extension beyond Dacca, it is necessary to write with much reserve at present, as the country has not been examined and the nature of some of it is very peculiar.

17. Taking generally a northerly direction from Dacca towards Sylhet, there would be no difficulty in leading a line across the River Luckea towards a place called Bhyrub Bazar, which is at the point where the old Berhampooter, after flowing through Mymensing, unites itself with the Megna.

18. From this point and towards Sylhet the country is very peculiar. It is one huge watery tract, covered with high grass and reeds, the villages here and there being perched on raised mounds looking like beaver's dams. There are certain rivers running through this watery tract which now afford a passage for steamers and for boats if the latter do not like to go straight across country. When the innundation subsides, the country becomes sufficiently dry to allow an embankment to be thrown up, and the artificial mounds on which the villages are built shew that the soil thus thrown up can be made to resist the action of the water.

19. Therefore I am inclined to think, or rather to hope, that a large embankment might be thrown up across the most favorable part of this low country in a line from Bhyrub Bazar to Sylhet, which, when once constructed, would be able to resist the action of the water; and from the exceedingly tortuous courses of the rivers now existing, and from the very large expanse of country over which the waters are spread and spilt, I am inclined to think that there is not any violent current or stream action to be feared.

20. When Sylhet is reached, the Railway Company will find an Imperial Line of road thence to Cachar about 60 miles in length, which is now in the course of formation, and which has been laid out with the view of its being converted into a Railway if necessary, so that the Engineering difficulties of this last section of the line are known already.

21. It may be asked what necessity there is for a Railway to Sylhet and Cachar. I should reply by referring to the immense amount of capital which is being laid out in Tea plantations in Sylhet and Cachar. I should also point to the inexpressibly slow and bad navigation of the rivers to Sylhet and Cachar, which are dreadfully tortuous, and during the cold and early dry months are not navigable for steamers. Under the most favorable circumstances a steamer takes seven days from Dacca to Cachar, and about four from Cachar to Dacca. Finally, there are the lime and coal mines of the range of hills north of Sylhet, and whilst the lime of Sylhet is already well known, the coal, though it is the best steam coal in India, and exists in great quantities, has hitherto been kept out of the market by the cost of carriage.

22. The resume of my proposals is as follows as regards length:—

	Miles.
Kooshtea to Goalundo	40
Teonta Hât to Dacca	40
Branch to Narraingunge	8
Dacca to Sylhet	70
Sylhet to Cachar	70
Total Miles	228

23. So that after all the length in miles is not great, whilst it opens up some of the richest Districts in Bengal, and at the same time leads on partly towards Assam, as I have noticed incidentally.

24. I might add that from Sylhet the Sanitarium of Cherra Poonjee is easily accessible, and though the old Stations of Cherra is complained of as too wet, the admirers of the new Station at Yeddo declare that Yeddo is perfect. So that by a continuation of 150 miles from Kooshtea, Calcutta would be brought within thirty-six hours' reach of a Sanitarium.

No. 1261, dated 24th February 1865.

Endorsed by Govt. of Bengal.

Forwarded to the Government of Bengal, Public Works Department, Railway Branch, for disposal.

From F. Prestage, Esq., Agent, Eastern Bengal Railway Company, to the Consulting Engineer to the Government of Bengal, Railway Department,—(No. 801, dated the 20th April 1865.)

I have the honor to acknowledge receipt of letter No. 386G., from the Joint Secretary to the Government of Bengal, forwarding copy of a Memorandum by the Commissioner of Dacca on further Railway extensions to the East, and requesting me to forward an expresssion of my opinion on the suggestions offered by Mr. C. T. Buckland for the useful and profitable development of the Eastern Bengal Railway.

I quite concur in all Mr. Buckland says in favor of Goalundo as a terminus, and as a favorable point for crossing the Ganges and the Bermahpooter with one Ferry, and I have already fully given my opinion on this subject in my No. 921, dated 18th July last; and I am decidedly of opinion it would be to the benefit of the State and to the interest of the Shareholders of this Railway that an extension should be made from Kooshtea to that point as soon as possible.

With regard to the further extension to Dacca, Narraingunge, Assam, Sylhet, and Cachar, I am still of opinion that when the time arrives for making such extensions they cannot start from a more favorable point than opposite Goalundo; but I have already stated that I am of opinion the whole of the trade from those Marts and Districts can, for some time to come, best be accommodated, and worked most remuneratively, by a well organized Steam Flotilla plying regularly to and from Goalundo, and I am still of this opinion, for the Districts are intersected with rivers giving fair water communication, and which are at present the channels and outlets of the traffic, added to which a properly constructed Railway could not be made through such a District and equipped with Rolling Stock under from £12 to 15,000 a mile, whilst a most efficient Steam Flotilla, with every convenience of a Railway, excepting greater speed, will only cost about £1,000 per mile.

I am of opinion that it would not be worth while making a short independent line from Teota to Dacca and Narraingunge until it is determined to carry on a further extension either to Assam or Sylhet, and no decision should be come to as to which of these two places it would be most advisable first to extend to until it is ascertained which of them will yield the best supply of steam coal, both as regards quality and quantity. I purpose obtaining all the information I can on this important subject, at the same time I shall be glad to be placed in possession of any information at the disposal of Government.

I am still of opinion that to benefit the State, and to add to the traffic on our present main line, the most important extension to make is that towards Darjeeling; that the Districts of Dinagepore and the north-west of Rungpore, which produce enormous quantities of valuable produce and have no good water communication, may obtain a vent for their produce, and that the timber and other valuable products in the Dooars and on the Himalayas may also be brought to this Port; also that a Sanatarium, which is said to be particularly suited to the European constitution, may be reached in twelve or ten hours from Calcutta.

Considering the steady influx of Europeans to this country, and the great cost of moving the Seat of Government from Calcutta to the Western Himalayas every hot season, besides its being the cause of throwing the Government Machinery out of gear, I think, for this reason alone, the Government should urge on the construction of such a line; and, judging from the manner in which the Natives avail themselves of the Railways both for travelling and for forwarding goods, I feel confident that, if such a line is made with only such works as are necessary for working the traffic directly it is in fair working order, it would not in any way be an encumbrance on the Imperial Revenue, for the net Revenue would be sufficient to yield a return of 5 per cent. on the outlay, and I believe the earnings would steadily increase until it got much above that sum.

From Major J. St. J. Hovenden, R. E., Assistant Secretary to the Government of Bengal, Public Works Department, Railway Branch, to the Secretary to the Government of India, Public Works Department,—(No. 596G., dated the 3rd May 1865.)

In continuation, and in support of the letters noted in the margin from this Office submitting to the Government of India projects for extensions of the Eastern Bengal Railway to Goalundo on the Pudda and to the Valley of the Teesta, I am directed to forward a Memorandum, dated 17th February 1865, from the Commissioner of Dacca, and a letter, No. 801, dated 20th April, from the Agent, Eastern Bengal Railway.

No. 1319G., dated 23rd September 1864.
No. 1046G., dated 5th August 1864.
No. 519G., dated 15th March 1865.

The extensions already recommended are, in the Lieutenant-Governor's opinion, both works which are not only of urgent and immediate importance, but which also hold out every promise of an early profitable return.

With regard to the question of the further extension beyond Goalundo, His Honor is disposed so far to agree with the Agent Eastern Bengal Railway, as to think that the question may with advantage be postponed for the present, but he considers that the subject should not be lost sight of.

Railway communication with the Valley of Assam, where there is every prospect of obtaining an abundant supply of steam coal, is in every point of view—Military, Political Administrative, and Commercial—an object of equal importance to the Government, to the inhabitants of the Province, and to all those concerned in its prosperity.

The Lieutenant-Governor, therefore, thinks that this work should be undertaken as soon as capital is forthcoming and Government is in a position to pay the guarantee without which such undertaking cannot be commenced.

Accommodation which must be provided by the Calcutta and South-Eastern Railway Company to meet the requirements of Port Canning and Company.

From Messrs. Borradaile, Schiller and Company, to Captain F. S. Taylor, R. E., Consulting Engineer to Government of Bengal, Public Works Department,—(dated the 26th April 1865.)

As Port Canning has now become a resort for shipping it is desirable that all questions affecting the satisfactory working of the Calcutta and South-Eastern Railway should be discussed by those most interested, and we therefore beg to propose that an early meeting be arranged by your good self, at which Mr. Pendleton, the Agent of the Railway, as well as Members of the Municipal body and of the Port Canning Company be invited to attend.

Any afternoon this week would suit us.

From Major J. St. J. Hovenden, R. E., Deputy Consulting Engineer to Government of Bengal, to Messrs. Borradaile, Schiller and Company,—(No. 566, dated the 26th April 1865.)

I have the honor to acknowledge your letter dated 26th April, and in reply to state that I shall be most happy to meet you as you propose.

It must be distinctly understood that such meetings will be simply considered as a convenient mode of making known the views of gentlemen interested in Port Canning to the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal, and that no change in the working of the Railway will be sanctioned without a reference to him.

I regret that I shall be engaged on Thursday and Saturday, but I will be at your service on Friday or any day next week.

Note by Major J. St. J. Hovenden, R. E., Deputy Consulting Engineer to Government of Bengal, regarding the requirements of the Port Canning Company,—(No. 593, dated the 3rd May 1865.)

Calcutta and South-Eastern Railway.

I submit for His Honor's perusal the correspondence which has passed between Mr. Schiller and myself on this subject. I was aware that there was a feeling in Calcutta that the line at present is not in a state to meet the present requirements of Port Canning, and much less the probable ones, and I thought that by attending the Meeting proposed by Mr. Schiller I should obtain specific information as to what the public wanted.

The Meeting took place yesterday in Mr. Schiller's Office, and was attended by the following gentlemen :—

Mr. Schiller.
„ Pendleton.
„ Lamouroux.
„ R. B. Mackay.
Baboo Ramgopaul Ghose.
Lieutenant C. H. Luard, R. E., and myself.

The requirements of the public were stated by Mr. Schiller, and are as follows :—

1. The rolling stock was stated to be deficient in quality and insufficient in quantity. Mr. Schiller was informed that an indent for the construction of 150 covered goods wagons and the conversion of thirty low-sided wagons into covered goods had been sent up to the Government of India for sanction. He was also told that the repairs to the wagons, which he complained of as not being water-tight, had been sanctioned and were now in hand.

I am glad to see these steps taken towards putting the rolling stock of the Calcutta and South-Eastern into more efficient working order; but would observe that these repairs should have been undertaken much earlier, as it was well known that damages have been caused last year, and from reasons of economy these wagons had never been kept in proper points.

(Sd.) F. Schiller.

I have since telegraphed to Simla to ask Colonel Dickens to send down sanction for the new wagons by telegraph.

I cannot agree that the alteration should have been effected earlier. Mr. Schiller is quite in error in saying that damage had been caused in previous years.

(Sd.) A. G. Pendleton.

There seemed to be an impression that, even with the proposed addition, the rolling stock would not be sufficient to meet the wants of Canning. I put up Captain Taylor's Note on the capabilities of the rolling stock, and I am inclined to think that no further addition is necessary at present.

There may be no immediate necessity for further increase, but when it is borne in mind that the correspondence on these subjects often takes a year, I can foresee the time when the Railway will again be in a fix.

Sd. F. Schiller.

2. The next point raised was the insufficiency of the goods accommodation at Canning and Calcutta, and more especially at the latter place.

At Canning there is a new permanent goods shed just built, which will accommodate 25 wagons. At Calcutta the accommodation is no doubt excessively defective, and this is felt now as there are six ships in the Mutlah.

This goods accommodation is not sufficient to do the traffic of three ships, and larger sheds of shelter should be provided at both ends. If the Calcutta Bazar could be secured this arrangement would be better than building temporary shelter.

(Sd.) F. Schiller.

The permanent goods shed is in hand, but it will not be finished before the end of the year, and the representatives of the mercantile community stated absolutely that they wanted greatly increased accommodation at once, as the inconvenience now felt with only six ships is so great as to deter shippers from making use of the Port a second time. I should think it would be worth while to sanction temporary sheds, if the Agent of the Company concurs in the view above stated. A still better plan would probably be to rent the Sealdah Market for the rest of the year and to convert into a goods shed by running temporary lines into it. The building is absolutely useless now and Colonel Nicoll sees no objection to its being taken advantage of in this way.

The present covered accommodation at Canning is for (say) 25 wagons and about 8,000 to 10,000 bags.

I do not think this sufficient for the Port.

The new shed at Calcutta will, I fancy, be ample for present requirements. Its construction has been pressed upon Government by me for nearly 3 years, but it was only sanctioned in March last, and will not be finished before December next.

Meantime I deprecate spending much money on temporary structures, but I think the idea of using the Bazar a good one.

(Sd.) A. G. Pendleton.

3. Mr. Schiller stated that it would be a great advantage to the Port Canning Company if the plans for the permanent Station and Railway buildings at Canning were made out and finally approved by Government, as the Company were going to lay down many tramways, some of which will join the line and others cross it, and these could not well be commenced until the plan of the permanent Station was finally fixed. Mr. Pendleton said that he was going to make arrangements with Mr. Prestage for making the design which would then be submitted to Government for approval.

It is absolutely necessary that a definite station plan for Canning should be fixed upon, as the Canning Company are now laying out a comprehensive system of tramways, and this can only be done in conjunction with the Railway. Three lines of tramways are to run parallel to the strand with branches to the Docks and southern portion of the Town, in all about fifteen miles. Ten screw-pile jetties have been ordered through Morrillier and Edwards.

(Sd.) F. Schiller.

Mr. Prestage has already kindly undertaken to draw up a ground plan.

(Sd.) A. G. Pendleton.

4. A complaint was then made that there was no Officer of the Railway stationed at Canning with sufficient powers to settle all trifling disagreements between any of the departments of the Railway and the public without a reference to Calcutta.

So small a line as the Calcutta and South-Eastern, which requires little or no Office management, can only pay if the out-door management is energetic, and the Board at home have made a grave mistake in having an Agent and an Engineer. One good Engineer with supreme powers, and a good Deputy might have managed the line to satisfaction.

(Sd.) F. Schiller.

It was stated that a great deal of friction takes place at Canning from there being no recognized head who can take the responsibility of giving an order to the subordinates of all the departments. I think this is a fair and reasonable complaint, and I would strongly recommend that the entertainment of such a man be sanctioned if it is proposed by the Agent.

Upon Mr. Schiller's remark here I will make no comment. The only instance of "friction" adduced was a most trivial one, and I see no necessity to have at Canning any one in a higher position than that of Station Master, but he should be well paid and be an energetic man.

(Sd.) A. G. Pendleton.

5. It was also stated that great inconvenience is felt when a ship comes in owing to the difficulty of getting sufficient coolies to unload her. This is no doubt quite true, and the fact is notorious that coolies will not live at Canning if they can possibly get away from it. The inconvenience is unquestionable, the doubtful point is by whom it is to be remedied.

Mr. Schiller thinks that the Railway Company ought to keep up a gang of say 50 men, who should be monthly servants and be well housed and made comfortable, so as to induce them to remain at the place. He admits that it would be expensive and that there would not be constant employment for the men, but he contends that it would give the port a good name if Ship Masters always found a gang of coolies ready to unload their ships on arrival, and therefore he holds that this facility should certainly be given.

It is not so much the unloading of the ships which has hitherto given trouble, for most of them arrived in ballast or with salt, but the delay arises in not unloading the Railway wagons quickly on arrival. The work is done at present by contracts; but the Contractor, with the view of making as much money as possible, keeps a minimum number of coolies and often withholds regular payments. Were the Railway to keep coolies of their own, their spare time might be usefully employed in making up the Station ground, which will have to be done now and soon.

(Sd.) F. Schiller

The difficulty is that of keeping coolies at Canning. I have sent hundreds of men there who decline to live in the place more than a couple of days.

I cannot admit any other cause of delay in discharging wagons.

I am, however, prepared to try the experiment of keeping a staff of coolies in regular pay, but it will be an expensive one, especially if those interested do not put their shoulders to the wheel more energetically.

(Sd.) A. G. Pendleton.

I entirely agree with Mr. Schiller in thinking that all possible facilities should be given to Ship Masters, but I am not so satisfied that coolies should be supplied by the Railway Company. For the last year or two the Railway has been kept going entirely at the expense of Government, there was no one at Canning to do any thing, and in the hope of being able

The Railway was built for the sole object of connecting an auxiliary Port with Calcutta. The reason why the Railway did not pay was that the auxiliary Port was never made. To create traffic on such a line the Railway, it is clear, had to give facilities by which trade would be attracted; one of those facilities was that they have to put the cargo across the jetties upon the vessels loading, the stowing being done by the ship. Until Canning is a more civilized place than at present it is premature to withdraw from this responsibility. The Canning Company could only step forward were the management of the whole Railway made over to them, and if Government is disposed to do that the Canning Company would be prepared to work the line on commission.

(Sd.) F. Schiller.

At present I fear the Railway must continue to load and unload vessels carrying goods as now at through shipping rates, but in principle I object to this arrangement.

I think the proper position of the Railway Company would be that of public carriers from Sealdah to Canning Station only.

(Sd.) A. G. PENDLETON.

to nurse up a little trade the Agent was authorized to undertake the loading and unloading of the few ships which came into the river; but now that the Port Canning Company has been formed and that more ships are arriving, I do not see that the whole burden of loading and unloading ships should be laid on the Railway Company. Mr. Schiller points out that up to this time there has been great hesitation in providing conveniences for ships because no ships came to the Mutlah; while, on the other hand, merchants did not like to send ships because there were no conveniences, so that while both parties were coquetting with each other the interests of the Port suffered. This is quite true, but until the Port Canning Company was started there appeared so little prospect of the Port paying within a reasonable time that Government would not, I think, have been justified in expending more guaranteed capital for giving facilities to shippers than they have already done.

The argument brought forward, that if the Government is not prepared to give these facilities it may as well have the rails taken up and Port down on some other line is hardly a fair one, as I can scarcely think that the prospects of the Port depend on the fact of a gang of 50 coolies being paid by Government or by the Canning Company.

Government, no doubt, is quite as deeply interested in the fate of Port Canning as the new Company, and I think that the two should be prepared to work in harmony and to give each other every assistance; but I think that before sanctioning any more expenditure the Government has a right to ask the Company to state specifically what they are prepared to do and to give a programme of works to be undertaken during the next year. At pfesent, so far as I know, all that has been done has been to order ten screw-pile jetties from home and to commence the excavation of a large dock for country boats. I do not see that the latter will be any advantage to the Railway as it will be used by country boats bringing rice from the East, the cargoes of which will be transferred to the ships without going on to the line at all.

The Canning Company is no doubt interested deeply in the success of the new Port, but the "Canning Company" will give a fair return without considering the future of Port Canning as a Port. The best guarantee which Government can have with reference to the co-operation of the Canning Company is that something like £1,60,000 are ready to be spent upon works in connection with the Port, and that although not all these works will bring directly "grist to the Railway Mill," yet collusively they will all benefit the Railway traffic. Considering that the Canning Company have relieved Government of a grave difficulty which they were not prepared to deal with, I think that Government are bound now to show hearty co-operation and adopt the most liberal policy with reference to the Railway.

(Sd.) F. SCHILLER.

In this I entirely concur.

(Sd.) A. G. PENDLETON.

I think it would be the true policy of Government to deal very liberally in this matter as the paying of the Railway depends entirely on the prosperity of Canning and the present inconveniences are very strongly felt by merchants.

Mr. Schiller tells me that he has advised his friends at home not to send any more ships to the Mutlah for the present. Mr. Lamouroux and Baboo Ramgopaul Ghose say the same, while the former of these gentlemen said that he could bring forty, and the latter a hundred ships to the Mutlah every year if they got proper facilities. Whether these numbers are to be looked on as an actual guarantee, or merely as a hopeful estimate, I cannot say.

I do not see that the Company need object to give the Government information as to their proceedings, as this would be considered confidential if necessary. The last point insisted on is the necessity for at once doubling the line. On this point I am not prepared to agree with Mr. Schiller. If the rolling stock is increased there is no reason why at least twelve goods trains should not be run daily each way. Now, taking the capacity of a wagon at only 4 tons, we got a carrying power of 1,680 tons per diem from 12 good's trains of 35 wagons each. This, I think, will probably suffice for some time to come, at the same time I think it would be well, if Mr. Schiller can give any solid ground for expecting a very great occasion of traffic within the next two years to consider the subject of a further addition to the rolling stock.

I have tried to state Mr. Schiller's views and my own as fairly as I could, and to make sure of this point I am going to shew this paper both to Mr. Schiller and Mr. Pendleton after explaining to them that the Note simply expresses my own views and in no way those of His Honor.

I have not exactly prevented ships from going to the Mutlah, but I have felt compelled, seeing the deficiencies of the Railway, to withhold all encouragement. Both Mr. Lamouroux and Baboo Ram Gopaul Ghose have sufficient command over ships to influence very large numbers, and my own firm could easily get 40 to 50,000 ton of shipping to go to Port Canning. I have no hesitation in stating that as soon as it is known that facilities on a large scale are provided at Canning, we shall have an influx of tonnage such as for people now anticipate.

(Sd.) F. SCHILLER.

I hope ships will not be prevented coming, or there will be little encouragement for the Company to propose, or the Government to sanction, additional expenditure on works.

(Sd.) A. G. PENDLETON.

I am very strong in favor of immediate steps being taken for doubling the line, as it will take more than a year before this could be carried out, and as the money market at home offers at present great facilities, the Calcutta and South-Eastern Railway must be prepared for a traffic of half a million tons, and my belief is that even half this traffic, could not be worked satisfactorily by a single line.

I can only repeat that the traffic will come as fast as facilities can be created.

(Sd.) F. SCHILLER.

I concur in the last observation of Mr. Schiller. I believe the traffic will flow as fast as facilities are given, and that it would be wise policy now to make financial arrangements for the doubling of the line.

(Sd.) A. G. PENDLETON.

N. B.—With a single line, however, and more numerous passing sidings, I could work double our present rolling stock or very nearly so.

(Sd.) A. G. PENDLETON.

Note by CAPTAIN F. S. TAYLOR, R. E., Consulting Engineer to Government of Bengal, Railway Department, on the subject of the Rolling Stock of the Calcutta and South-Eastern Railway,—(No. 390.)

I SUBMIT the Agent's letter No. 30, dated 20th March 1865, and enclosures, soliciting sanction for converting 30 open-sided wagons into covered goods wagons at a cost of Rupees 850 each, and for the construction of 100 additional covered goods wagons at a cost of Rupees 2,200 each.

2. The grounds of the application are stated to be the prospects of traffic offered by the Port Canning Land Investment, Reclamation, and Dock Company, to meet which the present stock is considered to be inadequate.

3. The Agent does not propose any immediate increase to the passenger vehicles, as he thinks that the existing stock can be run to and fro sufficiently often to meet any probable accession of passenger traffic, but he wishes to supplement the goods stock without loss of time, on the ground that goods wagons having to remain many hours under load or discharge are incapable of use beyond a narrow limit.

4. The available goods stock, including the 14 wagons lately sanctioned, consists of—

50 open-sided ditto.

5. The Agent estimates the carrying capacity of the existing stock at from 250 to 275 tons each way per diem.

6. This I consider a liberal estimate of its capacity for, assuming that a train of 35 wagons can be loaded and dispatched to Canning by 10 A. M., it would reach its destination and be unloaded just in time to be re-loaded before dark for return at night. That is, a wagon could make one trip to Canning and back per diem under the most favorable circumstances.

Deducting 10 per cent. for repairs, 15 per cent for empties at intermediate Stations, and 25 per cent. for spare, the numbers of goods wagons available for daily running will be only 75, which, at 4 tons per wagon, would be equal to a daily traffic of not more than 300 tons when the additional 14 wagons lately sanctioned have been put on the line.

7. Premising that the working expenses will be 50 per cent. of receipts, the line must earn in round numbers Rupees 5,00,00 to pay a dividend of 5 per cent.; of this amount coaching, if the present traffic is quadrupled, will yield Rupees 1,20,000, and the remaining Rupees 3,80,000 will have to be furnished by goods, which must increase eight fold to yield this sum.

8. Taking the carrying capacity of a wagon at 4 tons, and asuming that down trains will on average carry only half loads, and up trains full loads, then to earn Rupees 3,80,00, 793 tons at first class rates will have to be conveyed daily up and down the Railway, that is, 132 wagons will have to run down to Canning and return daily.

9. If 35 wagons be taken to be the average constitution of a train, four goods trains will have to be run daily each way in addition to passenger trains.

10. The rolling stock that will be required to be constantly running to carry the above goods traffic must, as previously shewn, be doubled in practice to allow for vehicles under repairs and for delays in loading and unloading. I infer that 264 goods wagons of sorts will be insufficient to adequately stock the line.

11. With the addition now recommended by the Agent the number of goods wagons of sorts will only be raised to 250.

12. In regard to the passenger traffic, it has been assumed that at least Rupees 1,20,000 must be earned to pay the guarantee.

13. About 50 carriages must be run daily the entire distance to earn this amount, or about 2 trains each way. But 3 trains would be nearer the mark, as passenger traffic must always be fluctuating; and as the present carrying stock of the Company numbers only 29, it is sufficiently apparent that an increase must eventually be made.

14. These calculations presume a uniform daily traffic throughout the year; but although it is impossible to predict how fast the traffic will flow in, it is certain to be very fluctuating and must come upon the line in sudden rushes far beyond the daily averages.

On the whole, therefore, the Agent's present recommendations may be safely accepted, and the Board of Directors empowered to send out to this country iron work complete for 100 goods wagons of the latest improved pattern.

The conversion of the open wagons may also be sanctioned at once; but I am decidedly of opinion that the subject is of paramount importance, and the Agent should be called on for a more comprehensive scheme to include both passenger and locomotive stock.

From MAJOR J. ST. J. HOVENDEN, R. E., Assistant Secretary to the Government of Bengal, Public Works Department, Railway Branch, to the Agent, Calcutta and South-Eastern Railway Company,—(No. 696G., dated the 18th May 1865.)

I AM directed to inform you that the joint Memorandum prepared by yourself, Mr. Schiller, and the Deputy Consulting Engineer has been laid before the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal.

2. This Memorandum embodies the proceedings of a Meeting held at the Office of the Port Canning Dock and Land Reclamation Company to consider what arrangements must be made by the Calcutta and South-Eastern Railway Company to meet the expected increase of trade at Canning.

3. The points insisted on by the representatives of the mercantile community are—

(1.) That the rolling stock should at once be largely increased.

(2.) That a general design for the Port Canning Railway Station should be drawn and finally approved to enable the Reclamation Company at once to lay out their system of tramways some of which will join the Railway and some pass below it. This of course cannot be done until the general plan of the Railway Station is complete.

(3.) That a Deputy Manager or some Officer of the Company of high standing should be stationed at Canning.

(4.) That the goods accommodation both at Canning and Sealdah should be greatly increased.

(5.) That the Railway Company should keep up a staff of coolies at Canning to load and unload ships.

(6.) That the line should be doubled.

4. It is clearly the duty of the Railway Company to provide for the conveyance of all trade that may reasonably be expected to resort to its line from Port Canning; but before sanctioning any addition to the rolling stock beyond that asked for in your letter No. 30 of 20th March 1865, the Lieutenant-Governor must be informed what grounds there are for believing that the resort for shipping to the Port during the next season will be such as to require a larger number of wagons on the line than there will be when the stock now sanctioned is complete. It appears to His Honor that you should ascertain from the mercantile firms interested in Port Canning what probability there is that the traffic will so rapidly expand, and that you should distinctly place on record your opinion of what the Railway is likely to require in the way of rolling stock. The Lieutenant-Governor will be prepared to give favorable consideration to your report.

5. His Honor is glad that arrangements have been made for commencing the general design for the Canning Station, and he requests that this may be submitted as early as possible.

6. With regard to the third point, it appears to the Lieutenant-Governor that a Station Master should certainly suffice at Canning, but he should be a capable man and the salary should be sufficient to secure the services of such an Officer. As regards the goods accommodation, I am to request that you will, at your early convenience, report specifically what extra goods accommodation you require at Canning, and how you propose to provide it. I am also to state that, if you think the use of the Sealdah Market necessary to enable you to carry on your traffic during this rainy season, you should at once make a report to that effect.

7. The Lieutenant-Governor has no objection to sanction the entertainment of a gang of coolies for loading and unloading ships if you are satisfied that it is to the interest of your Company to do so. There does not appear any objection to the Railway Company helping to load and unload ships for the present, but it must be remembered that this is not legitimate Railway business, and that it should be given up as soon as possible. It would appear to be the interest of the Canning Municipality and of the Docking Company to encourage coolies to remain and settle at Canning, in which case it would no longer be necessary to employ Railway coolies.

8. With respect to doubling the line, the Lieutenant-Governor does not consider that the necessity for this measure has as yet been made out. Sanction to build any thing like the maximum number of wagons, which can be efficiently used on a single line, has not yet been applied for, and until this limit has been approached, His Honor does not see any reason for opening the wider question of doubling the line.

Government of Bengal.

LEGISLATIVE DEPARTMENT.

THE following Act of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal in Council received the assent of His Honor on the 10th May 1865, and having been assented to by His Excellency the Governor General on the 27th May 1865, is hereby promulgated for general information :—

ACT No. VIII OF 1865.

An Act to amend the Law for the sale of such Under-tenures as by the Title Deeds or established usage of the country are transferable by sale or otherwise for the recovery of arrears of rent due in respect thereof.

Preamble.

WHEREAS doubts have arisen, in consequence of the repeal of Section XVI of Regulation VII of 1832, as to the authority by whom Putnee Talooks and other saleable Under-tenures of the nature defined in Clause 1 of Section VIII of Regulation VIII of 1819 are to be sold for arrears of rent due to the proprietor on account thereof; and whereas it is expedient to amend the Law for the sale of Under-tenures in satisfaction of decrees for the recovery of such arrears ; It is enacted as follows: —

Meaning of the word "Collector."

I. The word "Collector" as used in this Act includes all Officers exercising the full powers of a Collector of a District.

Words used in the singular number include the plural.

Laws repealed.

II. Section XVI of Regulation VIII of 1819 of the Bengal Code, Act VIII of 1835, and Section X of Act VI of 1853, are repealed, except in so far as any other Regulation or Law is repealed thereby.

Sale by whom to be conducted.

III. The sale for the recovery of arrears of rent of Putnee Talooks and other saleable Under-tenures of the nature defined in Clause 1 of Section VIII of Regulation VIII of 1819 shall be conducted by the Collector of Land Revenue in whose jurisdiction, as defined by Act VI of 1853, the lands lie, and all acts preparatory to, or connected with, the sale of such Under-tenures as aforesaid, which, by Regulations VIII of 1819 and I of 1820, the Judge is required to perform, shall be performed by the said Collector.

Notice of Sale where to be hung up.

IV. Whenever a decree for an arrear of rent due in respect of an Under-tenure saleable under Section CV of Act X of 1859 shall have been obtained, and an application for the sale of the said Under-tenure under the same Section shall have been made and allowed, the Collector, in whose Court the decree is in course of execution, shall thereupon cause to be hung up in his own Court, and in that of the Collector and the Judge of the District within which the land comprised in the Under-tenure to be sold is situated, and to be affixed on some conspicuous place on the land and in the town or village in or nearest to which the said land is situated, a notice for the sale of the said Under-tenure on some fixed date not less than twenty days from the hanging up of the said notice in the Court in which the decree is in course of execution.

Notice of Sale what to contain.

V. The said notice shall specify, in the words used in the plaint in the suit in which the decree was made, the name of the village, estate, and pergunnah or other local division in which the land comprised in the said Under-tenure is situated, the yearly rent payable under the said Under-tenure, and the gross amount recoverable under the said decree.

How the sale may be stopped.

VI. If the sum due under the decree, together with interest to date of payment and all costs of process, be paid into Court at any time before the sale commences, whether by the defaulting holder of the Under-tenure, or any one on his behalf, or any one interested in the protection of the Under-tenure, such sale shall not take place; and the provisions of Section XIII of Regulation VIII of 1819, for the recovery of sums paid by other than the defaulting holder of the Under-tenure to stay the sale of the Under-tenure, shall be applicable to all similar payments made under this Section.

Sale to be to the highest bidder.

VII. The Under-tenure shall be sold to the highest bidder in open Court.

Purchaser to deposit 25 per cent.

VIII. The party who shall be declared to be the purchaser shall be required to deposit immediately, in cash or Government Currency Notes, twenty-five per cent. of the amount of his bid; and, in default of such deposit, the Under-tenure shall be put up again and sold forthwith, or on the next ensuing office day.

Deposit to be forfeited if balance of purchase money be not paid up in time.

IX. The full amount of the purchase money shall be made good by the purchaser before sunset of the eighth day from that on which the sale of the Under-tenure took place, reckoning that day as one of the eight; or, if the eighth day be a Sunday or other close holiday, then on the first office day after the eighth day: and, in default of payment within the prescribed period as aforesaid, the deposit shall be forfeited to the Government and the Under-tenure shall be re-sold, and the defaulting purchaser shall forfeit all claims thereto or to any part of the sum for which the said Under-tenure may be subsequently sold. If the proceeds of the sale, which may be eventually completed, be less than the price bid by the defaulting purchaser, the difference shall be leviable from him under the law for enforcing the payment of money in satisfaction of a decree for arrears of rent.

Provisions as to sales to apply to all re-sales

X. The provisions of all the Sections of this Act with regard to sales shall also be applicable to all re-sales under this Act which may be rendered necessary by the default of any purchaser.

Certificate and possession to be given to purchaser on payment by him in full.

XI. When the purchase money shall have been paid in full, the Officer holding the sale shall give the purchaser a Certificate in the form prescribed in the Schedule annexed to this Act, and shall further, on the purchaser making application and depositing the requisite costs, depute an Officer or Ameen to put him in possession of the Under-tenure in the customary manner, and to publish the fact of the purchase to the cultivators of the lands comprised therein.

Proceeds of sale how to be dealt with.

XII. From the proceeds of the sale of the Under-tenure, the Officer holding such sale shall re-pay to the judgment-creditor the necessary expenses incurred by him in procuring it; and, after satisfying the decree in execution of which the sale was made, shall hold the residue, if any, in deposit on account of the defaulting holder of the Under-tenure.

Appeal.

XIII. An appeal shall lie to the Collector from any proceedings of a Deputy or Assistant Collector if made within fifteen days; and to the Commissioner from any original proceedings of a Collector, under this Act, if made within thirty days from the date of the sale: but no proceedings under this Act shall be reversed or modified in appeal, except upon the ground of irrelevancy of the law, or of such an irregularity in procedure as, in the opinion of the Appellate authority, has caused injury to the interests of one of the parties to the suit in which the decree was passed.

Power of Revision.

XIV. No appeal as of right shall lie from any order passed in appeal under this Act; but the Commissioner, in any case in which an appeal has been heard by a Collector, and the Board of Revenue in any case in which an appeal has been heard by the Commissioner, may call for the record at any time within three months from the date of the order passed in appeal, and pass thereon such orders as they may think proper.

Purchaser to recover purchase money in such manner as Appellate or revising authority may direct, if sale be set aside.

XV. If any sale of an Under-tenure shall, under either of the two preceding Sections, be set aside, the purchaser shall be entitled to receive back the purchase money, with or without interest, and in such manner as the Appellate or revising authority may in each instance direct. Any order for the recovery of the purchase money or interest, passed by such Appellate or revising authority as aforesaid, may be enforced by the process in force under decrees for the recovery of arrears of rent.

Purchaser to acquire the Under-tenure, with certain exceptions, free of incumbrances.

XVI. The purchaser of an Under-tenure sold under this Act shall acquire it free of all incumbrances which may have accrued thereon by any act of any holder of the said Under-tenure, his representatives, or assignees, unless the right of making such incumbrances shall have been expressly vested in the holder by the written engagements under which the Under-tenure was created, or by the subsequent written authority of the person who created it, his representatives, or assignees. Provided that nothing herein contained shall be held to entitle the purchaser to eject Khoodkasht ryots or resident and hereditary cultivators, nor to cancel bonâ-fide engagements made with such class of ryots or cultivators aforesaid by the late incumbent of the Under-tenure or his representatives, except it be proved, in a regular suit to be brought by such purchaser for the adjustment of his rent, that a higher rent would have been demandable at the time such engagements were contracted by his predecessor. Nothing in this Section shall be held to apply to the purchase of a tenure by the previous holder thereof through whose default the tenure was brought to sale.

Zemindar how to proceed if purchaser do not register.

XVII. The purchaser of an Under-tenure sold under this Act shall apply to the Zemindar or other landholder, within fifteen days from the day of sale, to have his name registered in the Zemindar or other landholder's books as the purchaser, and shall execute a kubooleut on the same terms and conditions on which the Under-tenure was held by the defaulter; and, if such application be not made within fifteen days, it shall be lawful for the Zemindar or other landholder to sue the said purchaser under the provisions of Clause 1 of Section XXIII of Act X of 1859.

Indemnity.

XVIII. The provisions of Section III shall be applicable to all sales held under Regulation VIII of 1819 previously to the passing of this Act; and no suit shall lie in respect of such sales on the plea of want of jurisdiction of the Officer be whom they were conducted.

Schedule referred to in Section XI.

I certify that A. B. has purchased, under Act VIII of 1865, the Under-tenure (as specified in the Notice of sale), and that his purchase took effect on the day of (being the day after that fixed for the last day of payment.)

No. 178.

The 4th May 1865.

The following Draft of Rules having reference to the Canals from Ooloobaria to Midnapore and from the Roopnarian River to Balasore, called respectively the MIDNAPORE CANAL and the BALASORE CANAL, is published for information under the provisions of Section XI. of "the CANALS' ACT, 1864,"—(No. V., B. L. C.)

I. EVERY Vessel on entering either of the above Canals shall be liable to measurement for the purpose of ascertaining the amount of toll the Vessel should pay according to the Schedule of rates authorized by Government to be charged on the Canal.

II. The tonnage of every Vessel, whether laden or empty, shall, for the purposes of the "Canals' Act, 1864," and of these Rules, be determined by the following measurements:—

a. The product of half the length of the Vessel from stem to stern measured along the water line, multiplied by the interior greatest breadth of the Vessel, multiplied by the depth from the water line to the bottom of the Vessel, is to be taken as the number of maunds upon which toll shall be levied.

5. The measurement of the length is to be made in feet rejecting inches, and the measurment of the breadth and depth in feet and quarters of feet rejecting portions of less than a quarter of a foot.

6. In calculating the amount of toll to be levied any fraction of 100 maunds less than 25 maunds is to be omitted; exceeding 25 and not exceeding 50 maunds is to be charged as 25 maunds only; exceeding 50 and not exceeding 75 maunds to be charged as 50 maunds only; and exceeding 75 maunds as 75 maunds only. Above one thousand maunds no fraction of 100 maunds is to be charged

III. Every Vessel entering a Canal shall be furnished with a ticket on paying the prescribed toll. The ticket shall specify the Station at which it has been issued, the name of the person in charge of the Vessel, the date the Vessel entered the Canal, the point to which it may proceed in the Canal, the maundage of the Vessel, the amount of toll charged, and the number of days for which the Vessel may remain in the Canal, and the date of such last day. The number of days which the Vessel may remain in the Canal without additional payment shall be calculated at the rate of one day for every eight miles or portion of eight miles to be traversed.

IV. Toll may be paid at the first Station either for the entire number of Toll Stations on the line of navigation, or for any less number of Stations.

V. The tickets thus given may be demanded for inspection by any duly authorized Canal Officer, and must be kept on board and at hand for that purpose. They must be shewn at each Toll Station the Vessel has to pass as a Passport that no further payment of toll is to be demanded. The tickets shall be delivered up at the last Toll Station.

VI. Owners of Vessels may compound by the payment of a fixed sum for the use of the whole or a portion of a Canal for any period that may be agreed upon, not exceeding one year. Each Vessel so compounded for shall be furnished with a ticket shewing the amount of toll paid, the period for which the toll has been compounded for, and the limits of the Canal within which the Vessel may pass; such ticket shall be kept on board the Vessel and shall be produced when required under Rule IV, but shall be given up only on the date of the expiry of the period for which granted and at the Station from whence issued.

VII. Duplicates of lost tickets, of which the numbers and the dates of entry can be satisfactorily established, will be granted by Officers in charge of Toll Stations on payment of a fee of one Rupee.

VIII. Vessels remaining in the Canal for a period exceeding that allowed under Rule III. will pay a demurrage of eight annas per 100 maunds per diem for each day or part of a day that they may remain in excess.

IX. No boats above 18 feet beam over all, and no rafts or floats of more than 10 feet width and 150 feet in length will be allowed to enter the Canal.

X. It will not be compulsory for the locks to be opened to single Vessels of less than 500 maunds burden, except in the case of mail or dispatch boats; but the locks shall be opened for the passage of boats at least twice a day.

XI. Vessels must have their masts fitted so that they can be let down with ease and speed, and when under sail Vessels must always keep in the middle of the Canal; when being tracked Vessels are, as far as practicable, to keep to their port or left side of the Canal.

XII. All Vessels anchoring at night are to keep to their port or left bank of the Canal.

XIII. Only one Vessel shall be allowed to make fast along and in a line with the Canal banks, and no Vessel shall be made fast, or be placed outside of Vessels so secured without the permission of a Canal Officer. No Vessel shall, however, be placed in such a position as to endanger the safety of other Vessels, to obstruct their passage, or to impede the navigation; and no bamboos or poles shall be allowed to be erected on Vessels when at anchor: any infringement of this rule will be punishable by a fine not exceeding Rupees 5 for each offence.

XIV. Every Vessel when put to shall be securely fastened and shall at all times have some person in attendance on board of it: any infringement of this rule will be punishable by a fine not exceeding Rupees 5 for each offence.

XV. In every case of wreck or obstruction of the channel by sunken Vessels, the Canal Officer may call upon the person in charge of the Vessel to remove the same without delay, and shall give every reasonable assistance towards so doing. But should the owner of the Vessel or raft be not forthcoming, or should he not use reasonable expedition in removing the obstruction, or should he decline or fail to use proper assistance which may be offered to him by the Canal Officers, these Officers may undertake the removal of the obstruction themselves at the cost of the owner of the boat, recovering the expense in the manner laid down in Section IX. of "the Canals' Act, 1864."

XVI. If the Canal Officer be unable to ascertain the name and place of business or of abode of the owner of the cargo of any Vessel or Boat seized under the Canals' Act, he shall notify the seizure in the most public manner available.

XVII. The banks or berms of the Canals shall not be used as wharves for the deposit of goods under a penalty of 10 Rupees for each offence; but except in special cases, when the permission of the Canal Officers will be necessary, all articles shall be removed to the outer bank of the Canal and all such articles as shall not be finally removed from within the Canal boundaries within a period of 6 days after being so deposited shall be liable to a charge of four annas per 100 maunds.

XVIII. The Canal may be closed once a year for effecting the necessary repairs to it on one month's notice of the intention so to close it, but in the event of any sudden emergency the Canal may be closed at any time without prior notice, and no claim shall be made in such case by owners of Vessels or others for compensation on account of detention.

XIX. All offences against the provisions of these Rules shall be punishable as provided for in Section XVIII. of the Canals' Act, 1864, and all fines imposed may be recovered in the manner mentioned in Section XVII. of the same Act.

XX. The term "Canal Officer" in the foregoing Rules shall include the persons alluded to in Section VIII. of "the Canals' Act, 1864," and any other persons who may be specially appointed to exercise such powers by the person appointed to collect the tolls.

N. B.—Deficiency in Stock of any year will be supplied by delivery of like Salt of other year at the Depôt.

2*nd*.—The sale shall commence at the hour of 11 A. M. of the day abovementioned and shall not be continued after the hour of 5 P. M.; but if at that hour any of the Lots advertised for sale shall remain unsold the sale may, at the discretion of the Board of Revenue, be resumed on the next day following (not being Sunday or a public holiday) at the hour of 11 A. M., and so on until the whole of the remaining Lots are disposed of, or, if the whole quantity advertised shall not be sold on the day appointed, the Board may dispose of the Lots which remain on hand at a future sale.

3*rd*.—Each Lot will comprize one thousand maunds of Salt, the maund being of forty seers, of eighty tolahs to the seer.

4*th*.—The Salt will be deliverable from the Store Depôts.

5*th*.—A Promissory Note for the sum of one hundred Rupees shall be taken as a deposit on each Lot from the purchaser in the Sale Room and before the Lot is registered in the Sale Book, and all such Promissory Notes shall be redeemed on the part of the purchasers at this Office by Bank of Bengal Receipts, or by substitution of other Public Securities of the Bengal Government on or before 4 o'clock in the afternoon of the fifth day after the sale, or on the other hand failing such redemption by the time aforesaid, then the Lot or Lots for which no Bank of Bengal Receipts, or deposit of other Public Securities as aforesaid shall have been delivered in shall be re-sold at such time or times and under such conditions of re-sale as the Board of Revenue shall see fit. All losses and expenses whatsoever attending such re-sale shall be borne and paid by the defaulters, whilst any profit accruing from such re-sale shall be credited to Government.

6*th*.—The Promissory Notes taken on the day of sale under the last-mentioned condition, if remaining unredeemed at 4 o'clock of the fifth day following the day of sale, will be placed in the hands of the Solicitor to the Government for realization.

7*th*.—No Tender of Money, Bank of Bengal Receipts, or Public Securities on account of Salt upon which the prescribed deposit may not have been made before 4 o'clock of the fifth day following the day of sale will be afterwards accepted.

8*th*.—The duty on the Salt shall, unless the purchaser wishes to bond it, be paid for within sixty days from the day of sale; and in case any Lots shall not be so paid for and adjusted, then the cash deposit made under the fifth condition, or any Public Securities that may have been deposited on account of such Lots, shall be forfeited and the Salt shall be disposed of on account of Government at such time and in such manner as the Board of Revenue shall think fit, and the first purchaser shall further be required to make good any loss or difference of price between that obtained at the re-sale and the amount at which the Salt was first purchased, forfeiting all advantages that may arise from such re-sale.

9*th*.—For any Lots which may remain uncleared beyond the above period of sixty days, excepting such as may be bonded, Golah rent will thereafter be charged at the rate of four Rupees per mensem for each 100 maunds.

10*th*.—The Salt may be bonded in a Government or a Private Golah under the Bonding Rules applicable to Sea-imported Salt.

11*th*.—Certificates specifying the name or names of the purchaser or purchasers, the number of the Lots sold, and the description of Salt purchased will be delivered on payment of the deposit at the time and in the manner mentioned in condition 5th, and each Certificate to be so granted must be returned to the Office of the Board before any Orders and Rowannahs (corresponding with such Certificate) for the delivery of the Salt shall be issued.

12*th*.—No Orders and Rowannahs for the delivery of any Lot of Salt shall be issued until payment in full of price and duty shall have been made for the same.

13*th*.—Fees must be paid for Rowannahs agreeably to Clause 5, Section XLVI., Regulation X. of 1819.

14*th*.—No deposit of Public Securities under the 5th of the present conditions will be received in this Office, except from the party recorded as the purchaser in the Sale Book, or his authorized Agent. The receipt for deposit of Public Securities will be granted only in the name of such purchaser, and the Securities so deposited will be returned when payment in full has been made by the said purchaser or his order.

15*th*.—The Officer superintending the sale on the part of the Board of Revenue is empowered to reject, at his discretion, the bid of any individual unless such individual shall on demand tender at the time a deposit, either in Government of India Notes, Bank of Bengal Receipts, or Government Securities, a sum equal to the amount for which a Promissory Note would otherwise be taken under the 5th of these conditions.

16*th*.—The purchaser of any Lot shall have the option of naming and purchasing in immediate succession, at the same price and under the same conditions, any number of Lots of the same Salt not exceeding altogether fifty Lots; provided always that there remain a sufficient number of Lots of the Salt to complete the said fifty.

17*th*.—In the event of any dispute or difference touching or concerning any matter or question arising out of the sale of the Salt included in this Notification, or adjustment of the account thereof, the same shall and may be tried and decided in the High Court of Judicature at Fort William in Bengal.

By Order of the Board of Revenue,

T. Bruce Lane,
Junior Secretary.

The following Notice is published for general information :—

COASTS OF BRITISH BURMAH.

Alguada Reef Lighthouse.

Notice to Mariners.

A First Class Revolving Light was exhibited, for the first time, from the Alguada Reef, in the Bay of Bengal, on the night of the 23rd April 1865, and will contiuue to be shewn from that date.

The light, which is 144 feet above H. W. mark, attains its greatest brilliancy once a minute, and is visible, in clear weather, 20 nautical miles from the poop of a large ship.

Cape Negrais bears from the Lighthouse N. ¼ W.

The Pagoda on Pagoda Point N. ¾ E.

Porian Point N. E. by N.

The centre of Dimond Island N. N. E.

Vessels approaching the Alguada Reef will still find it necessary to be careful. The tides, when influenced by the wind, set across the Reef, and with a good deal of strength between the Reef and the Phæton Shoal. Vessels, therefore, should not come under 20 fathoms on the North-Western side, as the water shoals suddenly on this side, especially towards the South-West part of the Rocks.

Fifteen fathoms will be a safe depth to pass in on the Southern and Eastern sides.

There is a good channel to the North of the Reef between it and the Phaeton Shoal; but the navigation must always be attended with some risk to those unacquainted with it, there being no plain marks that can be specified as a safe and sure guide through. Should, however, circumstances compel a vessel to go through the Northern Channel, it will be well to borrow on the Alguada Reef side, passing about half a mile distant from the North-Easternmost visible rock, and not coming under 11 fathoms. Should it be high water, the breakers will shew the rocks.

On the Eastern side of the Reef vessels may know they are clear of danger by keeping the high land of Heingyee (or Negrais Island) well open to the Eastward of the Diamond Island.

MUNICIPALITY.

Suburbs of Calcutta.

His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal having, under the provisions of Section 85, Act III. (B. C.) of 1864, approved and confirmed the following Conservancy Bye-Laws for the Suburbs of Calcutta, they are hereby published for general information :—

1. The external roofs and walls of any hut or any other building whatever about to be erected or renewed in or near any public highway shall not be made of grass, leaves, mats, or any other inflammable material.

2. The Municipal Commissioners may cause to be put up or painted on a conspicuous part of any house, building, wall or place in any highway the name by which such highway is to be known, and no person shall destroy, pull down, or deface any such name, or put up any name different from that put up by order of the Commissioners.

3. The Municipal Commissioners may fix a number in a conspicuous place on the outer side of any house or building, or at the entrance of the enclosure thereof fronting any highway, and no person shall destroy, pull down, or deface any such number.

4. No person shall let loose, or cause or allow to be let loose, or allow to get loose any diseased or worn-out animal into any highway, or into any place where such animal can escape into any highway.

5. Every person within whose premises any animal may die shall, within two hours after its death, either remove at his own expense the carcass to such place as may be set apart by the Municipal Commissioners for the reception of such carcasses, or report its death to the Conservancy Overseer of the Division within which such premises may be situated, and in such latter case shall pay to the said Overseer the expense of removing the carcass at such rate as the Commissioners may determine ; and in cases where the said person is not the owner of the animal and the owner is known, the owner shall alone be responsible for the payment of such expense, and such expense shall be recoverable as a debt due to the Commissioners.

6. No person, after warning from the Municipal Commissioners, shall allow any pigs to be at large, or keep them otherwise than in closed pens.

7. No person shall suffer any offensive matter from any manufactory or place of business to flow into any river, nullah, canal, tank, or surface drain.

8. All dust, dirt, and rubbish of every kind the removal of which is undertaken by the Municipal Commissioners shall be deposited on the side of the road, and not more than ten yards from the entrance of the premises from which it has come every morning between the hours of 4 A. M. and 8 A. M.

9. No refuse resulting from any business, trade, or profession shall be removed by the Municipal Commissioners except on payment for removal at such rate as the Commissioners may determine, and any expense incurred on this account shall be recoverable as a debt due to the Commissioners. No such refuse shall be deposited on any highway without permission from the Commissioners.

10. All dirt, dust, ashes, rubbish, sewerage, soil, dung, and filth collected from the highways, houses, privies, sewers, and cesspools by the Municipal Commissioners shall be the property of the Commissioners, who shall have power to sell or dispose of the same as they may think proper, and the money arising from the sale thereof shall be applied to the purposes of the District Municipal Improvement Act.

11. No person shall in any way obstruct, or allow to be obstructed, any of the lanes, walks, bye-ways or other thoroughfares in any Bazar by exposing for sale, or accumulating or allowing to be exposed for sale, or to be accumulated on any such lane, walk, bye-way, or thoroughfare any package or any other materials whatever.

12. Every owner, occupier, or farmer of any Bazar shall, within fourteen days after he shall have notice from the Municipal Commissioners so to do, provide such latrines and urinals as in the opinion of the Commissioners may be necessary for the cleanliness and health of such Bazar.

13. No owner, occupier, or farmer of any Bazar or shop shall sell, or expose for sale, or permit to be sold or exposed for sale, or admit into, or permit to remain in any such Bazar or shop any offensive meat, or fish, or decomposed vegetable matter, and every such owner, occupier, or farmer shall, without any delay, cause any such meat, fish, or vegetable matter to be at once removed to a place to be notified to him by the Municipal Commissioners. No such owner, occupier, or farmer shall obstruct any person appointed by the Commissioners for that purpose from entering and inspecting any such premises at any time between sunrise and sunset.

14. No person suffering from any contagious disease shall bathe in any bathing place set apart for that purpose by the Municipal Commissioners.

15. No person shall throw, or cause to be thrown, any corpse or carcase, or any part of a corpse or carcass upon any ground or into any river, nullah, canal, drain, or tank.

16. No person shall bury, or cause to be buried, any corpse in any burial ground in a grave constructed of masonry in such manner that the coffin shall be at a less depth than four feet from the surface ground.

17. No person shall bury, or cause to be buried, in any burial ground any corpse in a grave not constructed of masonry which shall be less than six feet deep.

18. No person shall build or dig, or cause to be built or dug, any grave in any burial ground at a less distance than four feet from any other existing grave.

19. No person shall build or dig, or cause to be built or dug, a grave in any burial place in any other line than that marked out by the Municipal Commissioners.

20. No grave once used shall be opened for the burial of another body without the permission of the Municipal Commissioners.

21. No person when burning or causing to be burnt any corpse or part of a corpse in any burning ground shall permit the same or any part thereof to remain without being completely reduced to ashes, or shall permit the clothes or other articles connected with the burning of such corpse to remain at or near such burning ground unless the same be completely reduced to ashes.

22. Every person who shall bring or convey, or cause to be brought or conveyed, any corpse or part thereof to any burning ground shall burn or cause the same to be burnt within four hours after its arrival at the said burning ground.

23. Every corpse, or part of a corpse, that has been kept or used for purposes of dissection must be removed in a closed vehicle in such manner as may prevent any offensive odour or any indecency.

24. Every person who shall commit an infringement of any of the foregoing Bye-Laws by doing any act prohibited by any such Bye-Law or by neglecting to do any act directed to be done by any such Bye-Law shall be liable to fine according to the scale laid down in the subjoined Table :—

Report on the Chitpore Small-Pox Hospital.

From H. A. BRUCE, ESQ., M. D., Officiating Principal Inspector-General, Medical Department, to the Secretary to the Government of Bengal,—(No. 1238, dated the 28th April 1865.)

SIR,

I HAVE the honor to forward, for submission to the Hon'ble the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal, a clear and detailed Report of the Small-Pox Hospital at Chitpore, from the time it was opened up to the 13th instant, furnished by Dr. Chuckerbutty, to whose Medical charge it was from the first entrusted.

2. Some of the Tables attached to this Report convey much interesting information, as does the Report itself, especially where it treats of the relative prophylactic value of vaccination, re-vaccination, and inoculation in guarding the human system from this fearful disease, and the comparative chances of a fatal result where an attack does take place in those so guarded.

3. Much of the information on which these statistics are based must necessarily have been gathered from the patients themselves, which cannot be considered a thoroughly reliable source; but, allowing for a certain amount of error, enough probably remains to indicate some conclusions of a practical nature which may hereafter be of value, and credit is due to Dr. Chuckerbutty for the diligence with which he has collected and recorded the facts which the present epidemic has placed within his reach.

4. Dr. Chuckerbutty reports favorably of the attention and exertions of Mr. Kidd, the Apothecary attached to the Hospital, who, throughout the harassing and disagreeable duties belonging to such a position, has given full satisfaction. I take this opportunity of repeating the recommendation contained in my letter No. 965, dated 18th February last, that the sum of Rupees 30 monthly should be allowed him, in addition to his pay, from the time he was appointed, for the reasons there and here advanced.

5. The question of a permanent infection Hospital for Calcutta, with an especial arrangement for the reception of Small-Pox cases, cannot here be discussed; but in order to supply the want of such an Institution, it is highly desirable that the temporary buildings which have been erected at Chitpore should, with a sufficient Establishment, be retained even after the present epidemic has ceased till measures are completed for the erection of a permanent and more suitable building.

From J. Anderson, Esq., M. D., Deputy Inspector-General of Hospitals, Presidency Circle, to Dr. H. Macpherson, Secretary to the Principal Inspector-General, Medical Department,—(No. 122, dated the 24th April 1865.)

Sir,

In accordance with your Office Memorandum No. 4092 of the 18th April, I have now the honor to enclose a full and detailed Report of the Small-Pox Hospital at Chitpore from its establishment to the 13th of this month.

The Institution has been conducted to my entire satisfaction, and doubtless has exerted a most important influence in preventing the more extensive diffusion of a fatal loathsome and highly infectious disease in Calcutta and in its vicinity.

The open sheds erected at Chitpore for the accommodation of Small-Pox patients have answered admirably, their perfect ventilation preventing the possibility of any concentration of effluvia. A remarkable instance of the necessity for the most complete lateral ventilation in this disease will be found at page 7 of the enclosed Report. You are aware that the East half of the large pucka shed made over to us for a Native Small-Pox Hospital was previously occupied by large furnaces or forges, and had a wall eight feet in height extending round this portion of the building closing in the spaces between the massive buttresses supporting the roof. The upper part of the sides of this apartment were quite open, and in the roof were most capacious apertures protected from the weather by raised tiled coverings. It may fairly be presumed that the ventilation above the screen wall was deemed perfect, and that it sufficed to carry off the heated air, smoke, &c., of a number of furnaces, yet, strange to say, we were forced to abandon the ward for Small-Pox patients, as it soon became perfectly unendurable from the fact that the heavy offensive animal emanations from persons afflicted with this disease were altogether uninfluenced by the very complete ventilation a few feet above the beds of the patients. This affords proof of the absolute necessity of giving the most perfect lateral ventilation to Small-Pox Hospitals in Lower Bengal.

In fact it was evident to me, in my visits to this Hospital, that, to remove the effluvia of Small-Pox pustules in the suppurative stage, the patient required to be constantly bathed in a stream of fresh air.

I think that the site of this Hospital is good, the broad open river on one side being a grand ventilator; but if occupied permanently it will require to be enclosed so as to prevent the egress of infected patients.

The sheds also will have to be made pucka, as the present erections are very frail and suffer damage from every slight storm to the great inconvenience of the patients.

The European patients have been dieted by the Commissariat in the usual way on the Government scale of diet for Soldiers, and the Natives by purchases from the Bazar of such food as was deemed necessary and proper for them.

Hospital stoppages were exacted from all who were able to pay the same, but the sum total collected has been very small.

Report of the Small-Pox Hospital established by Government at Chitpore, on the 19th December 1864.

From Dr. S. G. Chuckerbutty, to the Deputy Inspector-General of Hospitals, Presidency Circle,—(dated Calcutta, the 20th April 1865.)

Sir,

In accordance with your Office Memorandum No. 174, dated the 18th April instant, I have the honor to submit the following Report of the Small-Pox Hospital, Chitpore, from its establishment to the 13th instant, with which day closed my last weekly Return to Government.

1.—Site and its Features.

This Hospital is situated between the Chitpore Road and the left bank of the River Hooghly, about a hundred yards to the North of the Chitpore Bridge, and immediately to the South-West of the Police Station.

The ground on which it stands measures 648 feet from East to West, and 432 feet from North to South. It is traversed from East to West by a neglected ditch, which in the winter and spring is dry, but in the rains occupied by water and rank vegetation.

To the East of the road there is a piece of land which was covered with jungle, and used as a place of public convenience by the surrounding inhabitants. Whenever the wind blew across this field, it carried with it into the Hospital a most abominable smell. Since the formation of the Small-Pox Hospital this jungle has been cleared, and a check imposed upon the commission of nuisances.

To the North of the Hospital are some tanks and a Native village. One or two privies belonging to the latter were at first a source of great annoyance, but this was removed by the Magistrate of the 24-Pergunnahs on my complaining of it.

To the South of the Hospital are a tank and many respectable Native houses, against which I have had no cause of complaint.

To the West of the Hospital lies its river frontage. This has been a very great advantage, as it has not only afforded an abundance of water for washing, bathing, and other purposes, but also such a supply of fresh air as could not have been secured in any part of the town. By this the Hospital has enjoyed the two most potent of hygienic advantages, viz., cleanliness and pure air. At low water, as usual with all tidal rivers in this country, the bank is exposed, but I am happy to say it is so here only to a small extent, and not sufficiently to make the place unhealthy, owing to the river being deepest abreast of the Hospital in consequence of the formation of a large chur from mid-stream towards the opposite shore.

Against the South-West angle of this piece of ground was wrecked, in the late October Cyclone, the New York Ship Tooljar, the remains of which are being gradually removed.

The space thus described is without a proper enclosure. There is a bamboo fence to the Southern half of the road frontage, and a dilapidated wall occupying a portion of the Northern boundary.

The rest is all open; and so many patients have run away without being detected.

To prevent this I applied to the Commissioner of Police for a Guard, and he was good enough to order a couple of Chowkeydars to watch the premises. This, I am sorry to say, has not entirely stopped unauthorized escapes.

The footpaths have only just been completed for communication between the different buildings and tents; and two temporary bridges have been laid across the ditch for a similar purpose.

2.—Buildings and other Accommodation.

When the Hospital was first opened, there stood on the grounds a pucka bungalow calculated to hold twenty patients; a pucka tiled shed 156 feet by 30 feet, divided into two parts by a partition in the middle, and calculated to hold forty patients; (the East wing of which had a wall 8 feet high between the pillars, above which it was open for the purposes of ventilation, but the West wing had no such wall, the open spaces in both being enclosed by durmah walls;) and thirdly, a tiled kitchen.

The kitchen accommodation had to be immediately increased, as it became necessary to have separate cook-houses for Europeans, Mahomedans, and Hindoos. And by the 12th January the number of patients in the Hospital having rapidly increased, I applied for two additional sheds, 90 feet by 20 feet each, to be erected to the South of the ditch, the other buildings being to its North. These sheds were sanctioned, but their size was reduced to 60 feet by 20 feet each; and, as they could not be constructed without some delay to meet the pressing wants of the Hospital, the Deputy Inspector-General indented at once for three tents for the use of European patients, and one for the Apothecary. About the same time, too, a Railway Steamer was moored abreast of the Hospital and placed at my disposal; but as this was a most unsuitable Vessel for Small-Pox cases, this fact being represented to Government, she was ordered to be removed on the 22nd February without having been of any use whatever.

The supply of tents, however, was a more opportune measure; for it enabled me to prevent overcrowding in the bungalow, and also to obtain room for the now increasing number of female patients.

By the time the two new sheds were finished, the number of Native male patients had grown so large that the old shed was dangerously overcrowded. So, a great many of them were at once transferred to the new sheds; and a small dead house and two more sheds of the same size applied for in anticipation of a further increase of admissions. While these buildings were being erected we were in the very height of the epidemic, and patients commenced pouring in more than sixty per week. At this time the females were too numerous to be kept in tents, and so about two-thirds of the West wing of the old shed was partitioned off for their exclusive use. The deaths among the Europeans in the bungalow and among the females were numerous enough, but among the Native males their proportion was truly appalling. The stench in the East wing of the old shed became now so intolerably oppressive that it was utterly impossible to stand it for a single minute; and there occurred in it one night no less than ten deaths in a limited number of patients. The next morning the whole of the survivors were removed to the still unfinished new sheds. Thinning the number of beds was found to produce no effect in this case, the evil being due partly to the thorough saturation of the floor with offensive matters, and in part to the 8 feet high wall already described, which precluded all ventilation below that level though the long sides of the building faced the wind. An application was immediately made to have this wall pulled down and its place supplied by moveable jhamps, and the floor raised one foot with dry earth as had been done in the new sheds. The durmah walls of the west wing were also cut and converted into jhamps.

When all these buildings were completed, I had, besides the bungalow, four sheds measuring each 60 feet by 20, and one shed 156 feet by 30, with tiled roofs, dry earth floors raised 1 foot, and, in place of walls, moveable jhamps, which could be drawn up and kept open by props, or let down and secured when necessary. These were found to be great improvements, almost completely banishing bad smells, as they presented their open sides to the wind, which constantly blew away all effluvia.

All the arrangements being complete, the bungalow and one of the new sheds were occupied by European males, three of the new sheds by Native males, and the two wings of the old shed respectively by European and Native females.

The hail-storm of the 5th March did great damage to all these buildings, not only tearing off the tiles, but also causing large apertures through the roofs. This necessitated extensive repairs, but no sooner were these executed than another catastrophe of the same kind befell the Hospital on the 4th April; this time one of the tents also being destroyed. With the exception of the tent all the other damage has been again repaired.

There has been throughout a great want of out-offices, consequently the Dispensary is placed in one of the rooms of the bungalow, which is also the only place for the Native Doctor and the Ward-Master to sleep in; the Office has been established in the tent originally used by Mr. Kidd, and the Hospital Apprentice also lives here; and lastly, the stores have been partly deposited in two little godowns to the North of the old shed, and partly, especially the lumber, such as cots, &c., in some of the empty tents.

The tents, however, being no longer needed for the use of patients, that fact has been communicated to the Officer in charge of the Arsenal, so I expect he will soon either remove or otherwise dispose of them.

I beg to append Tabular Statements, which will serve to show the Establishment, furniture, clothing, &c.

3.—Establishment.

The menial Establishment for the European patients has been paid by the Commissariat, and that for the Natives by the Commissioner of Police. The number of female servants allowed was found insufficient, and when extra hands were employed they were charged for in the contingent account. Many females, too, have had their own private servants, which has been a great relief to the Hospital attendants.

The Hospital Staff, as it stands at present, consists of the following Officers:—One Medical Officer in charge, one Apothecary, one Hospital Apprentice, one Native Doctor, one Native Writer, and one Ward-Master.

It affords me great pleasure to state that I have been perfectly satisfied with all my subordinates.

Mr. Kidd's services have been particularly valuable. He was associated with me from the very first, and had alone to maintain discipline as well as to look after the proper administration of food and medicines, and clothing, official returns, indents, and payments. Besides all this, he has had likewise to collect money from all such persons as were able to meet their Hospital charges. For all this labor Mr. Kidd has hitherto received the bare pay of his rank. Now, considering that, for a long time, the number of patients in the Hospital was about a hundred and ten, and that the purveying of such large numbers must have caused him much anxiety and trouble, and considering that he has had work to do to which he would not have been expected to attend in a Regimental Hospital, I think he ought to be allowed some special remuneration. If there be no insuperable obstacle, I would suggest that he be paid Rupees 30 a month from the commencement of the Hospital out of the sums he has collected from patients; and I would further hope that, when the present Hospital is closed, he may be provided with some quiet appointment in recognition of his services during so terrible an epidemic of Small-Pox.

Hospital Apprentice Dolby has impressed me favorably as to his character. He is quiet, steady, and industrious.

I have been greatly pleased with Native Doctor Soorjikanto Bhuttacharjea. He is certainly a very intelligent, honest, willing, and industrious youth, and one whom I shall be glad to see adequately rewarded for his zeal and patience.

The Native Writer has had the very laborious duty of writing out all our indents, returns, and correspondence, and his former Regimental training has been very useful in the conduct of his work. For business of this description he will make a capital hand under due superintendence.

Ward-Master Reid was sick during a part of his service; but so long as he is able to stir about, he is a most active and useful servant as testified by the good conservancy, cleanliness, order, and proper attention to their work by the Hospital servants ever since his appointment. A man like him is greatly wanted in an Institution like this, and so I willingly record my approbation of his services.

4.—Furniture and Cooking Utensils.

Under this head are included both furniture and cooking utensils. Respecting the latter I have not much to say. As in all mixed Hospitals in this country, like cooks and kitchens, there must also be three different sets of cooking utensils for Europeans, Mahomedans, and Hindoos, respectively. Quite apart from the question of religion the food of the European is different from the food of the Native, and has to be prepared in a different way. But the Mahomedans and Hindoos require to have cooks of their respective faith, for they will not eat any food unless prepared by one of their own creed. Hence, though the articles and mode of cooking be the same, and the utensils of a similar nature, still there must be a separate set of the latter for persons of each creed, for vessels used by the men of one creed cannot be used by those of the other without involving immediate loss of caste and social position.

Respecting furniture I may observe, as a general rule, that the fewer there are of these things in a Small-Pox Hospital the better; for, according to the strict rules of sanitation, every thing once used by a Small-Pox patient, or exposed to infection in the room occupied by him, must be certainly destroyed; and so, as a matter of sense, it is obvious that it is bad economy to give him much furniture, which must be burnt or thrown away as soon as he gets well.

But it is not only bad economy but positively dangerous to encourage such practice, for as the virus of Small-Pox attaches itself to every object within its reach, it stands to reason that the more numerous these objects the greater the danger of cumulation, and the greater the risk to which the attendants of the sick and the future occupants of the Hospital are exposed.

Wherever a patient suffering from this loathsome disease lies down or sits a quantity of pus and scabs adheres to the bed, couch or seat; and this takes place to so large an extent that though the clothes and bed sheets are daily changed, yet ere the day is half over the linen appears so soiled as if it had not been washed for a whole month. Indeed even the mattresses and pillows after a few days' use become thoroughly saturated and horribly stinking, and quite unfit for any further use. Sofas, stuffed chairs, and cushions would meet with a similar fate, and we should have to obtain a fresh set of them for every set of cases were we to indulge in so expensive a luxury. So, next to the rule about number, is the rule relating to the quality of the furniture.

The oftener a thing can be changed and re-employed, or the cheaper the article, the better is it adapted for a Small-Pox Hospital. Hence wooden or iron cots, which can be thoroughly cleansed with boiling water and disinfected by exposure to the action of the sun, or charpoys, which are cheap and can be re-placed without difficulty, are the most suitable bedsteads for Small-Pox patients. Pillows, mattresses, sheets, blankets and the necessary clothes are indispensable evils, and the expense entailed by them cannot be avoided, but these will be further discussed under bedding and clothing.

The articles of furniture I have found most useful in this Hospital are cots, charpoys, bed pans, commodes, little things like dumb waiters (bed-side tables,) wooden stools or chairs and benches. The Natives, as a rule, want nothing but the bedstead, but their practice of eating on the floor, strewing on the ground all round rice, curry and water is highly objectionable, and one that ought not to be countenanced except on pucka floors. Some unreasonable Europeans again are not satisfied even with the list of articles enumerated above; they want to be as comfortable as in their private houses, i. e., to get tables, couches, &c. These, of course, cannot be gratified for the reasons already stated,—and as these people are shrewd enough not to bring their own property. The charpoys very soon give way, and have often to be changed.

The furniture for the Office and Dispensary demand no particular notice; they must be the same here as in all similar cases. For any further information I must refer to the Tables of furniture and cooking utensils in the appended Lists, merely adding that I had to stop the practice of feeding Natives on plantain leaves, and gave them stone plates instead, as these are durable and cheap, and Hindoos and Mahomedans have no objection to using the same plates of this description in their turns and as often as required.

5.—Bedding and Clothing.

As a general rule the bedding allowed to each European consisted of a mattress, two sheets, and a blanket; and to each Native a hoglah mat, a sheet, and a blanket. But sometimes in the stage of collapse patients bitterly complained of cold, and so they were given more than one blanket; sometimes a European complained of his hard bed, and he was allowed a charpoy; and sometimes a Native asked for a mattress, and he was allowed it. For the reasons incidentally stated under the head of furniture, a great many articles of bedding became very soon unserviceable and had to be destroyed, their places being of course supplied by new ones purchased at a considerable expense. With the exception of a few things brought by patients from the General and the Medical College Hospitals, we had to provide the whole of these ourselves, as we received no bedding with the forty-five Barrack cots supplied by the Commissariat, nor with the charpoys obtained from the Bazar. The few exceptions I have mentioned were of no use to those Institutions, as they were already condemned and must have been destroyed if not sent to us.

The majority of the patients have used the Hospital clothing, but some have had a sufficiency of their own, which they were not forbidden to wear. Coats, waistcoats, and hats, however, were taken away from every European as soon as he arrived and kept for him carefully locked up after being well washed, cleaned, and sunned, to be returned to him on his discharge. I was obliged to do this as patients objected to have their clothes burnt when they were really good, and as I had none to give them as a compensation. But any thing that was objectionable I had immediately destroyed and re-placed out of the few articles I had received for the use of the Hospital from charitable persons. The generality of the Natives came into the Hospital with very dirty and good-for-nothing clothes; these were at once removed from them and destroyed. Sometimes, however, both Europeans and Natives came to us with very good Hospital clothing from other Institutions. These they were allowed to retain in use as long as they were useful, but always made to deliver up when discharged. In this manner we got several complete Hospital suits from the Medical College and General Hospitals, and were enabled to issue dressing gowns and some other comforts which we did not ourselves possess. Indeed, there was so much delay in supplying us all we wanted at the first start that, were it not for this cause, many patients must have suffered a great deal of hardship from want of necessary clothing. Fortunately the knowledge of the existence of this Institution was at first confined only to the Hospitals, and by the time the general public became aware of it and commenced to arrive we had obtained sufficient clothing.

Our first supply of clothing came from Mr. James Bowser, of the Medical College Hospital. This was a surplus quantity left in his hands from the temporary Small-Pox Hospitals of 1857 and 1859, which had also been under my charge. But this was a mere drop in the ocean, and suited only for Natives, as those were Native Small-Pox Hospitals, and intended for a much smaller number of individuals. However, I was very glad to get even this at that time, and so I must record my thanks to Mr. Bowser for his well-timed aid.

Afterwards I also received a bundle of old clothing from the Commissioner of Police, a tolerably large stock from Colonel Rowlatt, through Mr. James Bowser, somewhat damaged, but still good enough for a Small-Pox Hospital; two donations of wearing apparel from Mrs. Howe, collected by her from charitable ladies and gentlemen, and certain presents to particular patients.

For all these I have to express my best thanks. I will take this opportunity also to record my grateful thanks to Baboo Pearychand Mittra for a large donation of newspapers and periodicals from the Calcutta Public Library. These have been a very great comfort to many Europeans, especially of the better classes. At a time of universal suffering like this it is sweet to notice instances of liberality and humane sympathy. But I regret to confess that the above are the only ones I am able to lay my hand on.

To return from this digression I have to report that a good deal of clothing has had also to be purchased. The demand and destruction were so great that this could not have been avoided. Besides, in many cases of paupers, I found it absolutely necessary to give away clean suits to cover their unsightly nakedness on their discharge from the Hospital.

Shirts and drawers for European males, shifts for European females, dhotees and chudders for Native males, and sarees for Native females, were the personal clothing ordinarily allowed for use in the Hospital. In exceptional cases flannels and other apparel were likewise furnished; but these cases were very few indeed. Owing to their rapid soiling and saturation these clothes had to be constantly changed and washed, which made them wear out much faster than they would do under other circumstances.

The Table in a former page will furnish more detailed information on this subject.

6.—Food and Water.

The European diets were issued on the same scale as that allowed for European Regimental Hospitals, and the Native diets on the scale of Native Hospitals.

During the initiatory fever the diet was necessarily low, consisting simply of sago and milk; but from the time the fever departed, unless other circumstances forbad it, it was made more nourishing, the swallowing and digestive powers of the patient being my only guides as to its quality and quantity. When the eruption is fairly out, the more a man eats the better is his chance of ultimate recovery. But unfortunately in the severe cases, during the height of the eruption, the power of deglutition is almost annulled by the large crop of pustules which appears within the throat. These patients can only be fed with slops, and even that has to be carefully watched as they are unwilling to incur the risk of suffocation, a sense of which every attempt at swallowing immediately brings on. There is a quantity of viscid saliva constantly flowing out of the mouth in such cases, and until this is cleared no deglutition can be effected. The features are swollen and the nostrils stuffed with secretion, and that is the ground why the necessities of breathing render the act of swallowing so uncertain and difficult. When this state of things has gone by, or when it does not come on, the diet of the patient is first raised to milk, bread, and broth; then to chicken or kid stewed; and lastly to the fullest quantity allowed. In some instances during convalescence, even when the diet has been made as full as the regulations permit, the patients still crave for more. This craving must be strongly resisted, as otherwise their lives become shortly jeopardised by the advent of Diarrhœa or Dysentery of a most troublesome kind. These observations apply only to Europeans. In dealing with Natives there are other difficulties. Their full diet consists of rice, dal, and curry, or, instead of rice, attah. The dal does not agree with all stomachs and is very apt to occasion Diarrhœa or Dysentery if incautiously allowed, and so will rice if it be not somewhat old and of good quality. New rice is regarded popularly as one of the frequent causes of Cholera, and the accusation is not undeserved when we recollect how prone it is to disorder the bowels. Hence in regulating Native diets some knowledge of these facts is requisite, and this is particularly needed in reference to the convalescents from Small-Pox who are naturally disposed to suffer from bowel complaints. But sometimes the physician's difficulty lies not so much in suiting food to the stomach of the patient as in reconciling it to his conscience. Some Hindoos will obstinately refuse to take things prepared by the Hospital servants, or if they accept any thing at all it is only milk and water. Happily these cases are few, and often their absurd scruples are hushed by the state of unconsciousness or impotence to which they are reduced during the most trying period of the disease. It is true that most persons brought to this stage of lowness die, but some do also recover; hence they cannot be left without food from any hopeless despair, as that would not only be cruel but positively criminal.

The European diets have been supplied by the Commissariat, and the Native paid for by the Commissioner of Police; and all further information about these must be obtained from those sources.

We come now to water. I have already said that the proximity of the river afforded us rare opportunities for an unlimited supply of this substance. It was largely availed of for bathing and washing purposes. As a rule, every patient was bathed as soon as the eruption began to desiccate, and the bathing repeated at due intervals during the whole convalescence. The effect of this practice was truly marvellous. Patients who seemed to be on the very point of expiring always survived under the agency of the tepid bath, and many of these afterwards recovered who would have certainly died if not bathed. Many of them of course died, but none within twelve hours of the bath, and so not in any way to be laid to its account. For so extensive a system of bathing it was fortunate to have had so endless a supply of water at hand as was afforded by the river. The same remark may be made regarding washing. Besides the cooking utensils, the patients' clothes and beddings had constantly to be washed, and this alone would have soon exhausted or injuriously contaminated any ordinary tanks.

Patients of all classes, both European and Native, the moment they were able to walk, preferred to go into the river and bathe in the running stream. So I had them sent down in batches with the Ward-Master and some Coolies to prevent accidents. This I found to be very beneficial, for the skin seemed to clean itself under this much faster than it would have done under any other plan.

For cooking and drinking the Natives preferred the river water, while for Europeans I had water brought from a good tank in a Baboo's garden some distance from the Hospital. There was not much difference in the action of these two kinds of water upon the digestive organs, but, as cases of Diarrhœa and Dysentery were more common amongst Europeans than Natives, it is possible that the tank water, although cleaner and superior in appearance, was in reality worse than the river water in spite of its muddiness and uninviting look at first sight.

The tanks immediately around the Hospital premises were too filthy to be of any use.

7.—Medicines, Wines, and Liquors.

My Indents for medicines have been remarkably small, for very little besides stimulants was really required for the treatment of the disease itself. A little diuretic saline during the fever, a little camphor water during eruption, and a good deal of ammonia and ether in cases of collapse, besides wines and liquors, were all that were needed. The complications, however, required other remedies, but these were not many, nor very considerable in quantity. They were all supplied from the Government stock.

The wines and liquors came from the Commissariat. There has been a large consumption of these, as prostration of strength was the most marked feature of the cases of Small-Pox. Of course they were not ordered unless absolutely necessary, but the cases that did not require them were few indeed, and the quantity allowed to each person was comparatively large, because the debility they were employed to remove was extreme.

8.—Baths and Washing.

To these I have already referred to a certain extent. In this place I shall discuss some points which could not well be touched on before.

First, I have to observe, the bathing accommodation was very inadequate for so large an Institution. Although the bungalow had two bath-rooms, and tiled or durmah bath-rooms were attached to every shed, there was wanting a sufficient number of tubs or bathing vessels. Of these I had only one supplied for the Europeans by the Commissariat. But this was found quite inadequate even for the European males; indeed I had to order some gumlows from the Bazar to meet their wants.

The European females and the large body of Natives of both sexes had to be bathed as best they could. Gumlows were the only things I could get, and some of these were put into tents for the use of females, and others near the ditch where the Native males were carried in their charpoys and bathed.

Washing was employed in all cases where baths could not be used. Thus the face required to be frequently washed to relieve the sense of drawing, itching, and pain from the pustules on it being the first to desiccate and crack before those on the limbs and body were even properly developed; and the limbs required to be washed in the same way when they became full of sores and maggots, while the collapse of the vital powers was such as to forbid all idea of bathing. This washing was a source of great comfort, and so it was largely resorted to.

Next to baths, and washing the patients' persons and clothes, great benefit was experienced from the constant daily washing of the pucka floor of the bungalow, a proceeding which could not be adopted with the dry earth floors of the sheds.

For these reasons a Small-Pox Hospital should always be placed in close proximity to an abundant supply of running water, and no better site could have been found for the present Hospital than the one on which it stands.

9.—Charitable Donations.

These I have already incidentally noticed under the head of clothing. For further information I beg to refer to the Table in the former part of this Report.

10.—Contributions by Patients.

Under this head will be found the sums of money obtained from such of the patients as were in circumstances to pay for their Hospital expenses.

With regard to Europeans the scale charged was eight annas a day for those in the common wards or rooms; but for those who wished to occupy a room alone a Rupee a day. The only Natives charged for are the people from the several Cooly Depôts. These have been charged at the rate of four annas a head. The remaining Native patients were too poor to pay for their Hospital care; they rather required money and clothes than paying any thing towards the Hospital. Up to this time the sums collected amount in the aggregate to Rupees 250. The whole of this is from Europeans. Many Bills are still unpaid and outstanding, and many have been returned under the plea of poverty.

11.—Cost of the Hospital.

The total cost of the Hospital up to 31st March has been, as far as I can ascertain, Rupees 15,745-15-10. This does not include, however, the expenses incurred in connection with the Railway Steamer. If I take that into calculation, and make allowance for one or two other probable omissions, the sum of the expenditure in round numbers may be set down at Rupees 16,000. The bulk of this large outlay has been due to the purchase and erection of the different buildings and cots, &c., and is, therefore, of a temporary nature. Under this head alone has been expended Rupees 10,439. The Establishment charges up to 31st March amounted only to Rupees 2,215-8-9, and the contingents to Rupees 3,091-7-1. To make these figures more intelligible, I beg to annex here a detailed Statement, which I have prepared with some difficulty for want of accurate information respecting some items

From this it will appear that the first cost is the chief cost of a temporary Hospital; and as often as such Hospitals are established, so often must this cost be incurred, for the simple reason that every thing must be destroyed the moment the Hospital is closed. This, of course, would not be the case in a permanent Hospital, which might be made available at times also for other infectious diseases.

12.—Action of the Hospital on its immediate neighbourhood.

I have made many anxious enquiries regarding the effect of the Small-Pox Hospital upon the residents of Chitpore. I wished to ascertain if the location of the Hospital here had in any way increased the severity of the variolous epidemic among the people of this neighbourhood. After a careful investigation I find that the disease has prevailed in this place very severely, but not more severely than within a similar area in the Town, or in the Suburbs of Kidderpore, Alipore, Bhowanipore, and Entally. This is so far satisfactory, as I was fully prepared for a contrary result. There were twenty-four patients admitted into the Hospital from Chitpore, while there were forty-six from Sealdah, thirty-two from Bow Bazar, twenty-two from Taltullah, twenty-two from Entally, nineteen from the Medical College Hospital, sixteen from Colootollah, fifteen from the General Hospital, fifteen from Cooley Bazar, fourteen from Cossitollah, thirteen from Jorasanko, fourteen from Baug Bazar, twelve from Collingah, and ten from Cotton Street, not to speak of smaller numbers from numerous other places. From the shipping in the river there were admitted no less than fifty-three cases, and fourteen from the crews of Native boats. From a mature consideration of these figures, and the distance of many of these localities as compared with Chitpore, it will be perfectly manifest that the last-named District has not suffered more than other places by reason of the proximity of the Small-Pox Hospital.

13.—Progress of the Epidemic.

The progress of the epidemic, as observed in the Small-Pox Hospital, is well shewn by the Weekly Returns I have already submitted to Government. To render it clearer I beg to annex in Table I. an abstract of the facts scattered through the sixteen Weekly Returns made since the 23rd of December last. From a glance at this Table it will readily appear how steadily the admissions increased from the first to the seventh week; in other words how they mounted from fourteen in the first week step by step to sixty-four in the seventh. From the eighth to the eleventh week then succeeds a period of fluctuation marked on the whole by a slight decline. From the twelfth to the sixteenth week the fluctuations are still greater, and the decline in the admissions more strongly marked, leaving off, however, at twenty-eight, a number not to be despised at any time.

I.—Table.

Progress of the Epidemic to 13th April 1865.

	Admissions.	Deaths.	Discharges.
1st Week ...	14	2	3
2nd „ ...	23	3	3
3rd „ ...	31	8	7
4th „ ...	34	8	19
5th „ ...	41	17	11
6th „ ...	58	14	17
7th „ ...	64	24	21
8th „ ...	60	30	33
9th „ ...	38	24	21
10th „ ...	62	24	31
11th „ ...	59	23	26

13th „ ...	21	14	36
14th „ ...	30	14	22
15th „ ...	25	14	27
16th „ ...	28	12	18
Total ...	627	249	323

The mortality, too, rises with the increase of admissions. From there being two deaths in the first week, there are thirty in the eighth week. The maximum of mortality, therefore, was a week later than the maximum of admissions. But this increase in the mortality advanced irregularly, whereas the increase of admissions rose regularly step by step. After this, however, from the ninth to the sixteenth week, the decline of mortality has steadily gone on, with only two noticeable halts at twenty-four and fourteen, but no fluctuations, till last week it stood at twelve deaths.

The recoveries have been more numerous than deaths; but the discharges from the Hospital were governed by many circumstances, and so their number fluctuates during the whole period under consideration. The largest number of discharges took place in the thirteenth week, the next in the eighth week, the third in the tenth week, the fourth in the twelfth week, the fifth in the fifteenth week, the sixth in the eleventh week, and so on, till, in the sixteenth week, they came down to eighteen.

This is so far satisfactory that it shews an evident decline in the disease, and this conclusion is further corroborated by the reports of private medical practitioners. But the epidemic can scarcely be said yet to be at an end. So long as there are twenty-eight admissions and twelve deaths in the week, there is still cause for anxiety and proper precautionary measures.

14.—Whence the patients came.

For the sake of perspicuity I have prepared Table II. to bring out into one view the names of the various localities in the town and suburbs, and the ships and boats in the river, giving the number of patients that came from each. It will be easily perceived that the disease has been universal in its occurrence, sparing no part of the city or the river, though in densely crowded, badly ventilated, and badly drained situations it has raged with tenfold virulence as compared with the cleaner, better drained, and better ventilated portions of the town. Squalor and filth are not among the causes of Small-Pox, but wherever these prevail there we find also the most utter neglect of all sanitary laws. To illustrate my point I need allude merely to the neighbourhood of Bow Bazar Street. To the north and south of this Street the drains are in a most wretched state, and the houses low, damp, and badly built. This quarter is inhabited by a very low class of people, and it sent the largest number of patients to the Small-Pox Hospital. I have visited houses here, where I have found two or three Small-Pox cases sleeping in the same room and sharing the same bed with five or six unvaccinated children. It is waste of time to talk of the danger to these people; they turn a deaf ear to all remonstrances, and prefer to die huddled together, like a parcel of sheep, to going to the Hospital for proper treatment and isolation. These remarks apply also to Taltullah and other similarly situated portions of the town, as well as to the Cooley Depôts of Entally, Sealdah, &c. As the Table will sufficiently explain itself I shall abstain from taking up any more space with the consideration of this subject. A careful and attentive perusal of it will afford every information that may be wanted.

15.—How the Disease spread.

It is well known that Small-Pox is an infectious malady, and that it propagates by contagion. But during an epidemic, such as that which we are now passing through, the pestilence is in the air. This is proved by numerous circumstances. In the first place Small-Pox is not only raging here but throughout the Gangetic Valley, involving Meerut, Delhi, Agra, Allahabad, as well as Calcutta. It prevails likewise in other Provinces; in sooth, I may say, that it is present now more or less everywhere in India. Such a universal outbreak simultaneously in many and distant places can be due to no other cause than an aërial poison, which enters into the system by the respiratory passages, and thus gives rise to its peculiar action even in individuals who take the utmost care against infection. That the disease is propagable by contagion and inoculation is no argument against the aërial agency. Secondly, the occurrence of it in persons who have avoided exposure to infection is another proof of the same fact. In epidemic years no one is safe against its attack. But not to waste any more words I beg to submit Table III. shewing the sixteen weekly Returns of the localities and ships from which the patients came in the order of time. This will best explain that there is no definite law respecting the extension of this awful pest in epidemic seasons. It does not advance step by step in the lines of human intercourse, nor is it confined to man alone, it affects birds and quadrupeds as well.

Nevertheless it is prudent to adopt every available means against infection. Isolation and confinement do this to a certain extent, and so does also the immediate destruction of every article that has once been used by a Small-Pox patient. But it is here where our principal difficulties lie; some people will not listen to reason, and are quite satisfied if their clothes are washed to wear them again. Others again are either too poor or too ignorant to be persuaded to part with their clothes. The result is that the clothing of all these people meets the clothing of others who are more careful in the house of the washerman, and are often put into the same boiler and the same washing tub. What follows next can be readily understood, i. e., the clothes of the careful and the clothes of the careless become equally impregnated with infectious matters if any still remain attached to them. But it is not the clothing only by which the contagion spreads. It is also promoted by overcrowding, uncleanliness, and defects of ventilation. In a poor man's house, perhaps, there occur two or three cases of Small-Pox. The house cannot be deserted; on the contrary it is crowded with inmates. But the sick will not go to Hospital, nor do their friends urge them to go. They have no fear, and so they handle these cases, sit down on their beds, and then go about their business in the bazar and other public places without washing their hands or changing their clothes. Such persons, though not always affected themselves, are yet walking transports of contagion, and their visits bring no blessings to those who have to receive them.

The same causes are in operation in an exaggerated degree in the various Cooly Depôts, and hence the great number of cases that come from those places.

It is almost impossible by any law or any amount of precaution to prevent the spread of Small-Pox in this manner. Time and enlightenment may do much; but the great remedy which none of these circumstances can touch is the practice of vaccination, which, if repeated once or twice, will more effectually check the disposition of the body to take the disease than any amount of prosperity, cleanliness, or ventilation.

I beg to submit here Tables IV, V., and VI. prepared at three different stages of the epidemic.

Table IV. gives a return of the admissions, deaths, recoveries, and remaining from the 23rd December 1864 to the 9th February 1865, respectively, of the European males and females, and the Native males and females.

IV.—Table.

Return of the Small-Pox Hospital from 23rd December 1864 to 9th February 1865.

Chilpore, 10th February 1865.

	Female ...	99	59	31	9	59·50
	Total ...	627	249	323	55	39·71

The first of these Returns extends over a period of seven weeks, and yields admissions 262, deaths 68, recoveries 85, and remaining in Hospital 109.

The second Return extends over eleven weeks, and yields admissions 484, deaths 180, recoveries 189, and remaining in Hospital 115.

The third Return extends over sixteen weeks, and yields admissions 627, deaths 249, recoveries 323, and remaining in Hospital 55.

So that while during the first seven weeks the admissions on an average were 5·3469 per diem, during the next four weeks they were as high as 7·9285, but falling again in the last five weeks to 4·0857 a day.

The death rate in the first period of seven weeks is 1·387 a day, in the next four weeks 4·14 a day, and in the last five weeks about two a day.

Table VII. exhibits the admissions and deaths during the whole sixteen weeks at different ages.

Under the age of 5 years there were 37 admissions and 11 deaths.

Tables VIII., IX., X. give the admissions and deaths of the unprotected and protected persons.

Table VIII. is for the first seven weeks. During this time there were 132 admissions of unprotected individuals, out of which 39 died; 7 admissions of the vaccinated too late, 4 twice vaccinated, 1 vaccinated and had also the Small-Pox before, 8 had only Small-Pox before; none of these classes died: 70 vaccinated once, out of whom 21 died; 40 inoculated, out of whom 8 died.

The admissions and deaths of Europeans and Natives are shewn in Tables IV., V., VI., VII., VIII., IX., X. and XI. of both sexes under the different headings under which admissions and deaths have been already considered.

I beg to draw attention now to the ratio of mortality.

The mortality to admissions per 100 was up to 9th February for Europeans, males 18·3486, females 20; and Natives, males 30·8, females 40; general mortality 25·95: up to 9th March for Europeans, males $25\frac{7}{13}$, females $21\frac{1}{10}$; and Natives, males $41\frac{4}{7}$, females $56\frac{1}{4}$: general mortality $37\frac{4}{5}$; up to 13th April, for Europeans, males 27·12, females 21·73; and Natives, males 42·27, females 59·50; general mortality 39·71.

Taking the deaths and recoveries up to 13th April they stood as 77·039 to 100. But taking the sum of deaths and recoveries up to the same date, the percentage of mortality is 43·53, while the mortality to admissions per 100, as I have already shewn, is 39·71.

The ratio of mortality at different ages is as follows:—Under five years 29·70 per cent., under ten years 23·33, under fifteen years 6, under twenty years 38, under thirty years 45·8, under forty years 44·9, under fifty years 40, under sixty years 33·2, above sixty years nil.

Up to 9th February the mortality for the unprotected was 29·54 per cent., for the vaccinated once 30 per cent, for the inoculated 20 per cent. Up to 9th March it changed for the unprotected to $53\frac{1}{3}$, for the vaccinated once to $25\frac{1}{2}$, for the inoculated to $27\frac{3}{11}$, and for the previously affected with Small-Pox to $7\frac{1}{2}$ per cent. and up to the last date, i. e., 13th April, it is for the unprotected 52·2 per cent., for the once vaccinated 29, for the inoculated 30·3, and for the previously affected with Small-Pox 7·14.

The mortality among the cases of variola discreta has been 2 per cent., variola mitigata 10·5 per cent., variola corymbosa 33·3 per cent., and variola confluens 44·144 per cent.

Table XII. shews the mortality for each day after admission, and that the so-called critical days are the 2nd, 3rd, 4th, 6th, 7th, 8th and 9th days, although death seems to occur on other days as well up to the 46th day after admission, or, say, of the disease. 26th, 28th, 30th, 31st, 32nd, and 34th to 44th, however, were blank days on which no deaths took place.

Table XIII. shews the average and the longest and shortest times of duration under different conditions. The average duration of the disease in the 627 cases before admission was 5·49 days, in the Hospital 13·50 days, in cases of death 3·3 days, in cases of recovery 26·50 days. The longest time in the Hospital for recovery has been ninety-two days and the shortest two days.

To make what I have to say as plain as possible I shall commence the description of the disease in the following order, i. e., 1*st* Incubation, 2*nd* Initiatory Fever, 3*rd* Eruption, 4*th* Development, 5*th* Maturation, and 6*th* Desiccation. After this I shall notice complications, convalescence, and sequelae.

Incubation.—During so universal an epidemic as that which is raging now in this country, one of the most unsatisfactory tasks that a Physician can impose on himself is to undertake the work of ascertaining the length of the stage of incubation of Small-Pox. Dr. Gregory has set it down in cases of infection at twelve days, and in those of inoculation at seven or eight days. But even he is not positive on this subject. My own opportunities of adding any information on this point have been very small. But so far as they go I have reason to agree with Dr. Gregory, as a general rule, in cases of infection. Sumatra, a Native woman about thirty years old, came into the Small-Pox Hospital with her little boy, who was three days ill with Small-Pox, on the 28th March. On the 6th April she was herself seized with a strong fever which continued for forty-eight hours, and then subsided on the occurrence of a papular eruption on her skin on the 8th. On the 16th April she was covered with well-formed pustules densely all over, each surrounded by a distinct red areola, and filled with a turbid light yellowish fluid. On the face and forehead the pustules were confluent and more advanced than on the body and limbs.

In this case it is presumable that the woman was infected by attendance on her boy, which gives for the incubative stage exactly twelve days. I know, however, of other cases in which the length of this stage is at least doubtful. One gentleman, who had been vaccinated and likewise had the Small-Pox three years before, was roused out of his sleep in the middle of the night by a most disgusting smell. The venetians had been open and glass-shutters unclosed. On enquiry he found that there was a Small-Pox corpse lying in a hut just under his window in the adjoining premises. In the morning he was seized with rigors ushering in a strong fever which lasted for forty-eight hours, and ended in a mild crop of Small-Pox pustules. Here apparently the stage of incubation hardly lasted for six hours, though it is probable the infection had entered into him before, as his wife, who slept in the same bed, neither felt the bad smell nor got the disease.

The initiatory fever in no case has been less than forty-eight hours, but in some, owing to modifying circumstances, it has lasted much longer as a week or ten days before the appearance of the eruption. It has been always marked by an aching of the head, and a severe pain in the middle of the back and at the pit of the stomach, and sometimes violent delerium.

The eruption has appeared differently in different cases. Sometimes it has come out like minute vesicles, which became gradually enlarged, filled with a transparent lymph, umbilicated in the centre, and at last occupied by a well matured pus. Sometimes it commenced as little red points, like mosquito bites, became then gradually larger, more prominent, vesicular in the middle of the inflamed spot, umbilicated in the centre, filled with a transparent lymph, and, at last, matter. Sometimes patches, like those of erysipelas, made their appearance; and on these groups of vesicles formed which went through the same changes as in the other cases. Very often it first appeared as papules, such as are seen in lichen, and then passed into the vesicular form, seldom into pustules. At other times it formed hard prominences, such as are caused by the common house bug, and then became inflamed, vesicular, filled first with lymph and then pus, passing in fact through the usual changes of the pustular form. With regard to the time occupied in the full development of the eruption, sometimes the full crop broke out in one night, at other times it took days before it was completed.

From the commencement of the eruption to the full maturation of the pustules, in favorable cases, there has usually elapsed a period of seven or eight days; but in many cases of low vitality the eruption never advanced beyond vesicles; whilst, in others again, it stopped short at papules or red points. Lastly, in a few cases, the febrile disturbance subsided after forty-eight hours without being followed by any eruption whatever, or by something extremely anomalous.

After the eighth day desiccation set in first on the face and forehead, and afterwards on the body and extremities. In the pustular variety this gave rise to scabs on the bursting of the pustules, which gradually fell off in a fortnight or three weeks. In the vesicular variety with depression of vital power, the vesicles burst without maturation, and from the denuded dermis there flowed a gummy discharge like that of impetigo, which, drying, formed a thin pellicle or crust on the surface that cracked and gave rise to an intolerable itching, only partially allayed by frequent ablution. The last variety offered almost always the worst specimens of confluent Small-Pox, and more frequently proved fatal than otherwise.

The complications observed were, firstly, extension of the eruption to the mucous surfaces of the nostrils, mouth, pharynx, larynx, and trachea; secondly, pulmonary congestion; thirdly, diarrhœa and cholera; fourthly, dysentery; fifthly, mental affections, attended with violent delirium; sixthly, disease of the nervous system, giving rise to a general and frequent shivering of the body. All these were of serious import, but not necessarily fatal, as several cases have recovered in spite of them. Convulsions sometimes occurred before the outbreak of the eruption, but never afterwards. Conjunctivitis was met with in about a dozen instances or more; violent inflammation of the penis and scrotum in two, out of which one recovered; and a buboo in one who is just recovered. The convalescence usually occupied a considerable time, as will be easily understood by a reference to the average time in the Hospital in cases of recovery, which, I have already stated, has been 26·50 days.

During the convalescence many patients have suffered from a number of sequelae. Troublesome ulcers, boils, abscesses, sloughing of the cornea, bowel-complaints, and secondary fever have been exceedingly common. In fact, all the deaths in the later stages of the disease have been caused by the two last classes of maladies. The sloughing of the cornea ended in loss of sight in one eye in three instances only; all the other sequelae were successfully managed, and the patients ultimately carried through and discharged cured. The pitting of the skin has been far less than I could have expected; this result I attribute to the free and early use of baths.

Under this head I have first to speak of the influence of vaccination and inoculation on the liability to Small-Pox.

As a general proposition it is now everywhere admitted that the liability to Small-Pox is lessened by both these operations, but it is not allowed that it is altogether annulled as was first supposed. People who have been vaccinated or inoculated are still liable to attacks of Small-Pox, though in a diminished degree. This diminution of the risk is greater from inoculation than vaccination, and the popular belief in this case is perfectly correct. This is borne out by Table X., which gives 160 persons as having got Small-Pox after previous vaccination, whereas only sixty-five persons were affected with the disease after previous inoculation. This result, obtained in a country where inoculation has been the rule and vaccination the exception, is a most significant fact. But while inoculation reduces the liability to Small-Pox, its influence on the mortality, when the disease occurs, is far less than that of vaccination. While no deaths took place after re-vaccination, and only 29 per cent. of the once vaccinated died, the percentage of deaths among the inoculated was 30 3, that of the entirely unprotected being 52·2. The operation of inoculation itself gives rise to variolous pustules which cannot be distinguished from those of the spontaneus disease; but vaccination causes a modified affection, vaccinia, not to be confounded with the Small-Pox, the eruption of which can be seen to progress side by side with the vaccine pustules. In the Chitpore Hospital I have had twenty-eight instances of this association up to 13th April. In the majority of these the Small-Pox shewed itself within three to five days after vaccination, in some still later, and in one case not till the expiration of the 12th day. I do not think, therefore, that the liability to Small-Pox is ever altogether destroyed by vaccination or inoculation. Cases have not been at all uncommon of the occurrence of Small-Pox within the first year of the vaccination, nay within a few months. But though the liability to the disease is not abolished, the liability to death in such cases is certainly vastly reduced. These remarks apply, however, only to epidemic years. In ordinary times it is not usual for the vaccinated or the inoculated to take the Small-Pox. The percentage of mortality from Small-Pox in non-epidemic years is by no means very large; but in epidemic years it becomes positively appalling. As observed this year in the Chitpore Hospital it has been 39·71 per cent. of the admissions, and 43·53 of the sum of the deaths and recoveries. In the temporary Small-Pox Hospital for Natives in Bow Bazar Street in the year 1857 the total number of patients admitted was 121, and deaths fifty-four, giving thus 44·628 deaths per 100 of the admissions, or of the sum of the deaths and recoveries.

In spite of the vast number of unprotected cases (354 out of 627) this year the ratio of mortality has been only 43·53. Dr. Gregory says the extremes of mortality he had seen in the Small-Pox Hospital, London, were 15 and 42 per cent., the latter chiefly in epidemic years. Now my mortality is not much different from this; and, considering the circumstances of the two countries, and that while vaccination is the rule in England, it is here the exception, it is wonderful that the difference is not much greater.

A striking fact presented by Tables IV., V., and VI. is the gradual increase of the percentage of mortality in proportion to the length of the epidemic. This is explained by the relative proportions of Europeans and Natives in the different stages of the epidemic, and also of males and females. In the earlier part of the time embraced by this Report the Europeans preponderated over the Natives, and there were very few females. In the later weeks the Natives were nearly twice as numerous as Europeans, and the proportion of Native females was also increased. Now, as the death-rate is higher among the Natives than among the Europeans, it follows that with the increase of the former there was an increase also of the death-rate; and with the increase of the Native females a still further increase as they died oftener than Native males.

Another interesting fact which I wish to record is that not one case of infection occurred among the large number of persons employed in the Hospital.

19.—Special Recommendations.

As this is the third time within a few years I have been honored with the charge of a temporary Small-Pox Hospital, I feel it to be a duty to offer some suggestions on this point. The great difficulty always felt whenever a Small-Pox Hospital is needed is in finding a suitable locality and a suitable house for it. Landlords are naturally unwilling to let their houses for such a purpose, because, being only temporarily required, they soon become tenantless as no one likes to live in a house which has once been used as a Small-Pox Hospital. Nor is it right in Government to resort to so questionable an expediency. Laws have been made to prohibit the practice of inoculation within the town, and to prevent Stable-Keepers from hiring out their vehicles for the use of Small-Pox cases. Why should not a stop also be put to the formation of Small-Pox Hospitals in houses set apart for private dwellings?

Then, again, could any dwelling-house, however large, have conveniently accommodated the vast number of patients we have had in the Chitpore Hospital this year? Where would be the advantages of an unlimited supply of water and pure air?

For these reasons I would submit the expediency of forming a permanent Small-Pox Hospital. Besides, the cost of a temporary one is very great, for the furniture, charpoys, cots &c., have all to be got new and destroyed each time; and the inconvenience of erecting hasty accommodation is troublesome as well as expensive. I think there was good judgment in selecting the present site at Chitpore as proved by the issue, and I would recommend that this place with all its buildings and present establishment, with such alterations and additions as may be found necessary, be permanently retained.

This would avoid all the worry and anxiety heretofore experienced on the approach of an epidemic, and really save Government money. Such a Hospital could also be employed during cholera epidemics, when Small-Pox is not prevailing, for the reception of cholera cases which now dangerously overcrowd the other Hospitals in the town.

20.—Conclusion.

In conclusion I beg to apologize for the great delay in submitting this Report, and to hope that its many imperfections will be kindly overlooked. I am only sorry that it is necessarily incomplete, as the epidemic is not yet over; but I trust the matters I have brought forward will nevertheless find some permanent record.

APPENDIX.

I BEG to insert in the Appendix the return for the week ending on the 20th April, shewing three admissions from the Ship Eagle Speed lying at Port Canning. The disease seems to be spreading in that direction, for I have had other cases since then.

Services of the Police Levy under Major Pughe.

From LIEUTENANT-COLONEL J. C. HAUGHTON, Political Agent and Chief Civil Officer, Bootan Dooar Field Force, to the Secretary to the Government of Bengal,—(No. 690, dated Julpigoree, the 16th May 1865.)

THE Police Levy under the Command of Major Pughe being now, I believe, about to be broken up, I beg to place upon record my very high sense of the services rendered by that Force.

2. The Police entered the Field simultaneously with the Dooar Field Force and a small detachment from it occupied the Booteah Posts at Gopalgunge and Domohony before the arrival of the Troops at those places.

3. Throughout the campaign, in addition to the duties properly belonging to them, they have shared all the dangers and fatigues of the Regular Troops.

4. What a small body of Bengal Police under Captain Macdonald did on the occasion of the first capture of Dewangiri ; how they, in fact, actually captured the place prior to the appearance of the Troops is a matter of history, and has been, I believe, fully reported to the Government by Mr. Metcalfe while under my orders; the subsequent services of the Police in Assam will have been brought to notice by the Governor General's Agent.

5. The Frontier Post at Sipchoo was made over by the Military Authorities and held by the Police under Captain Gordon till, by order of Brigadier-General Dunsford, it was evacuated and the stockade destroyed.

6. The Police, shortly after its capture, occupied Chamoorchee, which Post they have held continually and hold to this hour. Shortly after our acquiring the place a Constable greatly distinguished himself. He was attacked by three Booteahs while on sentry at night and mortally wounded, but he resisted the enemy successfully, drove them off, and held his post till duly relieved by the picket which came to his aid.

7. When the Booteahs appeared in force upon the Frontier the Police at Chamoorchee, now under the Command of Major Pughe, behaved in a manner worthy of the highest praise. Aided by a portion of the 30th Native Infantry and guns under Captain Huxham, they went forth and drove the enemy from a very strong position they had taken up in front of Chamoorchee, and Major Pughe infused so much spirit into his men, and exerted himself so zealously in rendering his position defensible, that I never had the least anxiety regarding its safety. The Officers and men with scarce any external aid stockaded the position, so that had the enemy attacked it their defeat was certain. In this the Police set an example well worthy of imitation by the Regular Troops.

8. Subsequently the enemy having taken up and fortified for themselves a position in front of Chamoorchee, the Police joined the Force under Brigadier-General Tytler in putting them to flight.

9. Throughout the campaign the Police have furnished escorts for provisions proceeding to the front, and have performed numerous duties heretofore discharged by the Troops for themselves.

10. Major Pughe and the Officers and men of the Police Levy have rendered services which I trust may be honorably remembered by the Government.

From S. C. BAYLEY, ESQ., Junior Secretary to the Government of Bengal, to the Inspector-General of Police, Lower Provinces,—(No. 3800, dated the 2nd June 1865.)

I AM directed to forward to you the accompanying copy of a letter, No. 690, dated the 16th ultimo, from the Political Agent and Chief Civil Officer, Bootan Dooar Field Force, and to request that you will be so good as to convey to Major Pughe and to the Officers and men under his command the cordial thanks of Government for the excellent manner in which they have performed the duties entrusted to them in the Dooars.

2. I am to add that the thanks of Government have already been conveyed to Captain Macdonald and the men under his command.

First Quarterly Inspection Report of the Eastern Bengal Railway.

Report of the Inspection of Eastern Bengal Railway, for the first Quarter of 1865, by LIEUTENANT C. H. LUARD, R. E., Officiating Deputy Consulting Engineer to Government of Bengal, Railway Department.

I LEFT Sealdah on the 10th of April by the 7-40 A. M. Train, which reached Kooshtee exactly at 12-45, the appointed hour, and I examined each Station, in all eighteen, at which the train stopped. My report is submitted under the prescribed heads.

I.

The line is in very good order generally, but one part for a short distance near Parodah was noticeably rough, which is explained by the embankment having given some trouble by slipping. The fencing is in good order and so are the Station buildings generally. The goods sheds at Ramnuggur, Chogdah, &c., the roofs of which were removed by the Cyclone, are approaching completion.

II.

The fuel used on the line is the East Indian Coal Company's coal, the quality of which is fair and the supply ample. There is no difficulty with regard to the supply of water.

III.

At Sealdah the public accommodation is ample, but it would be convenient if seats were provided. At present there are none. Benches with backs would cost little and would answer every purpose. The sanitary arrangements here are certainly not good. There are two water-closets and four urinals. These are offensive, and the water-closets were, when I inspected them, in the most filthy state. The water, I am told, will not flow. It might, I should think, be easily made to flow; but if there is any serious difficulty about this, there is no excuse for neglecting to keep the place clean. If water-closets do not answer, commodes should be substituted; there should be at least four times as many commodes as there are at present water-closets. Separate provision should also be made for the Railway employés, and from the offensive smell of even the cleanest latrines on this line, I think they should never be absolutely on the platform but a little to the rear of it and connected by a covered way. It should also be strictly enforced that sweepers, after the departure of each train, visit and clean the necessaries, and that these are used only for the purpose for which they are constructed, and are not made receptacles for grease buckets, &c., as at Sealdah.

With the exception of the fourth class Stations of Dum-Dum, Sodepoor, &c., which consist simply of Ticket houses, all the intermediate Stations are on the same pattern: the accommodation for Europeans is ample generally, but there is an absence of seats. At Buggoolah, the Station for Kishnagur, a Dâk Bungalow is building by order of the Commissioner. The latrines consist of five urinals and two commodes, and these, as the number of European travellers is small, are little used and are consequently in fair order. They are indecently open to the public. Folding doors, unless shutting by means of a counterpoise, are not efficient screens, (in one instance there were no doors,) and the interior arrangements are deficient both in size and privacy; the present number of European travellers is so small that this last objection is of less importance than it might be. No separate provision is made for the Natives, which should be the case at least at one of the Stations, where the trains stop to water.

There are notice boards at all the Stations, but these in many instances, instead of being fixed in their proper places above the doors of the rooms, are leaning against the wall. This is also the case with some of the boards on which the names of the Stations are painted, and in no instance are these announcements made in the vernacular, which they certainly ought to be. Vernacular time-tables should also be suspended outside the Station and on the platforms, and the information given regarding fares should be full and distinct. Without such tables there are great facilities for charging higher fares than those fixed by the Railway Company. At Kooshtee the ordinary waiting accommodation is not sufficient, and here, as elsewhere, benches are required. The latrines though apparently clean are very offensive. At a large Station like this, where passengers are frequently detained, and where there are commodes and not water-closets, the latrines should undoubtedly be detached.

The general arrangements, indeed, for European passengers who by any misfortune happen to be detained at Kooshtee are very bad and inconvenient. Three small rooms without punkahs, which should be either ladies' or gentlemen's waiting rooms, and even then would be small, have been made over by the Railway Company to the Managers of the Great Eastern Hotel, who have done as little as possible to make them decently comfortable.

The Great Eastern Hotel also provides food, which is worse than that furnished at a Dâk Bungalow and is charged for at a much higher rate. This food may be eaten either in his bedroom, if the passenger is fortunate enough to secure one, or in a large hall, half of which is boarded off for the ticket clerks and half used as a refreshment room. In this there are no punkahs, and there is no cleanliness; and as the room is the only passage from the platform to the Station entrance, and is also apparently resorted to as a liquor bar by all classes, it is quite public and entirely unfit for ladies. From enquiries which I have made, I find that the receipts of the Great Eastern Hotel Company do little more than cover their expenditure, and that, therefore, there is no hope of an Hotel being erected by private enterprise. I have accordingly conferred with the Commissioner of Nuddea, who has agreed to recommend that a Dâk Bungalow be constructed at Kooshtee by Government, and the catering of this Bungalow might, if thought desirable, be managed by private agency, Government entertaining merely bearers, bheesties, &c.

IV.

The discipline of the Station and Train Establishments is good. The Guards and Policemen wear uniforms. A very good arrangement obtains on this line. In addition to the English Guards two Native Guards, whose duty it is to look after the Native passengers, travel by each passenger train, and they are found to be very efficient in checking the unnecessary crowding of carriages. I counted the passengers in several carriages and the general number was between 40 and 50. The greatest number I saw in any carriage was 53. The passengers were by no means crowded, and the proof of this is that the greater number were lying down. From what I saw I should say that carriages without seats are the most convenient and the most comfortable for Natives. If seats are added, passengers will not be able to lie down, and in sitting down after their own fashion seats are not more comfortable for them than a floor.

V.

Specific complaints there are none.

VI.

The late trains Return for this quarter has not yet been received, so that the information on this point cannot, I regret to say, be furnished with this report.

VII.

The condition of the rolling-stock is now under the consideration of Government, and a large addition is contemplated, as what exists is quite insufficient for the traffic. The new wagons will, by a small increase to their internal dimensions, be capable of carrying twice as much jute, (one of the principal articles of traffic,) as the old wagons, which being built on the English pattern, without any referrence to the size and shape of the bundles in which jute is packed, are very bad economizers of space. Of eight lines of rails in the Station, all of which ought to be devoted to passenger traffic, it has been found necessary to give up six entirely to goods; there is, in consequence, only one platform for both the arrival and departure of passengers, and spare carriages, which ought to be under cover, are compelled to be left out in the open. An extension of the goods sheds, which has been recommended to the Government of India for sanction, will remove these difficulties. The necessity of these extensions affords ground for a very hopeful view of the prospects of this line, and the more so as the difficulties arise, not from any temporary or spasmodic cause, but from the legitimate development of the Eastern Bengal trade.

VIII.

The maximum detention of goods at Kooshtee appears to be about 40 hours, and at Sealdah about the same time. At the intermediate Stations the traffic, which is chiefly of sugar, is very small, and there is no detention. Indeed, nearly all the traffic is through from Kooshtee to Calcutta, which makes the working of it exceedingly convenient.

IX.

The chief articles of traffic are jute, either in drums or gunny-bags, and grain. The amount of goods arriving at Kooshtee daily varies from 1,500 to 2,000 maunds.

X.

There was only one accident on the Eastern Bengal Railway during the quarter. A drunken Private of the East Indian Regiment was resting on the side of the rails and was killed by the blow of a passing Engine.

From F. Prestage, Esq., Agent, Eastern Bengal Railway Company, to Consulting Engineer to Government of Bengal, Railway Department,—(No. 1067, dated the 17th May 1865.

I have the honor to acknowledge receipt of letter No. 653G., dated 13th instant, forwarding copies of Report of the Inspection of the Eastern Bengal Railway by the Officiating Deputy Consulting Engineer, and to request that you will make it known to the Hon'ble Lieutenant Governor that his requests with reference to the sanitary condition of the latrines on this Railway have already been complied with.

From observations that I have repeatedly made, and from the fact of the late Sanitary Commission and other Government Officers when inspecting the line not having complained, I have every reason to hope the Officiating Deputy Consulting Engineer inspected the latrines under exceptional circumstances.

I quite concur in all the Officiating Deputy Consulting Engineer says against such places being situated on the platforms, for no amount of cleanliness and care will prevent their being offensive in this climate, and arrangements will be made to remove them as soon as possible; but I cannot help observing that the Government Officers should share the blame for their being placed in such a position, as they had much more experience of the effect of such places in this climate than the Company's Engineers.

With regard to the concluding portion of paragraph 3, it was resolved when the Sanitary Commission inspected the line that a latrine for Natives should be built at Buggoolah, and the work is in hand.

The suggestion of the Officiating Deputy Consulting Engineer that the names of the Stations should be painted in the vernacular has been anticipated, the notice boards at Stations should most certainly have been re-fixed since the cyclone, but some allowance must be made, as the Engineering Department experienced difficulty in getting sufficient workmen for more necessary works.

I admit, the arrangements of the Great Eastern Hotel Company are by no means so perfect as I could wish, but they are as perfect as an experimental Hotel in a building not adapted to the purpose can be expected to be.

I shall be glad to hear that the Government determine to build a Dâk Bungalow at Kooshtea as suggested by the Officiating Deputy Consulting Engineer, for there can be no doubt the accommodation is required, and it is more within the province of the Government than the Railway Company to provide it.

I cannot but think the Officiating Deputy Consulting Engineer expected more comfort and luxury at Kooshtea than most other travellers, and more than the Great Eastern Hotel Company can afford to provide for casual passengers, for this Branch Hotel has now been open upwards of two years, and I have only received one complaint, and that was that it closed too early in the evening.

The Officiating Deputy Consulting Engineer is very far out in his estimate of the quantity of goods that daily arrive at Kooshtea; it varies from nil to 15,000 maunds, and during the past three months has averaged 4,898 maunds per diem.

First Quarterly Inspection Report of the Calcutta and South-Eastern Railway.

Report of the Inspection of the C. and S. E. Railway for the first Quarter of 1865, by LIEUT. C. H. LUARD, R. E., Officating Deputy Consulting Engineer to Government of Bengal, Railway Department.

I MADE the inspection of this line on the 2nd of May. The report is submitted under the prescribed heads.

I.

The maintenance of the line and the general condition of the road, fencing, and Station buildings is good. At all the Stations, with the exception apparently of Goredoh, there are boards with the name of the place in Roman, Bengalee, and Persian characters. Time-tables, as a rule, are placed in a conspicuous place in each Station, but the information is only in English. It should also be given in the vernacular, as the passengers are almost entirely Natives.

II.

The quality of the fuel is fair, and the supply of water sufficient.

III.

The Station at Sealdah is temporary, and as such its arrangements are fairly good. Benches with backs placed upon the platform would be a convenience. At the intermediate Station there is no accommodation, none being necessary. At Canning seats are required. Special attention by means of a signboard is drawn to a ladies' waiting room at this Station. This has none of the comforts or conveniences which it should have, and although the Canning Station is temporary, and the place is not largely visited by ladies, yet as the Railway Authorities think a ladies' waiting room necessary, they should make it more comfortable than it is. The latrines at this Station though tolerably clean are not good. The goods shed which has lately been finished has as yet no doors, and the goods are consequently liable to be stolen.

IV.

The discipline of the Station and establishments appears good. It would be better if the Guards were provided with uniform, so as to be at once distinguished by passengers.

V.

There are no specific complaints.

VI

The general working of the line has been good, the average want of punctuality of a train during the quarter being less than 3 minutes.

VII.

The condition of the rolling-stock and its fitness and sufficiency for carrying the traffic has been fully brought to the notice of Government by the Consulting Engineer so recently, that reference to it here is unnecessary.

VIII.

At Canning goods have, for want of sufficient stock, been detained two days, which is the maximum.

IX.

The traffic is, it may be said, entirely through. The monthly average from Canning has been about 4,800 maunds, and to Canning about 30,000 maunds. This last being almost entirely rice for shipment, whilst the up-traffic to Calcutta was of a varied character consisting of rice, hay, jute, &c.

X.

There have been no accidents during the quarter.

First Quarterly Inspection Report of the Nulhatee and Azimgunge Line, Indian Branch Railway Co.

Inspection Report of the Indian Branch Railway Line from Nulhatee to Azimgunge by MAJOR J. HOVENDEN, R. E. for the first quarter of 1865,—(dated Calcutta, the 6th May 1865).

I INSPECTED the line between Nulhatee and Azimgunge on the 7th April 1865 and submit my report under the usual heads.

(1.) State of the line and fencing.—The line and permanent way are in excellent order. The Company are bound by their agreement to keep up the cart road which runs alongside their line. This requires looking to, for nothing appears to have been done towards dressing the surface of this road since I formally made it over to the Company in the month of August 1864.

A good deal of work has been done in fencing the line since I made it over, but without much real benefit to the public. It was pointed out clearly to the Company that it was considered necessary that the fence on the north side of the line should be put up at once, so as to separate the line of Railway from the cart road. The wishes of Government have not been attended to in the least; the fencing on the south side of the line, where it is comparatively useless, has been completed in a fairly efficient manner, while that on the north side has not been touched. The Resident Engineer informed me that he had the whole of the materials for this fence ready, and that he only required the order of the Agent to commence putting it up. The completion of this fence should be insisted on before any portion of the sum paid at the Custom House as duty on Railway materials imported by the Company is refunded to them, or before any portion of their subsidy is paid.

(2.) Supply of fuel and water.—Owing to the peculiar construction of the engines on the line nothing but English coal can be used. There is no difficulty in obtaining this at Nulhatee. The supply of water is abundant.

(3.) State of the Stations.—There is no Station at Nulhatee and passengers make use of the East Indian Railway Station. The Stations at Bokra and Azimgunge are mere corrugated iron sheds for goods, with small offices for the telegraph and ticket clerks partitioned off in the corners.

(4.) Discipline of Station and Train Establishments.—These are very small, but their duties appear to be carried on quietly and satisfactorily. The Guard is in uniform.

(5.) Specific complaints.—I have received no specific complaint.

(6.) Punctual working of Trains.—The distance run is small and the trains are punctual.

(7.) Condition of the rolling-stock.—The passenger carriages are of great length and open throughout their length, somewhat like the American cars. They are not uncomfortable, but are deficient in roof ventilation. Each carriage runs on six wheels. They are somewhat flimsy in construction, but appear to answer very well for a low rate of speed.

The goods wagons are of various patterns, having been constructed at various times as experiments with a view of ascertaining how the requisite strength and capacity could be obtained with the smallest amount of dead weight and at the least cost. There is a corrugated iron wagon on six wheels which appears to be very good.

(8.) Maximum detention of goods at the principal Stations.—I am given to understand that goods are never detained beyond a few hours.

(9.) Amount of goods carried, shewing chief staples.—I regret to state that I have no information whatever as to the quantity or nature of the goods carried on this line.

(10.) Accidents.—No accident has occurred on the Nulhatee and Azimgunge line during the quarter.

LEGISLATIVE.

Simla, the 20th May 1865.

THE following Bill and Statement of Objects and Reasons accompanying it are published for general information by order of His Excellency the Governor General under the 19th of the Rules for the conduct of Business at Meetings of the Council of the Governor General of India for the purpose of making Laws and Regulations :—

Bill to provide for the appropriation of Land required for private Water-courses from Canals.

WHEREAS it is necessary to provide for the appropriation of land required for water-courses to be carried through estates situated between a Government canal or any branch thereof, and the lands of any person or persons desiring to be supplied with water, it is hereby enacted :—

I. Whenever a proprietor or body of proprietors desire to bring water to their lands for the purpose of irrigation by means of a channel from a Government canal or branch of a Government canal through any intervening estate or estates, they shall make application accordingly to the Superintendent or Chief Canal Officer of the District within which their lands are situated.

II. On receipt of such application, the Canal Officer aforesaid shall proceed to make local inquiry into the necessity of the channel for the purpose stated, and if satisfied that it is necessary, he shall proceed under the following Rules.

III. It shall be competent to the local Government, whenever it may see fit, to occupy the land required for such channel at the public expense, to proceed under Section 2, Act VI., 1857; and thereupon the provisions of Act VI., 1857, shall be applicable to the case.

IV. Where the land may not be occupied at the public expense, the Canal Officer aforesaid shall record a declaration to the effect that the channel in question is necessary for the irrigation of the lands of the applicants, and that to the best of his belief the line proposed involves no unnecessary injury to other interests. The direction and size of the channel, with specification of the width of the land required, and the masonry works (if any) to be constructed on it, shall be sufficiently indicated in the body of the declaration. A copy of the declaration shall be forwarded to the Collector of the District, and the Collector shall furnish the Lumburdar of the lands through which the channel is to pass with a copy. The land shall not be occupied either by the applicant or by any Government Officer until the expiration of one month from the receipt of such copy by the Lumburdar.

V. At the expiration of the period specified in the previous Section, it shall be competent to the Canal Officer to mark off or cause to be marked off the limits of the land to be appropriated for the proposed channel. If the parties agree among themselves on the terms of compensation, and present to the Canal Officer or other Officers authorized by him a duly attested affirmation to that effect, possession of the land may be at once given to the applicants.

VI. In the event of the parties failing to come to a settlement of the terms of compensation before the Canal Officer, he shall forward the papers of the case to the Collector, who shall proceed to adjust the compensation due to the owner of the land marked off, and to give possession of the same under the procedure and with the powers provided in the Act VI. of 1857, Sections 4 and following.

VII. It shall be competent to the local Government to lay down rules upon the following subjects, which rules, when duly sanctioned by the Governor General in Council, shall be published in the local Gazette, and shall be held to be part of this Act, provided that nothing in such rules shall be inconsistent with the provisions of this Act :—

The rules may contain instructions on the following subjects, viz. :—

1*st.*—If the land be bought absolutely, the terms on which the original proprietors may regain possession of the same in case the channel be discontinued.

2*nd.*—If the land be rented, the manner in which the rent is to be defrayed and the Government demand on the land discharged. Also the terms on which the land may be restored to the proprietors if the channel be discontinued.

3*rd.*—The manner in which the rights of farmers and other temporary holders of the estate to which the channel belongs, in such channel, shall be adjusted.

4*th.*—The manner in which joint rights in a channel may be adjusted, and the manner in which such rights may be acquired or extinguished.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

The existing law (Act No. VI. of 1857) contains provisions for the appropriation of land for public purposes, and under this law land is taken up for Canals and Rajbuhas (channels of distribution.) It has been doubted, however, whether the law would apply to the case of one or more individuals claiming to run a water-course to their fields through the lands of an intervening estate. When the land for such a channel is rented, or purchased, not at the expense of Government, but at the expense of the party benefitting by the channel, the above law clearly would not be applicable.

In such cases, likewise, it is important that the Government should control the proceedings so as to restrict the appropriation of the land within the narrowest limits possible. For although the applicant may have the right to claim waterway through his neighbour's estate, he is bound to exercise the right without inflicting any avoidable inconvenience or injury.

The Bill now published aims at accomplishing this object. No appropriation of land will be permitted under the authority of this enactment until a competent Canal Officer shall have declared the channel to be necessary, and certified that, to the best of his belief, it involves no avoidable injury to other interests. Upon this declaration authority is given to proceed in the same manner, and under the same checks, as if the land had been required for a public purpose.

The Bill also authorizes the local Government, with the sanction of the Governor General in Council, to make rules for the disposal of certain classes of claims likely to grow out of appropriations of land under this Bill, such as the title of the original proprietor to re-enter in case the channel be discontinued, the liability for the Rent and Land Revenue of the land occupied, &c. Many of these questions are new, and the course to be pursued must in some measure be tentative. It would be difficult to anticipate and provide in this Bill for the various contingencies that may arise, and it has been thought better, for the present at least, to leave the rules and principles for dealing with such claims to be laid down by the Executive Government from time to time as may be found expedient.

The necessity for the proposed enactment has arisen in the North-Western Provinces; but the measure will probably be found equally applicable to the Punjab and other parts of the country where there are Government Canals.

The Bill has been approved by the Hon'ble the Lieutenant-Governor, North-Western Provinces.

LEGISLATIVE DEPARTMENT.

THE following Act of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal in Council received the assent of His Honor on the 10th May 1865, and having been assented to by His Excellency the Governor General on the 27th May 1865, is hereby promulgated for general information :—

ACT No. VIII OF 1865.

An Act to amend the Law for the sale of such Under-tenures as by the Title Deeds or established usage of the country are transferable by sale or otherwise for the recovery of arrears of rent due in respect thereof.

Preamble.

WHEREAS doubts have arisen, in consequence of the repeal of Section XVI of Regulation VII of 1832, as to the authority by whom Putnee Talooks and other saleable Under-tenures of the nature defined in Clause 1 of Section VIII of Regulation VIII of 1819 are to be sold for arrears of rent due to the proprietor on account thereof; and whereas it is expedient to amend the Law for the sale of Under-tenures in satisfaction of decrees for the recovery of such arrears ; It is enacted as follows: —

Meaning of the word "Collector."

I. The word "Collector" as used in this Act includes all Officers exercising the full powers of a Collector of a District.

Words used in the singular number include the plural.

Laws repealed.

II. Section XVI of Regulation VIII of 1819 of the Bengal Code, Act VIII of 1835, and Section X of Act VI of 1853, are repealed, except in so far as any other Regulation or Law is repealed thereby.

Sale by whom to be conducted.

III. The sale for the recovery of arrears of rent of Putnee Talooks and other saleable Under-tenures of the nature defined in Clause 1 of Section VIII of Regulation VIII of 1819 shall be conducted by the Collector of Land Revenue in whose jurisdiction, as defined by Act VI of 1853, the lands lie, and all acts preparatory to, or connected with, the sale of such Under-tenures as aforesaid, which, by Regulations VIII of 1819 and I of 1820, the Judge is required to perform, shall be performed by the said Collector.

Notice of Sale where to be hung up.

IV. Whenever a decree for an arrear of rent due in respect of an Under-tenure saleable under Section CV of Act X of 1859 shall have been obtained, and an application for the sale of the said Under-tenure under the same Section shall have been made and allowed, the Collector, in whose Court the decree is in course of execution, shall thereupon cause to be hung up in his own Court, and in that of the Collector and the Judge of the District within which the land comprised in the Under-tenure to be sold is situated, and to be affixed on some conspicuous place on the land and in the town or village in or nearest to which the said land is situated, a notice for the sale of the said Under-tenure on some fixed date not less than twenty days from the hanging up of the said notice in the Court in which the decree is in course of execution.

Notice of Sale what to contain.

V. The said notice shall specify, in the words used in the plaint in the suit in which the decree was made, the name of the village, estate, and pergunnah or other local division in which the land comprised in the said Under-tenure is situated, the yearly rent payable under the said Under-tenure, and the gross amount recoverable under the said decree.

How the sale may be stopped

VI. If the sum due under the decree, together with interest to date of payment and all costs of process, be paid into Court at any time before the sale commences, whether by the defaulting holder of the Under-tenure, or any one on his behalf, or any one interested in the protection of the Under-tenure, such sale shall not take place; and the provisions of Section XIII of Regulation VIII of 1819, for the recovery of sums paid by other than the defaulting holder of the Under-tenure to stay the sale of the Under-tenure, shall be applicable to all similar payments made under this Section.

Sale to be to the highest bidder.

VII. The Under-tenure shall be sold to the highest bidder in open Court.

Purchaser to deposit 25 per cent.

VIII. The party who shall be declared to be the purchaser shall be required to deposit immediately, in cash or Government Currency Notes, twenty-five per cent. of the amount of his bid; and, in default of such deposit, the Under-tenure shall be put up again and sold forthwith, or on the next ensuing office day.

Deposit to be forfeited if balance of purchase money be not paid up in time.

IX. The full amount of the purchase money shall be made good by the purchaser before sunset of the eighth day from that on which the sale of the Under-tenure took place, reckoning that day as one of the eight; or, if the eighth day be a Sunday or other close holiday, then on the first office day after the eighth day: and, in default of payment within the prescribed period as aforesaid, the deposit shall be forfeited to the Government and the Under-tenure shall be re-sold, and the defaulting purchaser shall forfeit all claims thereto or to any part of the sum for which the said Under-tenure may be subsequently sold. If the proceeds of the sale, which may be eventually completed, be less than the price bid by the defaulting purchaser, the difference shall be leviable from him under the law for enforcing the payment of money in satisfaction of a decree for arrears of rent.

Provisions as to sales to apply to all re-sales

X. The provisions of all the Sections of this Act with regard to sales shall also be applicable to all re-sales under this Act which may be rendered necessary by the default of any purchaser.

Certificate and possession to be given to purchaser on payment by him in full.

XI. When the purchase money shall have been paid in full, the Officer holding the sale shall give the purchaser a Certificate in the form prescribed in the Schedule annexed to this Act, and shall further, on the purchaser making application and depositing the requisite costs, depute an Officer or Ameen to put him in possession of the Under-tenure in the customary manner, and to publish the fact of the purchase to the cultivators of the lands comprised therein.

Proceeds of sale how to be dealt with.

XII. From the proceeds of the sale of the Under-tenure, the Officer holding such sale shall re-pay to the judgment-creditor the necessary expenses incurred by him in procuring it; and, after satisfying the decree in execution of which the sale was made, shall hold the residue, if any, in deposit on account of the defaulting holder of the Under-tenure.

XIII. An appeal shall lie to the Collector from any proceedings of a Deputy or Assistant Collector if made within fifteen days; and to the Commissioner from any original proceedings of a Collector, under this Act, if made within thirty days from the date of the sale: but no proceedings under this Act shall be reversed or modified in appeal, except upon the ground of irrelevancy of the law, or of such an irregularity in procedure as, in the opinion of the Appellate authority, has caused injury to the interests of one of the parties to the suit in which the decree was passed.

Appeal.

XIV. No appeal as of right shall lie from any order passed in appeal under this Act; but a Commissioner, in any case in which an appeal has been heard by a Collector, and the Board of Revenue in any case in which an appeal has been heard by the Commissioner, may call for the record at any time within three months from the date of the order passed in appeal, and pass thereon such orders as they may think proper.

Power of Revision.

XV. If any sale of an Under-tenure shall, under either of the two preceding Sections, be set aside, the purchaser shall be entitled to receive back the purchase money, with or without interest, and in such manner as the Appellate or revising authority may in each instance direct. Any order for the recovery of the purchase money or interest, passed by such Appellate or revising authority as aforesaid, may be enforced by the process in force under decrees for the recovery of arrears of rent.

Purchaser to recover purchase money in such manner as Appellate or revising authority may direct, if sale be set aside.

XVI. The purchaser of an Under-tenure sold under this Act shall acquire it free of all incumbrances which may have accrued thereon by any act of any holder of the said Under-tenure, his representatives, or assignees, unless the right of making such incumbrances shall have been expressly vested in the holder by the written engagements under which the Under-tenure was created, or by the subsequent written authority of the person who created it, his representatives, or assignees. Provided that nothing herein contained shall be held to entitle the purchaser to eject Khoodkasht ryots or resident and hereditary cultivators, nor to cancel bonâ-fide engagements made with such class of ryots or cultivators aforesaid by the late incumbent of the Under-tenure or his representatives, except it be proved, in a regular suit to be brought by such purchaser for the adjustment of his rent, that a higher rent would have been demandable at the time such engagements were contracted by his predecessor. Nothing in this Section shall be held to apply to the purchase of a tenure by the previous holder thereof through whose default the tenure was brought to sale.

Purchaser to acquire the Under-tenure, with certain exceptions, free of incumbrances.

XVII. The purchaser of an Under-tenure sold under this Act shall apply to the Zemindar or other landholder, within fifteen days from the day of sale, to have his name registered in the Zemindar or other landholder's books as the purchaser, and shall execute a kubooleut on the same terms and conditions on which the Under-tenure was held by the defaulter; and, if such application be not made within fifteen days, it shall be lawful for the Zemindar or other landholder to sue the said purchaser under the provisions of Clause 1 of Section XXIII of Act X of 1859.

Zemindar how to proceed if purchaser do not register.

XVIII. The provisions of Section III shall be applicable to all sales held under Regulation VIII of 1819 previously to the passing of this Act; and no suit shall lie in respect of such sales on the plea of want of jurisdiction of the Officer by whom they were conducted.

Indemnity.

Schedule referred to in Section XI.

I certify that A. B. has purchased, under Act VIII of 1865, the Under-tenure (as specified in the Notice of sale), and that his purchase took effect on the day of (being the day after that fixed for the last day of payment.)

No. 1002.—Simla, the 31st May 1865.—Mr. J. B. Worgan, Bengal Civil Service, has reported his departure from India per Steam-ship Erymanthe, which Vessel was left by the Pilot at Sea on the 5th instant.

The following Orders issued by the Government of India in the Military Department are re-published for information:—

No. 524 of 1865.—Dated Simla, the 25th May 1865.—The undermentioned Officer is permitted to proceed to Europe, on leave of absence, on sick certificate:—

Major James Emerson, of the Bengal Staff Corps, Cantonment Magistrate, Dinapore	For twenty months.

No. 533 of 1865.—The 26th May 1865.—His Excellency the Governor General in Council is pleased to confirm the nomination of the Hon'ble the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal as Honorary Colonel of the Corps of Behar Mounted Rifles.

NOTIFICATION.—The 9th June 1865.—In correction of the Notification dated the 19th October, published in the Calcutta Gazette of the 2nd November last, it is hereby notified that the Suburbs of the Towns of Gya and Sahebgunge, within which the provisions of Act III. of 1864 of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal in Council have been brought into operation, consist of the villages named on the margin, and the boundaries of the said Towns and Villages, for the purposes of the Act, are declared to be as follows:—

Ghooghreetuar, Lukhunpoora, Selimpore, Feonee Jugunge, Pehanee, Manpore, and Ahcantpore.

The boundaries of the Towns of Gya and Sahebgunge, and the Suburbs on the west of the River Phalgoo, viz., Ghooghreetuar and Lukhunpoora, are,—On the South the Bukshoo Beegah, a hamlet of the Village Kendoea, (No. 46 on the list of Pergunnah Perbeah,) extending from the River Phalgoo to the Nullah Munsuwa; thence the Bodh Gya Road skirting the Bramjowan Hills; thence the Bramjowan Hills to the south-west corner of the compound of the Police Lines. On the West the road from the south-west corner of the compound of the Police Lines to the eastern corner of the Village of Rampore; thence the road along the western side of the compound of Mr Hollings' house to the swimming bath and thence to the Village of Dhalba Khoord including that village, thence an imaginary line drawn from the most westerly house of the Village of Dhalba Khoord on the Tikaree Road to the north-western corner of the Moorlay Hill; and thence another imaginary line from this last mentioned point to the Temple of Baggessury Than at the foot of the Ramsilla Hill. On the north the road from this last-mentioned point, which skirts at first south and then east of the Ramsilla Hill, to its junction with the Patna Branch Road at the Palhasburthan Temple. On the East the River Phalgoo.

The boundaries of the Suburbs on the eastern side of the River Phalgoo, viz., the Villages of Pehanee, Boonneadgunge, Mangore, and Aheentpore shall be the same as those set forth in the Revenue Surveyor, Captain H V. Stephen's Map, No. 512 of the Pergunnah Sonouth; and of the Village of Selimpore as set forth in the Map prepared by the same Officer, No 121 of the Pergunnah Mubair.

NOTIFICATION.

The 10th June 1865.

Under the provisions of Act IV. (B. C.) of 1864 of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal in Council, His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor sanctions the undermentioned alterations in the limits of Zillahs Sarun Chumparun, Tirhoot, Shahabad, Behar, and Patna, and declares the following to be the boundaries of the Zillahs of Sarun Chumparun, Tirhoot, Shahabad, Behar, and Patna as regards their Civil, Criminal, and Revenue jurisdictions.

The common boundary between the Zillahs of Sarun and Tirhoot shall be, starting from the Village of Doofeea on the North, a line passing down the Lall Bakeya Nuddee, and then following generally the course of the Bagmutte River, along the Eastern boundaries of Pergunnahs Sourown and Mylsee, of the Chumparun Sircar, and as defined in the Revenue Survey maps, to the Village of Ismaela on the South.

NOTE.—The whole of Pergunnah Buhra, of Sircar Chumparun, Zillah Sarun, (as per list annexed marked A.) lying East of the above line, is transferred to the Zillah of Tirhoot.

The common boundary between the Zillahs of Shahabad and Patna shall be the Eastern limits of the following Villages, viz. Deora, Rajpoor or Bunganwan, and Rampoor Deema, whence it follows the course of the Soane River, as defined on the Revenue Survey maps.

NOTE.—All Villages hitherto appertaining to Zillah Shahabad, lying East of the above line, are transferred to Zillah Patna, as per list marked (B.)

The common boundary between the Zillahs of Patna and Behar shall be, from the Village of Koreem, on the Soane River on the West, to the Village of Sumrour Purenee on the East, as defined in the Revenue Survey maps, and thence a line passing along the following boundaries, viz.: the Southern of Pergunnah Rajgeer and of the Villages of Ghora or Kulhorah and Uz Ruqbeh Gireeuk, the Western of Ukburpoor Pooramee, and Manpoor Gireeuk; the Southern of Thukt Rouzeh, Hussunpoor Gireeuk, Hybutpoor, Sueedpoor Gireeuk, Khanpore Gireeuk, Chuk Nuseerpore Gireeuk, Nuseerpoor Gireeuk; the Western of Pullyhooah, Julalpore Gireeuk, Muhuntpoor Gireeuk, Adumpoor Gireeuk; the Southern of Muhumudpoor Sarhapan, Kuttowneh, Pulluthpoor, Bellaree, Sydpoor, Kutturdeeh, Alhungha, and the Western of Kutree, Akhteeyarpoor, and Mirzapoor and Bureeth, to the common boundary of Zillahs Behar and Monghyr.

NOTE.—All Villages hitherto belonging to Zillah Behar, together with certain outlying Villages of Zillah Monghyr, North of the above line, are transferred to Zillah Patna, as per lists marked C. and D., and all Villages hitherto belonging to Zillah Patna, South of the said line, are transferred to Zillah Behar, as per list marked (E.)

The common boundary between Zillahs Patna and Monghyr shall be, starting from the Village of Mirzapoor Bureeth, a line running along the Eastern boundaries of Pergunnah Behar (transferred as above to Zillah Patna) to the Village or Lodhepoor Umanwan, and thence to the River Ganges, as defined in the Revenue Survey maps.

NOTE.—All Villages of Zillah Patna, South of the above line, are transferred to Zillah Monghyr, as per list annexed and marked (F.)

The common boundary between Zillah Tirhoot and Zillahs Monghyr and Bhaugulpoor shall remain as defined by the Revenue Survey maps, excepting only at the Villages of Busunthpoor Arazee or Chooneebhunpoor, and Puthouree, of which the Western limits now form the Zillah boundary, and again where the line follows the Eastern, Northern, and Western boundary of the Village of Rampoor, and the South-eastern boundary of Sekureea.

NOTE.—Certain Villages of Zillah Monghyr West of the common boundary between it and Zillah Behar are transferred to Behar, and all Villages of Zillahs Behar and Monghyr East of it are transferred to Monghyr, as per lists annexed marked (G.) and (H.) respectively.

All Villages of Zillah Monghyr situated to the West of the common boundary line between it and the Tirhoot Zillah are transferred to Zillah Tirhoot, as per list marked (I.)

All Villages of Zillah Lohardugga North of the common boundary between it and Zillah Behar are transferred to Zillah Behar, and all of Zillah Behar South of that line are transferred to Zillah Hazareebaugh, as per lists marked (J.) and (K.) respectively.

All Villages of Zillah Bhaugulpoor outlying in Zillah Tirhoot are transferred to the latter Zillah, as per list marked (L.)

NOTIFICATION.

The 10th June 1865.

The Lieutenant-Governor is pleased to make a re-arrangement of the existing Sub-Divisions and Thannahs comprised therein in the Zillahs of Sarun Chumparun, Tirhoot, Shahabad, Behar, and Patna.

The following description of the external boundaries of the several Sub-Divisions and of the Thannahs contained therein is hereby published for general information :—

Head Sub-Division Chupra, Head-Quarters at Chupra.

On the North this Sub-Division is bounded by the River Gunduk from the Village of Salehpoor to that of Bishoonpore Chuk Shabaz. On the North-East, East, and South from the last named Village to Tuderwa, on the River Ghogra, the boundaries are conterminous with those of the Zillah. Thence the Western boundary coincides with the Western boundaries of the Villages of Tuderwa, Sooruhee, Ramgadh or Bughaee, Nughaee Khas, Nughaee Khas, Chainpoor, Mobaruckpoor, Nyagawan, Newada, Bawan Deeh, Dewpoora, and thence with the Western boundaries of Pergunnahs Ball, Burree, and Murhull to Salehpoor on the Sub-Division boundary.

The 4th May 1865.

The following Draft of Rules having reference to the Canals from Ooloobaria to Midnapore and from the Roopnarian River to Balasore, called respectively the MIDNAPORE CANAL and the BALASORE CANAL, is published for information under the provisions of Section XI. of "the CANALS' ACT, 1864,"—(No. V., B. L. C.)

I. EVERY Vessel on entering either of the above Canals shall be liable to measurement for the purpose of ascertaining the amount of toll the Vessel should pay according to the Schedule of rates authorized by Government to be charged on the Canal.

II. The tonnage of every Vessel, whether laden or empty, shall, for the purposes of the "Canals' Act, 1864," and of these Rules, be determined by the following measurements:—

a. The product of half the length of the Vessel from stem to stern measured along the water line, multiplied by the interior greatest breadth of the Vessel, multiplied by the depth from the water line to the bottom of the Vessel, is to be taken as the number of maunds upon which toll shall be levied.

b. The measurement of the length is to be made in feet rejecting inches, and the measurment of the breadth and depth in feet and quarters of feet rejecting portions of less than a quarter of a foot.

c. In calculating the amount of toll to be levied any fraction of 100 maunds less than 25 maunds is to be omitted; exceeding 25 and not exceeding 50 maunds is to be charged as 25 maunds only; exceeding 50 and not exceeding 75 maunds to be charged as 50 maunds only; and exceeding 75 maunds as 75 maunds only. Above one thousand maunds no fraction of 100 maunds is to be charged

III. Every Vessel entering a Canal shall be furnished with a ticket on paying the prescribed toll. The ticket shall specify the Station at which it has been issued, the name of the person in charge of the Vessel, the date the Vessel entered the Canal, the point to which it may proceed in the Canal, the maundage of the Vessel, the amount of toll charged, and the number of days for which the Vessel may remain in the Canal, and the date of such last day. The number of days which the Vessel may remain in the Canal without additional payment shall be calculated at the rate of one day for every eight miles or portion of eight miles to be traversed.

IV. Toll may be paid at the first Station either for the entire number of Toll Stations on the line of navigation, or for any less number of Stations.

V. The tickets thus given may be demanded for inspection by any duly authorized Canal Officer, and must be kept on board and at hand for that purpose. They must be shewn at each Toll Station the Vessel has to pass as a Passport that no further payment of toll is to be demanded. The tickets shall be delivered up at the last Toll Station.

VI. Owners of Vessels may compound by the payment of a fixed sum for the use of the whole or a portion of a Canal for any period that may be agreed upon, not exceeding one year. Each Vessel so compounded for shall be furnished with a ticket shewing the amount of toll paid, the period for which the toll has been compounded for, and the limits of the Canal within which the Vessel may pass; such ticket shall be kept on board the Vessel and shall be produced when required under Rule IV., but shall be given up only on the date of the expiry of the period for which granted and at the Station from whence issued.

VII. Duplicates of lost tickets, of which the numbers and the dates of entry can be satisfactorily established, will be granted by Officers in charge of Toll Stations on payment of a fee of one Rupee.

VIII. Vessels remaining in the Canal for a period exceeding that allowed under Rule III. will pay a demurrage of eight annas per 100 maunds per diem for each day or part of a day that they may remain in excess.

IX. No boats above 18 feet beam over all, and no rafts or floats of more than 10 feet width and 150 feet in length will be allowed to enter the Canal.

X. It will not be compulsory for the locks to be opened to single Vessels of less than 500 maunds burden, except in the case of mail or dispatch boats; but the locks shall be opened for the passage of boats at least twice a day.

XI. Vessels must have their masts fitted so that they can be let down with ease and speed, and when under sail Vessels must always keep in the middle of the Canal; when being tracked Vessels are, as far as practicable, to keep to their port or left side of the Canal.

XII. All Vessels anchoring at night are to keep to their port or left bank of the Canal.

XIII. Only one Vessel shall be allowed to make fast along and in a line with the Canal banks, and no Vessel shall be made fast, or be placed outside of Vessels so secured without the permission of a Canal Officer. No Vessel shall, however, be placed in such a position as to endanger the safety of other Vessels, to obstruct their passage, or to impede the navigation; and no bamboos or poles shall be allowed to be erected on Vessels when at anchor: any infringement of this rule will be punishable by a fine not exceeding Rupees 5 for each offence.

XIV. Every Vessel when put to shall be securely fastened and shall at all times have some person in attendance on board of it: any infringement of this rule will be punishable by a fine not exceeding Rupees 5 for each offence.

XV. In every case of wreck or obstruction of the channel by sunken Vessels, the Canal Officer may call upon the person in charge of the Vessel to remove the same without delay, and shall give every reasonable assistance towards so doing. But should the owner of the Vessel or raft be not forthcoming, or should he not use reasonable expedition in removing the obstruction, or should he decline or fail to use proper assistance which may be offered to him by the Canal Officers, these Officers may undertake the removal of the obstruction themselves at the cost of the owner of the boat, recovering the expense in the manner laid down in Section IX. of "the Canals' Act, 1864."

XVI. If the Canal Officer be unable to ascertain the name and place of business or of abode of the owner of the cargo of any Vessel or Boat seized under the Canals' Act, he shall notify the seizure in the most public manner available.

XVII. The banks or berms of the Canals shall not be used as wharves for the deposit of goods under a penalty of 10 Rupees for each offence; but except in special cases, when the permission of the Canal Officers will be necessary, all articles shall be removed to the outer bank of the Canal and all such articles as shall not be finally removed from within the Canal boundaries within a period of 6 days after being so deposited shall be liable to a charge of four annas per 100 maunds.

XVIII. The Canal may be closed once a year for effecting the necessary repairs to it on one month's notice of the intention so to close it, but in the event of any sudden emergency the Canal may be closed at any time without prior notice, and no claim shall be made in such case by owners of Vessels or others for compensation on account of detention.

XIX. All offences against the provisions of these Rules shall be punishable as provided for in Section XVIII. of the Canals' Act, 1864, and all fines imposed may be recovered in the manner mentioned in Section XVII. of the same Act.

XX. The term "Canal Officer" in the foregoing Rules shall include the persons alluded to in Section VIII. of "the Canals' Act, 1864," and any other persons who may be specially appointed to exercise such powers by the person appointed to collect the tolls.

N. B.—Deficiency in Stock of any year will be supplied by delivery of like Salt of other year at the Depôt.

2*nd*.—The sale shall commence at the hour of 11 A. M. of the day abovementioned and shall not be continued after the hour of 5 P. M., but if at that hour any of the Lots advertised for sale shall remain unsold the sale may, at the discretion of the Board of Revenue, be resumed on the next day following (not being Sunday or a public holiday) at the hour of 11 A. M., and so on until the whole of the remaining Lots are disposed of, or, if the whole quantity advertised shall not be sold on the day appointed, the Board may dispose of the Lots which remain on hand at a future sale.

3*rd*.—Each Lot will comprize one thousand maunds of Salt, the maund being of forty seers, of eighty tolahs to the seer.

4*th*.—The Salt will be deliverable from the Store Depôts.

5*th*.—A Promissory Note for the sum of one hundred Rupees shall be taken as a deposit on each Lot from the purchaser in the Sale Room and before the Lot is registered in the Sale Book, and all such Promissory Notes shall be redeemed on the part of the purchasers at this Office by Bank of Bengal Receipts, or by substitution of other Public Securities of the Bengal Government on or before 4 o'clock in the afternoon of the fifth day after the sale, or on the other hand failing such redemption by the time aforesaid, then the Lot or Lots for which no Bank of Bengal Receipts, or deposit of other Public Securities as aforesaid shall have been delivered in shall be re-sold at such time or times and under such conditions of re-sale as the Board of Revenue shall see fit. All losses and expenses whatsoever attending such re sale shall be borne and paid by the defaulters, whilst any profit accruing from such re-sale shall be credited to Government.

6*th*.—The Promissory Notes taken on the day of sale under the last-mentioned condition, if remaining unredeemed at 4 o'clock of the fifth day following the day of sale, will be placed in the hands of the Solicitor to the Government for realization.

7*th*.—No Tender of Money, Bank of Bengal Receipts, or Public Securities on account of Salt upon which the prescribed deposit may not have been made before 4 o'clock of the fifth day following the day of sale will be afterwards accepted.

8*th*.—The duty on the Salt shall, unless the purchaser wishes to bond it, be paid for within sixty days from the day of sale; and in case any Lots shall not be so paid for and adjusted, then the cash deposit made under the fifth condition, or any Public Securities that may have been deposited on account of such Lots, shall be forfeited and the Salt shall be disposed of on account of Government at such time and in such manner as the Board of Revenue shall think fit, and the first purchaser shall further be required to make good any loss or difference of price between that obtained at the re-sale and the amount at which the Salt was first purchased, forfeiting all advantages that may arise from such re-sale.

9*th*.—For any Lots which may remain uncleared beyond the above period of sixty days, excepting such as may be bonded, Golah rent will thereafter be charged at the rate of four Rupees per mensem for each 100 maunds.

10*th*.—The Salt may be bonded in a Government or a Private Golah under the Bonding Rules applicable to Sea-imported Salt.

11*th*.—Certificates specifying the name or names of the purchaser or purchasers, the number of the Lots sold, and the description of Salt purchased will be delivered on payment of the deposit at the time and in the manner mentioned in condition 5th, and each Certificate to be so granted must be returned to the Office of the Board before any Orders and Rowannahs (corresponding with such Certificate) for the delivery of the Salt shall be issued.

12*th*.—No Orders and Rowannahs for the delivery of any Lot of Salt shall be issued until payment in full of price and duty shall have been made for the same.

13*th*.—Fees must be paid for Rowannahs agreeably to Clause 5, Section XLVI., Regulation X. of 1819.

14*th*.—No deposit of Public Securities under the 5th of the present conditions will be received in this Office, except from the party recorded as the purchaser in the Sale Book, or his authorized Agent. The receipt for deposit of Public Securities will be granted only in the name of such purchaser, and the Securities so deposited will be returned when payment in full has been made by the said purchaser or his order.

15*th*.—The Officer superintending the sale on the part of the Board of Revenue is empowered to reject, at his discretion, the bid of any individual unless such individual shall on demand tender at the time a deposit, either in Government of India Notes, Bank of Bengal Receipts, or Government Securities, a sum equal to the amount for which a Promissory Note would otherwise be taken under the 5th of these conditions.

16*th*.—The purchaser of any Lot shall have the option of naming and purchasing in immediate succession, at the same price and under the same conditions, any number of Lots of the same Salt not exceeding altogether fifty Lots; provided always that there remain a sufficient number of Lots of the Salt to complete the said fifty.

17*th*.—In the event of any dispute or difference touching or concerning any matter or question arising out of the sale of the Salt included in this Notification, or adjustment of the account thereof, the same shall and may be tried and decided in the High Court of Judicature at Fort William in Bengal.

By Order of the Board of Revenue,

T. Bruce Lane,
Junior Secretary.

CIRCULAR.

It is requested that all to whom the following "Notice" is addressed will give the utmost publicity to the same in order, if possible, to avert mishap or disaster:—

NOTICE.

The Ship Ellora, of about 950 Tons, with a full cargo of Cotton and Seeds from this Port, bound for Liverpool, suddenly sprung a heavy leak on the night of 20th ultimo. The Crew leaving her at 3 A. M. 21st, upper deck under water, assistance was sent out to tow her in as quick as possible; but owing to the Vessel being at anchor could not, on account of the swell, get at the chain cable to cut or slip it during the night of the 21st. The Vessel sunk in a perfectly upright position. The cross jack yard awash at high water, her masts all standing heading up north-west by west, cross jack yard and main top gallant yard only aloft.

The Vessel is in 7 fathoms at low water and has two and a half fathoms over her deck houses (rise of tide 12 to 14 feet) and is about 4½ to 5 miles to south-westward of outer Light Vessel.

The Ship is apparently some 8 to 10 feet settled in the mud.

Cylinders were prepared and filled with gunpowder with hopes of being able, by sinking the cylinder under the belge, to blow her up, but Divers cannot be obtained to place the same on account of the swell.

COMMISSARY GENERAL'S OFFICE,
The 27th May 1865.

J. D. MACPHERSON, Colonel,
Commissary General.

NOTICE.

Bhutearee, Putteah, Sautkanneah, and Chuckoreah.

NOTICE is hereby given that the undermentioned Lots of Waste Land, consisting of about 44,948 Acres, situate in Thannahs as per margin, Zillah Chittagong, and bounded as shewn at the foot of this Notice, have been applied for under the "Rules for the sale of unassessed land in the Lower Provinces of Bengal." All claims and objection in bar of the sale having been finally disposed of under the provisions of Act XXIII. of 1863, the said Lots will be put up to sale by auction to the highest bidder above the upset price of Rupees 2-8 an Acre, on the 2nd day of July 1865, at the Office of the Collector of Chittagong. The sale will be made in the manner, and subject to the conditions prescribed by the Rule above cited, and to the provisions of Act XXIII. of 1863.

A. SMITH,

Report on the State of the Salt Market during the Fourth Quarter of 1864-65.

From T. BRUCE LANE, Esq., Junior Secretary to the Board of Revenue, Lower Provinces, to the Secretary to the Government of Bengal,—(No. 605, dated 26th May 1865.)

I AM directed by the Board of Revenue to submit the following Report on the state of the Salt market during the fourth quarter of 1864-65.

2. The quantity of Government Salt sold under Rowannahs issued by the Board amounted to maunds 29,245, as shewn in the margin, giving a monthly average of maunds 9,748, or about maunds 28,332 less than the monthly average of the corresponding quarter of 1863-64. This further falling off in the sales must be again ascribed to the continued decrease in the price of the Liverpool Salt, the clearances of which during the quarter under review amounted to maunds 12,08,786 against maunds 8,83,008 in the corresponding quarter of 1863-64.

	Mds.

3. The sales of Government Salt from the Ghoosry Golahs amounted to maunds 1,450 against maunds 1,860 in the previous quarter, and maunds 2,125 in the fourth quarter of 1863-64. The sales at Tumlook aggregated maunds 11,635 against maunds 37,160 in the last quarter: while those in Hidgellee amounted to maunds 16,010 against maunds 13,161 in the preceding quarter, and maunds 16,400 in the corresponding quarter of 1863-64.

4. In the third quarter of 1864-65 the sales in those parts of Bullooah which are within Chowkey limits, and in Chittagong, appear to have amounted to maunds 11,927 and maunds 19,879 respectively, being about maunds 600 and maunds 2,000 in excess of the sales in the corresponding period of the previous year, and about maunds 700 and maunds 1,000 less than the sales in the preceding quarter.

5. The sales of Excise Salt during the quarter under review aggregated maunds 5,350 against maunds 2,299 in the previous quarter, and maunds 13,045 in the fourth quarter of 1863-64.

6. The quantities of Salt which have been dispatched into the interior of the country viâ the border chowkeys of Ballikhal up the Hooghly and Goraghaut en route to the Goorai, and by the East Indian and Eastern Bengal Railways, are shewn in the following Comparative Statement :—

9. The shipments of Liverpool Salt appear from published market-reports to have been in

January 1865	...	...	Tons 5,550
February „	...	...	„ 4,593
March „	...	...	„ 1,157

This decline in the shipments is probably owing to the fall in the price of this Salt at the close of 1864, and no material increase can be anticipated under the present position of the Calcutta market.

10. The price of Liverpool Salt, which, at the close of last January, stood at Rupees 46, fell gradually to Rupees 37 towards the end of February, when it again commenced rising until it reached Rupees 50 towards the end of March. This appears to have been the highest point that prices have reached since the middle of November last. They have again taken a downward tendency and stood at Rupees 38 only at the close of the quarter.

11. Madras and Bombay Kurkutch have both gradually declined in price from Rupees 40 and Rupees 36 respectively in the beginning of February, to Rupees 37 and Rupees 22 at the end of the quarter. Kurkutch from Madras is being imported and bonded at Balasore, but no importations have as yet been reported from Chittagong, where the Government stock is now less than a year's local consumption.

12. The total quantity of Salt available on private trade at the several Madras Depôts on the first day of each of the three months of the quarter under consideration, and of the corresponding quarter of the two previous years, is exhibited below :—

13. The approaching July sale will dispose of all the Depôt Stocks.

LEGISLATIVE.

Simla, the 20th May 1865.

THE following Bill and Statement of Objects and Reasons accompanying it are published for general information by order of His Excellency the Governor General under the 19th of the Rules for the conduct of Business at Meetings of the Council of the Governor General of India for the purpose of making Laws and Regulations :—

Bill to provide for the appropriation of Land required for private Water-courses from Canals.

WHEREAS it is necessary to provide for the appropriation of land required for water-courses to be carried through estates situated between a Government canal or any branch thereof, and the lands of any person or persons desiring to be supplied with water, it is hereby enacted :—

I. Whenever a proprietor or body of proprietors desire to bring water to their lands for the purpose of irrigation by means of a channel from a Government canal or branch of a Government canal through any intervening estate or estates, they shall make application accordingly to the Superintendent or Chief Canal Officer of the District within which their lands are situated.

II. On receipt of such application, the Canal Officer aforesaid shall proceed to make local inquiry into the necessity of the channel for the purpose stated, and if satisfied that it is necessary, he shall proceed under the following Rules.

III. It shall be competent to the local Government, whenever it may see fit, to occupy the land required for such channel at the public expense, to proceed under Section 2, Act VI., 1857; and thereupon the provisions of Act VI., 1857, shall be applicable to the case.

IV. Where the land may not be occupied at the public expense, the Canal Officer aforesaid shall record a declaration to the effect that the channel in question is necessary for the irrigation of the lands of the applicants, and that to the best of his belief the line proposed involves no unnecessary injury to other interests. The direction and size of the channel, with specification of the width of the land required, and the masonry works (if any) to be constructed on it, shall be sufficiently indicated in the body of the declaration. A copy of the declaration shall be forwarded to the Collector of the District, and the Collector shall furnish the Lumbardar of the lands through which the channel is to pass with a copy. The land shall not be occupied either by the applicant or by any Government Officer until the expiration of one month from the receipt of such copy by the Lumbardar.

V. At the expiration of the period specified in the previous Section, it shall be competent to the Canal Officer to mark off or cause to be marked off the limits of the land to be appropriated for the proposed channel. If the parties agree among themselves on the terms of compensation, and present to the Canal Officer or other Officers authorized by him a duly attested affirmation to that effect, possession of the land may be at once given to the applicants.

VI. In the event of the parties failing to come to a settlement of the terms of compensation before the Canal Officer, he shall forward the papers of the case to the Collector, who shall proceed to adjust the compensation due to the owner of the land marked off, and to give possession of the same under the procedure and with the powers provided in the Act VI. of 1857, Sections 4 and following.

VII. It shall be competent to the local Government to lay down rules upon the following subjects, which rules, when duly sanctioned by the Governor General in Council, shall be published in the local Gazette, and shall be held to be part of this Act, provided that nothing in such rules shall be inconsistent with the provisions of this Act :—

1*st.*—If the land be bought absolutely, the terms on which the original proprietors may regain possession of the same in case the channel be discontinued.

2*nd.*—If the land be rented, the manner in which the rent is to be defrayed and the Government demand on the land discharged. Also the terms on which the land may be restored to the proprietors if the channel be discontinued.

3rd.—The manner in which the rights of farmers and other temporary holders of the estate to which the channel belongs in such channel shall be adjusted.

4th.—The manner in which joint rights in a channel may be adjusted, and the manner in which such rights may be acquired or extinguished.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

The existing law (Act No. VI. of 1857) contains provisions for the appropriation of land for public purposes, and under this law land is taken up for Canals and Rajbuhas (channels of distribution.) It has been doubted, however, whether the law would apply to the case of one or more individuals claiming to run a water-course to their fields through the lands of an intervening estate. When the land for such a channel is rented, or purchased, not at the expense of Government, but at the expense of the party benefitting by the channel, the above law clearly would not be applicable.

In such cases, likewise, it is important that the Government should control the proceedings so as to restrict the appropriation of the land within the narrowest limits possible. For although the applicant may have the right to claim waterway through his neighbour's estate, he is bound to exercise the right without inflicting any avoidable inconvenience or injury.

The Bill now published aims at accomplishing this object. No appropriation of land will be permitted under the authority of this enactment until a competent Canal Officer shall have declared the channel to be necessary, and certified that, to the best of his belief, it involves no avoidable injury to other interests. Upon this declaration authority is given to proceed in the same manner, and under the same checks, as if the land had been required for a public purpose.

The Bill also authorizes the local Government, with the sanction of the Governor General in Council, to make rules for the disposal of certain classes of claims likely to grow out of appropriations of land under this Bill, such as the title of the original proprietor to re-enter in case the channel be discontinued, the liability for the Rent and Land Revenue of the land occupied, &c. Many of these questions are new, and the course to be pursued must in some measure be tentative. It would be difficult to anticipate and provide in this Bill for the various contingencies that may arise, and it has been thought better, for the present at least, to leave the rules and principles for dealing with such claims to be laid down by the Executive Government from time to time as may be found expedient.

The necessity for the proposed enactment has arisen in the North-Western Provinces; but the measure will probably be found equally applicable to the Punjab and other parts of the country where there are Government Canals.

The Bill has been approved by the Hon'ble the Lieutenant-Governor, North-Western Provinces.

LEGISLATIVE DEPARTMENT.

THE following Act of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal in Council received the assent of His Honor on the 10th May 1865, and having been assented to by His Excellency the Governor General on the 27th May 1865, is hereby promulgated for general information:—

ACT No. VIII OF 1865.

An Act to amend the Law for the sale of such Under-tenures as by the Title Deeds or established usage of the country are transferable by sale or otherwise for the recovery of arrears of rent due in respect thereof.

Preamble.

WHEREAS doubts have arisen, in consequence of the repeal of Section XVI of Regulation VII of 1832, as to the authority by whom Putnee Talooks and other saleable Under-tenures of the nature defined in Clause 1 of Section VIII of Regulation VIII of 1819 are to be sold for arrears of rent due to the proprietor on account thereof; and whereas it is expedient to amend the Law for the sale of Under-tenures in satisfaction of decrees for the recovery of such arrears; It is enacted as follows:—

Meaning of the word "Collector."

I. The word "Collector" as used in this Act includes all Officers exercising the full powers of a Collector of a District.

Words used in the singular number include the plural.

Laws repealed.

II. Section XVI of Regulation VIII of 1819 of the Bengal Code, Act VIII of 1835, and Section X of Act VI of 1853, are repealed, except in so far as any other Regulation or Law is repealed thereby.

Sale by whom to be conducted.

III. The sale for the recovery of arrears of rent of Putnee Talooks and other saleable Under-tenures of the nature defined in Clause 1 of Section VIII of Regulation VIII of 1819 shall be conducted by the Collector of Land Revenue in whose jurisdiction, as defined by Act VI of 1853, the lands lie, and all acts preparatory to, or connected with, the sale of such Under-tenures as aforesaid, which, by Regulations VIII of 1819 and I of 1820, the Judge is required to perform, shall be performed by the said Collector.

Notice of Sale where to be hung up.

IV. Whenever a decree for an arrear of rent due in respect of an Under-tenure saleable under Section CV of Act X of 1859 shall have been obtained, and an application for the sale of the said Under-tenure under the same Section shall have been made and allowed, the Collector, in whose Court the decree is in course of execution, shall thereupon cause to be hung up in his own Court, and in that of the Collector and the Judge of the District within which the land comprised in the Under-tenure to be sold is situated, and to be affixed on some conspicuous place on the land and in the town or village in or nearest to which the said land is situated, a notice for the sale of the said Under-tenure on some fixed date not less than twenty days from the hanging up of the said notice in the Court in which the decree is in course of execution.

V. The said notice shall specify, in the words used in the plaint in the suit in which the decree was made, the name of the village, estate, and pergunnah or other local division in which the land comprised in the said Under-tenure is situated, the yearly rent payable under the said Under-tenure, and the gross amount recoverable under the said decree.

Notice of Sale what to contain.

VI. If the sum due under the decree, together with interest to date of payment and all costs of process, be paid into Court at any time before the sale commences, whether by the defaulting holder of the Under-tenure, or any one on his behalf, or any one interested in the protection of the Under-tenure, such sale shall not take place; and the provisions of Section XIII of Regulation VIII of 1819, for the recovery of sums paid by other than the defaulting holder of the Under-tenure to stay the sale of the Under-tenure, shall be applicable to all similar payments made under this Section.

How the sale may be stopped.

VII. The Under-tenure shall be sold to the highest bidder in open Court.

Sale to be to the highest bidder.

VIII. The party who shall be declared to be the purchaser shall be required to deposit immediately, in cash or Government Currency Notes, twenty-five per cent. of the amount of his bid; and, in default of such deposit, the Under-tenure shall be put up again and sold forthwith, or on the next ensuing office day.

Purchaser to deposit 25 per cent.

IX. The full amount of the purchase money shall be made good by the purchaser before sunset of the eighth day from that on which the sale of the Under-tenure took place, reckoning that day as one of the eight; or, if the eighth day be a Sunday or other close holiday, then on the first office day after the eighth day: and, in default of payment within the prescribed period as aforesaid, the deposit shall be forfeited to the Government and the Under-tenure shall be re-sold, and the defaulting purchaser shall forfeit all claims thereto or to any part of the sum for which the said Under-tenure may be subsequently sold. If the proceeds of the sale, which may be eventually completed, be less than the price bid by the defaulting purchaser, the difference shall be leviable from him under the law for enforcing the payment of money in satisfaction of a decree for arrears of rent.

Deposit to be forfeited if balance of purchase money be not paid up in time.

X. The provisions of all the Sections of this Act with regard to sales shall also be applicable to all re-sales under this Act which may be rendered necessary by the default of any purchaser.

Provisions as to sales to apply to all re-sales.

XI. When the purchase money shall have been paid in full, the Officer holding the sale shall give the purchaser a Certificate in the form prescribed in the Schedule annexed to this Act, and shall further, on the purchaser making application and depositing the requisite costs, depute an Officer or Ameen to put him in possession of the Under-tenure in the customary manner, and to publish the fact of the purchase to the cultivators of the lands comprised therein.

Certificate and possession to be given to purchaser on payment by him in full.

XII. From the proceeds of the sale of the Under-tenure, the Officer holding such sale shall re-pay to the judgment-creditor the necessary expenses incurred by him in procuring it; and, after satisfying the decree in execution of which the sale was made, shall hold the residue, if any, in deposit on account of the defaulting holder of the Under-tenure.

Proceeds of sale how to be dealt with.

XIII. An appeal shall lie to the Collector from any proceedings of a Deputy or Assistant Collector if made within fifteen days; and to the Commissioner from any original proceedings of a Collector, under this Act, if made within thirty days from the date of the sale: but no proceedings under this Act shall be reversed or modified in appeal, except upon the ground of irrelevancy of the law, or of such an irregularity in procedure as, in the opinion of the Appellate authority, has caused injury to the interests of one of the parties to the suit in which the decree was passed.

Appeal.

XIV. No appeal as of right shall lie from any order passed in appeal under this Act; but a Commissioner, in any case in which an appeal has been heard by a Collector, and the Board of Revenue in any case in which an appeal has been heard by the Commissioner, may call for the record at any time within three months from the date of the order passed in appeal, and pass thereon such orders as they may think proper.

Power of Revision.

XV. If any sale of an Under-tenure shall, under either of the two preceding Sections, be set aside, the purchaser shall be entitled to receive back the purchase money, with or without interest, and in such manner as the Appellate or revising authority may in each instance direct. Any order for the recovery of the purchase money or interest, passed by such Appellate or revising authority as aforesaid, may be enforced by the process in force under decrees for the recovery of arrears of rent.

Purchaser to recover purchase money in such manner as Appellate or revising authority may direct, if sale be set aside.

XVI. The purchaser of an Under-tenure sold under this Act shall acquire it free of all incumbrances which may have accrued thereon by any act of any holder of the said Under-tenure, his representatives, or assignees, unless the right of making such incumbrances shall have been expressly vested in the holder by the written engagements under which the Under-tenure was created, or by the subsequent written authority of the person who created it, his representatives, or assignees. Provided that nothing herein contained shall be held to entitle the purchaser to eject Khoodkasht ryots or resident and hereditary cultivators, nor to cancel bonâ-fide engagements made with such class of ryots or cultivators aforesaid by the late incumbent of the Under-tenure or his representatives, except it be proved, in a regular suit to be brought by such purchaser for the adjustment of his rent, that a higher rent would have been demandable at the time such engagements were contracted by his predecessor. Nothing in this Section shall be held to apply to the purchase of a tenure by the previous holder thereof through whose default the tenure was brought to sale.

Purchaser to acquire the Under-tenure, with certain exceptions, free of incumbrances.

XVII. The purchaser of an Under-tenure sold under this Act shall apply to the Zemindar or other landholder, within fifteen days from the day of sale, to have his name registered in the Zemindar or other landholder's books as the purchaser, and shall execute a kubooleut on the same terms and conditions on which the Under-tenure was held by the defaulter; and, if such application be not made within fifteen days, it shall be lawful for the Zemindar or other landholder to sue the said purchaser under the provisions of Clause 1 of Section XXIII of Act X of 1859.

Zemindar how to proceed if purchaser do not register.

XVIII. The provisions of Section III shall be applicable to all sales held under Regulation VIII of 1819 previously to the passing of this Act; and no suit shall lie in respect of such sales on the plea of want of jurisdiction of the Officer by whom they were conducted.

Indemnity.

Passenger Boats.—A charge of a ¼ (a quarter) pie per head per mile over and above the toll leviable from the boats by measurement by the Rules passed under Notification No. 235 of this day's date.

N. B.—This charge will be leviable from the owners of the boats and not from passengers.

2. The Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal, under the power vested in him by Section VIII. of the said "Canals' Act, 1864," hereby appoints the Agent and Manager of the East India Irrigation and Canal Company for the time being to collect tolls on the navigable channels aforesaid, viz. the Midnapore Canal and the Balasore Canal.

No. 235.

The following Rules having reference to the MIDNAPORE CANAL and the BALASORE CANAL have been passed this day by the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal under the provisions of Sections XI. and XII. of the " CANALS' ACT, 1864,"—(No. V., B. L. C.)

I. EVERY Vessel on entering either of the above Canals shall be liable to measurement for the purpose of ascertaining the amount of toll the Vessel should pay according to the Schedule of rates authorized by Government to be charged on the Canal.

II. The tonnage of every Vessel, whether laden or empty, shall, for the purposes of the "Canals' Act, 1864," and of these Rules, be determined by the following measurements:—

a. The product of half the length of the Vessel from stem to stern measured along the water line, multiplied by the interior greatest breadth of the Vessel, multiplied by the depth from the water line to the bottom of the Vessel, is to be taken as the number of maunds upon which toll shall be levied.

b. The measurement of the length is to be made in feet rejecting inches, and the measurment of the breadth and depth in feet and quarters of feet rejecting portions of less than a quarter of a foot.

c. In calculating the amount of toll to be levied on Vessels exceeding 100 maunds tonnage, any fraction of 100 maunds less than 25 maunds is to be omitted; exceeding 25 and not exceeding 50 maunds is to be charged as 25 maunds only; exceeding 50 and not exceeding 75 maunds to be charged as 50 maunds only; and exceeding 75 maunds as 75 maunds only. Above 1,000 maunds no fraction of 100 maunds is to be charged. Toll will be charged on Vessels under 100 maunds tonnage on the actual measurements of the Vessels, omitting fractions of tens of maunds.

III. Every Vessel entering either of the above Canals shall be furnished with a ticket on paying the prescribed toll. The ticket shall specify the Station at which it has been issued, the name of the person in charge of the Vessel, the date the Vessel entered the Canal, the point to which it may proceed in the Canal, the maundage of the Vessel, the amount of toll charged, and the number of days for which the Vessel may remain in the Canal, and the date of such last day. The number of days which the Vessel may remain in the Canal without additional payment shall be calculated at the rate of one day for every eight miles or portion of eight miles to be traversed.

IV. Toll may be paid at the first Station either for the entire number of Toll Stations on the line of navigation, or for any less number of Stations.

V. The tickets thus given may be demanded for inspection by any duly authorized Canal Officer and must be kept on board and at hand for that purpose. They must be shewn at each Toll Station the Vessel has to pass as a Passport that no further payment of toll is to be demanded. The tickets shall be delivered up at the last Toll Station.

VI. Owners of Vessels may compound by the payment of a fixed sum for the use of the whole or a portion of either of the above Canals for any period that may be agreed upon, not exceeding one year. Each Vessel so compounded for shall be furnished with a ticket shewing the amount of toll paid, the period for which the toll has been compounded for, and the limits of the Canal within which the Vessel may pass; such ticket shall be kept on board the Vessel and shall be produced when required under Rule V., but shall be given up only on the date of the expiry of the period for which granted and at the Station from whence issued.

VII. Duplicates of lost tickets, of which the numbers and the dates of entry can be satisfactorily established, will be granted by Officers in charge of Toll Stations on payment of a fee of one Rupee.

VIII. Vessels remaining in the Canals for a period exceeding that allowed under Rule III. will pay a demurrage of eight annas per 100 maunds per diem for each day or part of a day that they may remain in excess.

IX. No boats above 18 feet beam over all, and no rafts or floats of more than 10 feet width and 150 feet in length will be allowed to enter the Canals.

X. It will not be compulsory for the locks to be opened to single Vessels of less than 500 maunds burden, except in the case of mail or dispatch boats; but the locks shall be opened for the passage of boats at least twice a day.

XI. Vessels must have their masts fitted so that they can be let down with ease and speed, and when under sail Vessels must always keep in the middle of the Canal; when being tracked Vessels are, as far as practicable, to keep to their port or left side of the Canals.

XII. All Vessels anchoring at night are to keep to their port or left bank of the Canals.

XIII. Only one Vessel shall be allowed to make fast along and in a line with the Canal banks, and no Vessel shall be made fast, or be placed outside of Vessels so secured without the permission of a Canal Officer. No Vessel shall, however, be placed in such a position as to endanger the safety of other Vessels, to obstruct their passage, or to impede the navigation: and no bamboos or poles shall be allowed to be erected on Vessels when at anchor: any infringement of this rule will be punishable by a fine not exceeding Rupees 5 for each offence.

XIV. Every Vessel when put to shall be securely fastened and shall at all times have some person in attendance on board of it: any infringement of this rule will be punishable by a fine not exceeding Rupees 5 for each offence.

XV. In every case of wreck or obstruction of the channel by sunken Vessels, the Canal Officers may call upon the person in charge of the Vessel to remove the same without delay, and shall give every reasonable assistance towards so doing. But should the owner of the Vessel or Raft be not forthcoming, or should he not use reasonable expedition in removing the obstruction, or should he decline or fail to use proper assistance which may be offered to him by the Canal Officers, these Officers may undertake the removal of the obstruction themselves at the cost of the owner of the boat, recovering the expense in the manner laid down in Section IX. of "the Canals' Act, 1864."

XVI. If the Canal Officers be unable to ascertain the name and place of business or of abode of the owner of the cargo of any Vessel or Boat seized under the Canals' Act, he shall notify the seizure in the most public manner available.

XVII. In the event of any damage or injury being occasioned to the Canal works by wilfulness or negligence on the part of any person in charge of a Vessel, the Canal Officers may detain the Vessel within the Canal for a period not exceeding twenty-four hours, provided that within that period the Canal Officers shall lodge a complaint against such person in charge of the Vessel before a Magistrate under Section XVI. of the Canals' Act.

XVIII. The banks or berms of the Canals shall not be used as wharves for the deposit of goods under a penalty of 10 Rupees for each offence; but except in special cases, when the permission of the Canal Officers will be necessary, all articles shall be removed to the outer bank of the Canals, and all such articles as shall not be finally removed from within the boundaries of the Canals within a period of six days after being so deposited shall be liable to a charge of four annas per 100 maunds.

XIX. The Canals may be closed once a year for effecting the necessary repairs to them on one month's notice of the intention so to close them, but in the event of any sudden emergency the Canals may be closed at any time without prior notice, and no claim shall be made in such case by owners of Vessels or others for compensation on account of detention.

XX. All offences against the provisions of these Rules shall be punishable as provided for in Section XVIII. of the "Canals' Act, 1864," and all fines imposed may be recovered in the manner mentioned in Section XVII. of the same Act.

XXI. The term "Canal Officers" in the foregoing Rules shall include the persons alluded to in Section VIII. of "the Canals' Act, 1864," and any other persons who may be specially appointed to exercise such powers by the person appointed to collect the tolls.

LOCAL.

No. 236.

It is hereby notified that Section 2, Clause C. of the Rules having reference to certain navigable channels in the District of Chittagong, which were passed by Notification No. 190 of this Department, dated the 15th ultimo, and published in the Calcutta Gazette of the 17th, 24th, and 31st idem, is amended by the Lieutenant-Governor as follows:—

Section II., Clause C.—In calculating the amount of toll to be levied on Vessels above 100 maunds burthen, any fraction of 100 maunds less than 50 maunds is to be omitted; and a fraction exceeding 50 maunds is to be charged as 50 maunds only. All Vessels of less than 100 maunds burthen will be charged as 50 maunds only.

N. B.—Deficiency in Stock of any year will be supplied by delivery of like Salt of other year at the Depôt.

2*nd*.—The sale shall commence at the hour of 11 A. M. of the day abovementioned and shall not be continued after the hour of 5 P. M., but if at that hour any of the Lots advertised for sale shall remain unsold the sale may, at the discretion of the Board of Revenue, be resumed on the next day following (not being Sunday or a public holiday) at the hour of 11 A. M., and so on until the whole of the remaining Lots are disposed of, or, if the whole quantity advertised shall not be sold on the day appointed, the Board may dispose of the Lots which remain on hand at a future sale.

3*rd*.—Each Lot will comprize one thousand maunds of Salt, the maund being of forty seers, of eighty tolahs to the seer.

4*th*.—The Salt will be deliverable from the Store Depôts.

5*th*.—A Promissory Note for the sum of one hundred Rupees shall be taken as a deposit on each Lot from the purchaser in the Sale Room and before the Lot is registered in the Sale Book, and all such Promissory Notes shall be redeemed on the part of the purchasers at this Office by Bank of Bengal Receipts, or by substitution of other Public Securities of the Bengal Government on or before 4 o'clock in the afternoon of the fifth day after the sale, or on the other hand failing such redemption by the time aforesaid, then the Lot or Lots for which no Bank of Bengal Receipts, or deposit of other Public Securities as aforesaid shall have been delivered in shall be re-sold at such time or times and under such conditions of re-sale as the Board of Revenue shall see fit. All losses and expenses whatsoever attending such re-sale shall be borne and paid by the defaulters, whilst any profit accruing from such re-sale shall be credited to Government.

6*th*.—The Promissory Notes taken on the day of sale under the last-mentioned condition, if remaining unredeemed at 4 o'clock of the fifth day following the day of sale, will be placed in the hands of the Solicitor to the Government for realization.

7*th*.—No Tender of Money, Bank of Bengal Receipts, or Public Securities on account of Salt upon which the prescribed deposit may not have been made before 4 o'clock of the fifth day following the day of sale will be afterwards accepted.

8*th*.—The duty on the Salt shall, unless the purchaser wishes to bond it, be paid for within sixty days from the day of sale; and in case any Lots shall not be so paid for and adjusted, then the cash deposit made under the fifth condition, or any Public Securities that may have been deposited on account of such Lots, shall be forfeited and the Salt shall be disposed of on account of Government at such time and in such manner as the Board of Revenue shall think fit, and the first purchaser shall further be required to make good any loss or difference of price between that obtained at the re-sale and the amount at which the Salt was first purchased, forfeiting all advantages that may arise from such re-sale.

9*th*.—For any Lots which may remain uncleared beyond the above period of sixty days, excepting such as may be bonded, Golah rent will thereafter be charged at the rate of four Rupees per mensem for each 100 maunds.

10*th*.—The Salt may be bonded in a Government or a Private Golah under the Bonding Rules applicable to Sea-imported Salt.

11*th*.—Certificates specifying the name or names of the purchaser or purchasers, the number of the Lots sold, and the description of Salt purchased will be delivered on payment of the deposit at the time and in the manner mentioned in condition 5th, and each Certificate to be so granted must be returned to the Office of the Board before any Orders and Rowannahs (corresponding with such Certificate) for the delivery of the Salt shall be issued.

12*th*.—No Orders and Rowannahs for the delivery of any Lot of Salt shall be issued until payment in full of price and duty shall have been made for the same.

14*th*.—No deposit of Public Securities under the 5th of the present conditions will be received in this Office, except from the party recorded as the purchaser in the Sale Book, or his authorized Agent. The receipt for deposit of Public Securities will be granted only in the name of such purchaser, and the Securities so deposited will be returned when payment in full has been made by the said purchaser or his order.

15*th*.—The Officer superintending the sale on the part of the Board of Revenue is empowered to reject, at his discretion, the bid of any individual unless such individual shall on demand tender at the time a deposit, either in Government of India Notes, Bank of Bengal Receipts, or Government Securities, a sum equal to the amount for which a Promissory Note would otherwise be taken under the 5th of these conditions.

16*th*.—The purchaser of any Lot shall have the option of naming and purchasing in immediate succession, at the same price and under the same conditions, any number of Lots of the same Salt not exceeding altogether fifty Lots; provided always that there remain a sufficient number of Lots of the Salt to complete the said fifty.

17*th*.—In the event of any dispute or difference touching or concerning any matter or question arising out of the sale of the Salt included in this Notification, or adjustment of the account thereof, the same shall and may be tried and decided in the High Court of Judicature at Fort William in Bengal.

By Order of the Board of Revenue,

T. BRUCE LANE,
Junior Secretary.

NOTICE.

Bhutearee, Putteah, Sautkaneeah, and Chuckoreah.

NOTICE is hereby given that the undermentioned Lots of Waste Land, consisting of about 44,948 Acres, situate in Thannahs as per margin, Zillah Chittagong, and bounded as shewn at the foot of this Notice, have been applied for under the "Rules for the sale of unassessed land in the Lower Provinces of Bengal." All claims and objection in bar of the sale having been finally disposed of under the provisions of Act XXIII. of 1863, the said Lots will be put up to sale by auction to the highest bidder above the upset price of Rupees 2-8 an Acre, on the 2nd day of July 1865, at the Office of the Collector of Chittagong. The sale will be made in the manner, and subject to the conditions prescribed by the Rule above cited, and to the provisions of Act XXIII. of 1863.

A. SMITH,
Officiating Collector.

Report of the Cultivation of Cinchonæ at Darjeeling during the Month of April 1865.

From T. ANDERSON, Esq., M. D., Superintendent of the Botanical Gardens, and in charge of Cinchonæ Cultivation in Bengal, to S. C. BAYLEY, Esq., Junior Secretary to the Government of Bengal,—(No. 1, dated Darjeeling, the 22nd May 1865.)

I HAVE the honor to submit the following Report on the cultivation of Cinchonæ at Darjeeling during the month of April 1865:—

Report for the Month of April 1865.

THE weather during the first fortnight of April differed little from the weather that prevailed during March, but foggy and cloudy days were commoner.

With the exception of a slight thunder storm on the 13th no rain fell until the 14th. After that date rain fell on fourteen days to the amount of 11·18 inches, or the total rainfall for the month. The latter part of the month of April was therefore very moist and warm and highly favorable to growth.

At the fourth plantation the mean maximum temperature during the month was 74°·5, the mean minimum 60°, and the monthly mean temperature 68°·5.

At the fifth and lowest plantation the mean maximum temperature was 85°·4, the mean minimum 62°·3, and the monthly mean 73°·6. These figures indicate a great increase in the minimum temperature as compared with last month; while the mean maximum temperature at the fourth plantation has fallen slightly below that of March. These changes in the relation of the two extreme temperatures have resulted in a great increase of the mean temperature of the month.

2. The growth of the plants has everywhere been most satisfactory, and especially at the lowest plantation the condition of the plants of all species could hardly be surpassed.

The plants are covered with luxuriant foliage and the largest are sending out vigorous branches from the axils of the three or four upper pairs of leaves.

3. The total number of plants and partially rooted cuttings of all species was 49,186 on the 30th April. The number permanently planted out was 3,256. The number of plants added during the month to the number to be retained as stock plants was 9,820; all of these belonging to Cinchona Officinalis were planted in beds in the open air.

The increase by cuttings during April far exceeds the number obtained. Since the commencement of the experiment 12,104 cuttings of all species were made. None of these are buds, only vigorous shoots were used, as I consider it preferable to have a healthy stock than a large monthly increase of cuttings taken from over-pruned plants. The 7,214 cuttings made during March have all rooted and are ready to be potted off as soon as the Establishment have completed the more urgent work of preparing ground for the rapidly increasing stock of plants.

4. In the Report for the month of February I stated that an experiment had been made to ascertain the difference in the number of cuttings obtained from plants growing under glass and those growing in the soil and fully exposed. After two months it has been found that the plants under glass yield a larger number of cuttings than plants entirely unprotected do. The proportion is three to five. No general reliable results can be obtained until the experiment has been carried on for a year; during the rains the plants in the open air will grow most luxuriantly and will give a much larger proportion of cuttings than they have done during the dry season.

5. The operations at Rungbee during April, in addition to the making of cuttings and the planting in the open air beds of 9,820 plants, consists of planting Cinchona Pahudiana in permanent plantations, making drains in nurseries and plantations and repairing the roads, all of which were much damaged during the heavy and sudden falls of rain occurring during the latter part of the month.

A new road giving access to the southern slope of the spur has also been finished during the month. The nursery for the distribution of Cinchona plants has been commenced during the month by 1,000 cuttings of Cinchona Officinalis having been placed in it.

DARJEELING,

T. ANDERSON, M. D.,
Superintendent, Botanical Gardens, and in charge of Cinchonæ Cultivation in Bengal.

Report of the Effects of the Cyclone of the 5th October on the Botanical Gardens.

From T. Anderson, Esq. M. D., Superintendent, Royal Botanic Gardens, to the Secretary to the Government of Bengal,—(No. 70, dated the 1st May 1865.)

I have the honor to submit a Report of the damages sustained by the Botanical Gardens in the Cyclone of the 5th October 1864. The number of trees uprooted is so great that the labour of ascertaining the number of specimens of the different species destroyed was not completed until the first week of March. This list had then to be arranged systematically, and the antiquated nomenclature still used by the European and Native Gardeners had to be altered for that which I have dopted in the recently published Catalogue of plants cultivated in the garden. Without the aid derived from the Catalogue this Report could not have been submitted in its present shape under a year.

2. The history and general character of the Cyclone as it occurred at Calcutta have been repeatedly narrated and are so well known to every one that no description is required here. As experienced in the Botanical Gardens, the Cyclone differed in being somewhat more violent than in Calcutta, and the influence of the storm-wave extended more inland. The greater fury of the storm in the Botanical Garden is accounted for by the garden being nearer the centre of the Cyclone than Calcutta, but principally by the open surface of the river, across which the gale at its height blew diagonally, and thus struck the garden with a force unbroken for the space of a mile by any obstacle whatever. Few trees fell before 11 o'clock on the 5th October, and almost none after 4-30 P. M. At 4 o'clock the great specimen of Adansonia digitata, the Baobab tree of Africa, was uprooted and fell with a crash that caused vibrations in the earth which were felt at a distance of some hundred yards. This tree, which had withstood the greatest force of the gale, seems to have at last given way from its roots having become loosened in the soil by the storm-wave, whose waters rose to a height of four feet on the trunk of the tree. Three gigantic specimens of Casuarina equisitifolia, the oldest of the species in the garden, and none of them less than 150 feet in height, fell comparatively early in the storm; one of them was seen in the act of falling about 11 A. M. Many trees, but especially Casuarina equisitifolia, and young specimens of teak, were not uprooted, but their stems were broken across fifteen or twenty feet above the ground, while every branch was wrenched off, and they are now nothing but bare poles without a leaf. The greatest damage to the garden was caused by the storm-wave, which broke over the low embankment protecting the garden towards the river at all the lower parts. This wave laid the greater part of the garden under water, in some places to a depth of six or seven feet. By it the river bank was injured, and in some places, where the soil is sandy, much earth was washed into the river and lost. Three large breaches were formed in the river bank, two were caused by ships being blown into the garden with great violence, while the storm-wave was at its highest point. The earth, loosened by the weight of the vessels, was washed away, and at the distance of twenty feet from the western side of my house a gap fifty feet long by twenty-seven wide and about ten feet deep was formed. A larger and deeper breach was made by a French vessel being driven into the bank opposite the seed-house. At the point where the khal, which divides the garden near its centre, enters the Hooghly, the sluice-gate was carried away along with the culvert, forming a gap about eighty feet in width, through which the tide flowed into the garden and the rice fields to the north. This has caused a large deposit of silt in the khal. The storm-wave rushed over the garden like a torrent sweeping away the gravel (broken brick or khooah consolidated by soorkee) from all the roads at a right angle to its course and strewing it over the lawn and on the flower beds. Nearly two miles of road have been much damaged, while the road on the river embankment, which extends from the great khal to Bishop's College, has been almost entirely destroyed. This wave also broke into the long chain of tanks whose surplus waters are drained into the river about 200 yards below my dwelling-house. The sluice-gate was broken by the pressure of the water, whose sudden rise carried away the parapets of the second bridge over the nulla connecting two of the tanks, and further on destroyed an old wooden bridge, lifting it off its masonry supports, which were thrown down. This devastating wave overthrew almost every shrub and small tree that had withstood the fury of the wind, loosened and swept away the soil about the roots of large trees, and thus caused many of them to fall even after the great force of the storm was exhausted. The garden was covered with straw brought up by the tide and storm-wave from the villages below: many hundred cart-loads of straw were collected and burned some weeks after the Cyclone. Timber and rubbish of all kinds were scattered every where, and even a portion of the helm of a ship was carried a quarter of a mile into the garden and was found at the base of the large tree of Gmelina arborea opposite the dwelling-house of the Gardener of the Agri-Horticultural Society. Near this a log of mahogany four feet in diameter and fifteen feet long was overturned by the storm-wave, and near the centre of the garden another log two feet thick and twenty feet long was carried some distance by the receding wave.

3. The above is a sketch of the principal features of the Cyclone as it occurred in this garden, but no description, however accurate or minute, could convey an idea of the devastation committed in the garden by this storm. The scene in the garden the morning after the Cyclone was most dismal. A thousand trees, many of them gigantic specimens and the pride of the garden, were prostrated, besides innumerable shrubs of which no count could be kept; nothing had been spared, and those trees that had not fallen were more or less stript of their branches; some recorded as standing were mere bare poles without a branch. Not a vestige of a leaf, flower, or fruit remained in the garden. The lawn roads and the tanks were blocked up by trees and fallen branches. All the buildings suffered more or less damage, and every one not built of bricks and mortar was thrown down.

4. The buildings in the garden suffered as follows:—

Superintendent's Dwelling-house.

This house from its exposed position suffered much damage. All the sun-shades and five of the large venetian screens in the verandahs of the middle story were blown down, about twenty doors were wrenched off their hinges, and most of the panes of glass in the doors of the south and east sides of the house were broken. The water of the storm-wave flooded the lower rooms of the house to a depth of five inches, but no damage was sustained except the rotting of mats by the deposit of silt which took place. The seed-house, being well sheltered by trees, received little damage; the sand plaster was, of course, stript off the outer walls and a few panes of glass were broken. The floors of this building being raised four feet above the ground were not flooded.

5. The Head European Gardener's house was the only other dwelling-house that received serious damage. The second story of this house, composed of very strong mat walls supported on a parapet of masonry with brick pillars, was completely blown away. The property in the room was buried amid the ruins. A quantity of valuable Memoranda and the records of the last fifteen years of the Department under the Head Gardener were kept in this room. The greater part of these were destroyed from being buried under the thatched roof, and some were scattered over the garden and lost. The two other dwelling-houses suffered very little damage beyond the loss of one or two doors and large patches of sand plaster from the outer walls. The Visitors' pavilion, the extensive thatched building used as a conservatory for the Orchidaceous and other valuable plants and the raising of seeds, the Coolies' lines, and indeed all erections built of any other material than bricks and mortar were levelled with the ground. Much loss was sustained by the destruction of the thatched conservatory; all the plants it sheltered were buried under a mass of grass, or were broken by the posts and heavy wooden frame-work of the building. Many of the most delicate species of Orchidaceæ were entirely lost, and the number of specimens of all species was so much reduced that now not half the fine collection of this family of plants remains. With a few exceptions, all the young plants raised from seed sown during the year were also killed by the falling of this shed.

6. In the nurseries of the stronger class of plants there were about 14,000 plants in pots when the Cyclone occurred: these were buried under the ruins of the mahogany and mango groves, where the plants were kept for the sake of shade. I am glad to be able to report that nearly all these plants have been saved, although they had to be left ten days under branches and trees.

7. All the plants of Vanilla growing on the stems of mahogany trees were killed either by the falling of the trees to which they were attached, or by the violence of the wind. In the operations of grafting, ringing, and layering considerable loss, both of time and of a valuable stock of young plants resulted from the Cyclone. The only young plants were made by these processes during the year that escaped was a tolerably complete set of grafts of the varieties of mango cultivated in the garden; these had been removed from the trees a few days before the Cyclone. In no others had the process been completed, and accordingly all were destroyed.

8. All the damage to buildings, to rare plants in pots, and to the nursery stock is of slight importance when compared with the wholesale destruction of trees, many of them the growth of seventy years, and the pride and ornament of this garden. Had the entire collection of plants in pots been lost, the greater part could have been re-placed in a comparatively short time, whereas even half a century will not be sufficient to restore the specimens of trees destroyed by the storm. Many of them exist no where in cultivation except in this garden, and some of them are known to Botanists only by dried specimens and descriptions of those trees now lost. Many of the most picturesque parts of the garden resulting from the grouping of trees, or from well developed single specimens, no longer exist. In the teak avenue along the road from Kyd's Monument to the large bridge over the khal only two mutilated specimens remain. The trees in this avenue were sixty-nine years old. Out of sixty-seven mahogany trees thirty-one have been blown down, two of which were sent to this garden by the Court of Directors of the East India Company in 1796. These two trees had attained a circumference of thirty feet six inches and had produced seed for the last two years. The mahogany grove, consisting of trees forty-five years old, is destroyed. The Casuarina avenue planted by Dr. Wallich has suffered severely. Only four trees in it are standing, and these are much injured. Three of the originally introduced specimens of this species, and which were the parents of nearly all the Casuarinas near Calcutta, were blown down. The magnificent specimen of Adansonia digitata, whose diameter is twelve feet, fell towards the end of the storm after the storm-wave had passed over the garden. All the trees of Amherstia nobilis have been partially uprooted; they are supported merely by their branches, and all of them must be removed after young plants have been obtained from them by layering. The great Banyan received considerable damage, but fortunately on the north side, where the loss of the branches does not in the least spoil the contour of the tree. The Pinetum, containing many fine specimens of Araucaria, suffered much from the storm. Of about twenty-five specimens of Araucaria not one has been left with the main stem entire; in most of the trees nearly a third of the stem and branches remain. Among Coniferae the destruction of all the trees of Pinus longifolia deserves notice; also of a very large specimen of Dammara orientalis introduced from Amboina in 1798.

9. Among all this destruction I am glad to be able to report that Cycadeae and palms, and indeed Endogenæ generally, have escaped with little injury. Only two species of palms have suffered severely, one is Areca catechu, the common betelnut palm, of which hardly a specimen now remains in the garden, and Arenga saccharifera, most of the trees of which have been blown out of the perpendicular, although few of them have been uprooted. The great destruction of exogens by the Cyclone, while endogenous species escaped, produced a peculiar effect on the scenery about Calcutta. The country as seen from the roof of my dwelling house, a height of 80 feet, appeared to be covered with three species of palms (Cocos nucifera, Phœnix sylvestris, Borassus flabelliformis) and bamboos.

10. There are many points of interest that suggest themselves as worthy of notice but they are too numerous to be included in a general report, and besides my engagements do not allow me time to enter on them. Some of the effects of the Cyclone on the flowering and fruiting of trees for some months after the storm must not, however, be passed over. The destruction of the foliage of the trees and shrubs at an unnatural period, and indeed at the time when the trees had ceased to grow and were maturing the woody growth of the rainy season, has had a strange influence on some species. The most general effect has been the absence of flowers in spring and departures from the usual course of shedding of leaves. Some of the most striking cases are :— first, no flowers have been produced by the mango trees at the usual period in February and March. Up to this date (15th April) I have not seen a mango flower this year. Butea frondosa, of which four trees remain in the garden, has retained the leaves it produced in October after the gale and has not flowered at all. The normal condition of this tree is to remain leafless during winter and in March to flower profusely, after which the leaves appear. The same condition has occurred in Butea parviflora, B. superba, and B. voiglii. Bauhinia variegata follows the same course as the species of Butea. This year, although it produced a second crop of leaves in October, unlike Butea, it lost those leaves in December, and the only two trees of it left standing flowered most abundantly at the usual time in March before the leaves appeared. Terminalia Catappa, and all deciduous species of Ficus, including Ficus indica and venosa, re-produced their leaves shortly after the Cyclone, losing this foliage as usual in the last fortnight of March and immediately acquiring their full leaf. Bongainvillea spectabilis, one of the most gorgeous sights of this garden in the beginning of March, has not flowered; one plant only produced about a dozen flowers. The half prostrate trees of Amhestia nobilis produced altogether only one abortive spike with sickly flowers, while two young plants that flowered freely last year, and are still standing almost uninjured, have shewn no flowers. Jonesia asoca, which yearly vies in splendour with Amherstia nobilis, produced only a few ill-shaped flowers, although some of the trees are apparently uninjured. A species of Ulmus (Uerosa?) a tree about 60 feet high, has for the last three years flowered regularly in the middle of March before the leaf buds; this year it has remained partially in leaf all winter and has produced only three or four flowers. The flowering or fruiting of trees for the first time in India shortly after the Cyclone may be accounted for by changes resulting from the sudden check given to growth, and specially to the ripening of wood in October. I do not, however, attach much importance to the two cases of this kind that occur to me; one is the flowering of Dion edule about two months after the gale, and of an old specimen of Gustavia augusta, which has been twenty years in the garden without flowering. It was partially up-rooted and lay at an angle of nearly 45 degrees and in this position in February it produced a large number of flowers, three of which have been followed by well formed fruits. Other similar cases may occur as the year advances.

11. Some trees have been killed by the mere force of the wind, or by the violent strain they have sustained; the pressure during the height of the storm is said to have been 120 lbs. on the square foot. Some species, especially of Dipterocarpeæ, Guttiferæ, the genera Dalbergia, Pterocarpus, Acacia, Araucaria, and Dammara have their stem covered with the exudations of resin or gum which have oozed through the bark on the upward flow of the sap in March.

12. There are very few species of trees in the garden of which specimens have not been thrown down; the only species that seem to have entirely escaped, and of which the specimens, with few exceptions, are unique, are—

Crataeva Roxburghii.
Flacourtia cataphracta.
Hydnocarpus inebriens.
Gynocardia odorata.
Eriodendron orientale.
Sterculia ornata.

Diospyros sapota.
——— embryoptris.
Spathodea Rheedii.
——— adenophylla.
Vitex saligna.
Camphora officinarum.
Beilschmiedia Roxburghiana.
Cryptocarya floribunda.

13. The greater number of species of Ficus have also escaped. The powerful aerial roots of many of this species enable these trees to resist the most violent storms.

14. An endeavor was made to ascertain the number of specimens of trees that remain in the garden, but the time it was found that the work would occupy was larger than could be spared for more important investigations, accordingly, after examining about one-fifth of the extent of the garden, the work had to be abandoned.

15. It is apparent from this imperfect enquiry that at least one-half of the trees have been blown down, while nearly all that are standing are very much shattered.

16. In the following extensive list of trees uprooted by the Cylone no account is taken of innumerable small trees and shrubs, nor of injuries to trees that may have been left standing; all such have been excluded from the list, which thus contains only species that have been thrown down and destroyed. The list contains 1,010 specimens distributed among 364 species, which is nearly the entire number of arborescent species in the garden.

17. Dr. Wallich drew up a very full Report on the effects of the gale of 3rd June 1842. It appears from his Report that that storm did great damage to the garden. Dr. Wallich states that 362 trees were blown down. I observe that in this number he includes shrubs sometimes not more than five feet high, and he points out that of the 362 trees blown down 106 were teak trees, many of which were of large size.

18. This gale of 1842 happened before Mr. Griffith had denuded the garden of most of its fine timber trees. The garden was then thickly covered with trees, and accordingly the number lost in that gale bore a very small proportion to the vast number left standing. In May 1843, eleven months after the gale, Mr. Griffith, in his Report to Government, says—"At present the garden is literally choked with trees." Had more trees existed in the garden when the Cyclone of last October occurred it is most likely that less damage would have been sustained, as the trees would have sheltered each other. In a garden liable to be devasted at any time by furious storms every arborescent species should be represented by at least five specimens. Unique specimens of many species must always exist, but still the endeavours of the Director should be to procure, if possible, five specimens of each species.

Passenger Boats.—A charge of a ¼ (a quarter) pie per head per mile over and above the toll leviable from the boats by measurement by the Rules passed under Notification No. 235 of this day's date.

N.B.—This charge will be leviable from the owners of the boats and not from passengers.

2. The Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal, under the power vested in him by Section VIII. of the said "Canals' Act, 1864," hereby appoints the Agent and Manager of the East India Irrigation and Canal Company for the time being to collect tolls on the navigable channels aforesaid, viz., the Midnapore Canal and the Balasore Canal.

No. 235.

The following Rules having reference to the MIDNAPORE CANAL and the BALASORE CANAL have been passed this day by the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal under the provisions of Sections XI. and XII. of the " CANALS' ACT, 1864,"—(No. V., B. L. C.)

I. EVERY Vessel on entering either of the above Canals shall be liable to measurement for the purpose of ascertaining the amount of toll the Vessel should pay according to the Schedule of rates authorized by Government to be charged on the Canal.

II. The tonnage of every Vessel, whether laden or empty, shall, for the purposes of the "Canals' Act, 1864," and of these Rules, be determined by the following measurements:—

a. The product of half the length of the Vessel from stem to stern measured along the water line, multiplied by the interior greatest breadth of the Vessel, multiplied by the depth from the water line to the bottom of the Vessel, is to be taken as the number of maunds upon which toll shall be levied.

b. The measurement of the length is to be made in feet rejecting inches, and the measurment of the breadth and depth in feet and quarters of feet rejecting portions of less than a quarter of a foot.

c. In calculating the amount of toll to be levied on Vessels exceeding 100 maunds tonnage, any fraction of 100 maunds less than 25 maunds is to be omitted; exceeding 25 and not exceeding 50 maunds is to be charged as 25 maunds only; exceeding 50 and not exceeding 75 maunds to be charged as 50 maunds only; and exceeding 75 maunds as 75 maunds only. Above 1,000 maunds no fraction of 100 maunds is to be charged Toll will be charged on Vessels under 100 maunds tonnage on the actual measurements of the Vessels, omitting fractions of tens of maunds.

III. Every Vessel entering either of the above Canals shall be furnished with a ticket on paying the prescribed toll. The ticket shall specify the Station at which it has been issued, the name of the person in charge of the Vessel, the date the Vessel entered the Canal, the point to which it may proceed in the Canal, the maundage of the Vessel, the amount of toll charged, and the number of days for which the Vessel may remain in the Canal, and the date of such last day. The number of days which the Vessel may remain in the Canal without additional payment shall be calculated at the rate of one day for every eight miles or portion of eight miles to be traversed.

IV. Toll may be paid at the first Station either for the entire number of Toll Stations on the line of navigation, or for any less number of Stations.

V. The tickets thus given may be demanded for inspection by any duly authorized Canal Officer and must be kept on board and at hand for that purpose. They must be shewn at each Toll Station the Vessel has to pass as a Passport that no further payment of toll is to be demanded. The tickets shall be delivered up at the last Toll Station.

VI. Owners of Vessels may compound by the payment of a fixed sum for the use of the whole or a portion of either of the above Canals for any period that may be agreed upon, not exceeding one year. Each Vessel so compounded for shall be furnished with a ticket shewing the amount of toll paid, the period for which the toll has been compounded for, and the limits of the Canal within which the Vessel may pass; such ticket shall be kept on board the Vessel and shall be produced when required under Rule V., but shall be given up only on the date of the expiry of the period for which granted and at the Station from whence issued.

VII. Duplicates of lost tickets, of which the numbers and the dates of entry can be satisfactorily established, will be granted by Officers in charge of Toll Stations on payment of a fee of one Rupee.

VIII. Vessels remaining in the Canals for a period exceeding that allowed under Rule III. will pay a demurrage of eight annas per 100 maunds per diem for each day or part of a day that they may remain in excess.

IX. No boats above 18 feet beam over all, and no rafts or floats of more than 10 feet width and 150 feet in length will be allowed to enter the Canals.

X. It will not be compulsory for the locks to be opened to single Vessels of less than 500 maunds burden, except in the case of mail or dispatch boats; but the locks shall be opened for the passage of boats at least twice a day.

XI. Vessels must have their masts fitted so that they can be let down with ease and speed, and when under sail Vessels must always keep in the middle of the Canal; when being tracked Vessels are, as far as practicable, to keep to their port or left side of the Canals.

XII. All Vessels anchoring at night are to keep to their port or left bank of the Canals.

XIII. Only one Vessel shall be allowed to make fast along and in a line with the Canal banks, and no Vessel shall be made fast, or be placed outside of Vessels so secured without the permission of a Canal Officer. No Vessel shall, however, be placed in such a position as to endanger the safety of other Vessels, to obstruct their passage, or to impede the navigation; and no bamboos or poles shall be allowed to be erected on Vessels when at anchor: any infringement of this rule will be punishable by a fine not exceeding Rupees 5 for each offence.

XIV. Every Vessel when put to shall be securely fastened and shall at all times have some person in attendance on board of it: any infringement of this rule will be punishable by a fine not exceeding Rupees 5 for each offence.

XV. In every case of wreck or obstruction of the channel by sunken Vessels, the Canal Officers may call upon the person in charge of the Vessel to remove the same without delay, and shall give every reasonable assistance towards so doing. But should the owner of the Vessel or Raft be not forthcoming, or should he not use reasonable expedition in removing the obstruction, or should he decline or fail to use proper assistance which may be offered to him by the Canal Officers, these Officers may undertake the removal of the obstruction themselves at the cost of the owner of the boat, recovering the expense in the manner laid down in Section IX. of "the Canals' Act, 1864."

XVI. If the Canal Officers be unable to ascertain the name and place of business or of abode of the owner of the cargo of any Vessel or Boat seized under the Canals' Act, he shall notify the seizure in the most public manner available.

XVII. In the event of any damage or injury being occasioned to the Canal works by wilfulness or negligence on the part of any person in charge of a Vessel, the Canal Officers may detain the Vessel within the Canal for a period not exceeding twenty-four hours, provided that within that period the Canal Officers shall lodge a complaint against such person in charge of the Vessel before a Magistrate under Section XVI. of the Canals' Act.

XVIII. The banks or berms of the Canals shall not be used as wharves for the deposit of goods under a penalty of 10 Rupees for each offence; but except in special cases, when the permission of the Canal Officers will be necessary, all articles shall be removed to the outer bank of the Canals, and all such articles as shall not be finally removed from within the boundaries of the Canals within a period of six days after being so deposited shall be liable to a charge of four annas per 100 maunds.

XIX. The Canals may be closed once a year for effecting the necessary repairs to them on one month's notice of the intention so to close them, but in the event of any sudden emergency the Canals may be closed at any time without prior notice, and no claim shall be made in such case by owners of Vessels or others for compensation on account of detention.

XX. All offences against the provisions of these Rules shall be punishable as provided for in Section XVIII. of the "Canals' Act, 1864," and all fines imposed may be recovered in the manner mentioned in Section XVII. of the same Act.

XXI. The term "Canal Officers" in the foregoing Rules shall include the persons alluded to in Section VIII. of "the Canals' Act, 1864," and any other persons who may be specially appointed to exercise such powers by the person appointed to collect the tolls.

FORT WILLIAM,

Revised Notification.

No. 690.

Fort William, the 23rd June 1865.

IN pursuance of the Notification from this Office bearing date the 3rd March 1864, notice is hereby given that fifteen lakhs of maunds of the Government Stock of Pungah or Boiled Salt stored in the Depôts noted in the margin will be put up for sale by public auction on the 5th of July next.

The sale will be held at the Presidency, the place to be hereafter notified.

The following are the Conditions of sale:—

1st.—The Salt will be offered for sale at an upset price to be determined at the time with reference to the then state of the market, and it will be sold to the highest bidder above that price.

	Depôts.	Mds.
Of Hidgellee—Russoolpore of 1267, 1268, and 1269 S. S.		1,11,000
	Kistonuggur of 1264, 1265 and 1268 S. S.	1,59,000
	Ramnuggur of 1268 S. S. ...	1,04,000
	Kaleenuggur of 1267, 1268, and 1269 S. S.	1,85,000
	Pooreeghatta of 1268	36,000
			5,95,000
Of Tumlook—Ghât Narainpore Russulpore Salt at the Depôt ...	of 1267 and 1268 ...		28,000
Of Chittagong—Sudder Ghât Agency Salt of 1268 S. S., and Arracan Salt of 1861-62 and 1862-63			51,000
Of Orissa—Pooree of 1268 and 1269			2,40,000
Of Presidency Golahs at Sulkea, Balasore, of 1265, 1266, 1267, and 1268			5,86,000
			15,00,000

N. B.—The quantities here stated are those computed to be in store on the 1st proximo, from which date the local sales have been stopped till further orders. Deficiency in Stock of any year will be provided for by delivery of like Salt of other year at the Depôt, or by a refun[illegible] price paid.

2*nd*.—The sale shall commence at the hour of 11 A. M. of the day abovementioned and shall not be continued after the hour of 5 P. M; but if at that hour any of the Lots advertised for sale shall remain unsold the sale may, at the discretion of the Board of Revenue, be resumed on the next day following (not being Sunday or a public holiday) at the hour of 11 A. M., and so on until the whole of the remaining Lots are disposed of, or, if the whole quantity advertised shall not be sold on the day appointed, the Board may dispose of the Lots which remain on hand at a future sale.

3*rd*.—Each Lot will comprize one thousand maunds of Salt, the maund being of forty seers, of eighty tolahs to the seer.

4*th*.—The Salt will be deliverable from the Store Depôts.

5*th*.—A Promissory Note for the sum of one hundred Rupees shall be taken as a deposit on each Lot from the purchaser in the Sale Room and before the Lot is registered in the Sale Book, and all such Promissory Notes shall be redeemed on the part of the purchasers at this Office by Bank of Bengal Receipts, or by substitution of other Public Securities of the Bengal Government on or before 4 o'clock in the afternoon of the fifth day after the sale, or on the other hand failing such redemption by the time aforesaid, then the Lot or Lots for which no Bank of Bengal Receipts, or deposit of other Public Securities as aforesaid shall have been delivered in shall be re-sold at such time or times and under such conditions of re-sale as the Board of Revenue shall see fit. All losses and expenses whatsoever attending such re sale shall be borne and paid by the defaulters, whilst any profit accruing from such re-sale shall be credited to Government.

6*th*.—The Promissory Notes taken on the day of sale under the last-mentioned condition, if remaining unredeemed at 4 o'clock of the fifth day following the day of sale, will be placed in the hands of the Solicitor to the Government for realization.

7*th*.—No Tender of Money, Bank of Bengal Receipts, or Public Securities on account of Salt upon which the prescribed deposit may not have been made before 4 o'clock of the fifth day following the day of sale will be afterwards accepted.

8*th*.—The price on the Salt shall be paid for within fifteen days from the day of sale; and in case any Lots shall not be so paid for and adjusted, then the cash deposit made under the fifth condition, or any Public Securities that may have been deposited on account of such Lots, shall be forfeited and the Salt shall be disposed of on account of Government at such time and in such manner as the Board of Revenue shall think fit, and the first purchaser shall further be required to make good any loss or difference of price between that obtained at the re-sale and the amount at which the Salt was first purchased, forfeiting all advantages that may arise from such re-sale.

9*th*.—The duty on the Salt shall, unless the purchaser wishes to bond it, be paid within sixty days from the day of Sale. For any Lots which may remain uncleared beyond the above period of sixty days, excepting such as may be bonded, Golah Rent will thereafter be charged at the rate of four Rupees per mensem for each 100 maunds.

10*th*.—The Salt may be bonded in a Government or a Private Golah under the Bonding Rules applicable to Sea-imported Salt.

11*th*.—Certificates specifying the name or names of the purchaser or purchasers, the number of the Lots sold, and the description of Salt purchased will be delivered on payment of the deposit at the time and in the manner mentioned in condition 5th, and each Certificate to be so granted must be returned to the Office of the Board before any Orders and Rowannahs (corresponding with such Certificate) for the delivery of the Salt shall be issued.

12*th*.—No Orders and Rowannahs for the delivery of any Lot of Salt shall be issued until payment in full of price and duty shall have been made for the same.

13*th*.—Fees must be paid for Rowannahs agreeably to Rule 27 prescribed by the Government of Bengal under Section XI., Act VII. (B. C.) of 1864.

14*th*.—No deposit of Public Securities under the 5th of the present conditions will be received in this Office, except from the party recorded as the purchaser in the Sale Book, or his authorized Agent. The receipt for deposit of Public Securities will be granted only in the name of such purchaser, and the Securities so deposited will be returned when payment in full has been made by the said purchaser or his order.

15*th*.—The Officer superintending the sale on the part of the Board of Revenue is empowered to reject, at his discretion, the bid of any individual unless such individual shall on demand render at the time a deposit, either in Government of India Notes, Bank of Bengal Receipts, or Government Securities, a sum equal to the amount for which a Promissory Note would otherwise be taken under the 5th of these conditions.

16*th*.—The purchaser of any Lot shall have the option of naming and purchasing in immediate succession, at the same price and under the same conditions, any number of Lots of the same Salt, not exceeding altogether fifty Lots; provided always that there remain a sufficient number of Lots of the Salt to complete the said fifty.

17*th*.—In the event of any dispute or difference touching or concerning any matter or question arising out of the sale of the Salt included in this Notification, or adjustment of the account thereof, the same shall and may be tried and decided in the High Court of Judicature at Fort William in Bengal.

By Order of the Board of Revenue,

T. Bruce Lane,

Junior Secretary.

P. S.—Attention is drawn to Conditions 8 and 9.

SUPPLEMENT TO

The Calcutta Gazette.

WEDNESDAY, JUNE 28, 1865.

OFFICIAL PAPERS.

A SUPPLEMENT to the GAZETTE will henceforward be published, containing such Official Papers and Information as the Government of Bengal may deem to be of interest to the Public, and such as may usefully be made known.

Non-Subscribers to the GAZETTE may receive the SUPPLEMENT separately on a payment of six Rupees per annum if delivered in Calcutta, or twelve Rupees if sent by Post.

No Official Orders or Notifications, the publication of which in the GAZETTE is required by Law, or which it has been customary to publish in the GAZETTE, will be included in the SUPPLEMENT. For such Orders and Notifications the body of the GAZETTE must be looked to as heretofore.

Annual Report on the Hill Tracts of Chittagong for the Year 1864.

From W. GORDON YOUNG, ESQ., Commissioner of the Chittagong Division, to the Secretary to the Government of Bengal,—(No. 76, dated the 26th March 1865.)

I HAVE the honor to forward, herewith, the Annual Report for 1864 of the Superintendent of Hill Tracts. It has been drawn up with care, and it gives, I think, a generally correct view of matters connected with that interesting, but comparatively little known country.

2. Such remarks as seem called for from me I have made (for facility of reference) in the form of marginal notes in juxta-position to the paragraphs of Mr. Kilby's Report to which they relate. I here merely append a Tabular Statement of the Judicial work connected with the Hill Tracts which has been disposed of by myself.

3. As many persons are beginning to take an interest in the Hill District, and to seek for information regarding it, I would suggest that parts, or the whole of Mr. Kilby's Report, might be with advantage published in the Gazette Supplement, either with or without my marginal notes.

From G. C. KILBY, ESQ., Officiating Superintendent, Hill Tracts, to the Commissioner of the Chittagong Division,—(No. 1, dated the 8th February 1865.)

SIR,

I HAVE the honor to submit the Annual Report on the Hill Tracts for the year 1864.

2. During the last year the office of Superintendent was held by Mr. Makgill till 27th September, by Baboo Obhoy Chunder Dass from that date to 4th October, and since then by me.

3. Much that I write in this Report has necessarily been collected from the Office records as it occurred before I took charge, and for the same reason I have not as full information on all points as I might have had.

4. I have, with a few additions and modifications, divided the Report under the same heads as were adopted by Mr. Makgill last year.

Kookies and other neighbouring savage tribes.—These savages are divided into three tribes of Kookies,* one of Shindoos, and one of Khoomees; among these the Shindoos (living on the Koladyne) are considered the most powerful, but until the present year the Kookies gave us the most trouble, and we have opened communications and carried on negociations with them only. In this we seem to have been successful, as during the year under report we have no reason to suppose that the Kookies were engaged in any hostile attack upon our villages, and the two previous years were totally unmarked by any outrage whatever. The only two matters in which the Kookies have this year offended are, that a Chief of the Syloo Tribe robbed some Bengalee wood-cutters, probably because they refused to pay the black-mail which the Kookies had formerly been in the habit of receiving; and that Rutton Pooyea detained two British subjects who had escaped from the Shindoos, telling them they must serve him for one year before he would let them go.† We also, on our part, have, if report is to be believed, offended Rutton Pooyea, Chief of one of the three Kookie Tribes, in taking away some muskets which he brought into Kassalong after an order prohibiting armed Kookies from entering that Bazaar had been passed, and by imprisoning one of his people for stealing a rat-trap.

Rutton Pooyea.
Syloo.
Howlong.

† The men were taken away by the Shindoos in a raid of which I shall speak hereafter, escaped from them to the Howlong Kookies, who sent them to Rutton Pooyea, from whom they again escaped to our Guard at Kassalong.

5. If these peaceful relations be owing to the meetings we have annually been holding with the Kookies, and to the presents they have received from us, we have been less successful with them this year than heretofore. This year the annual meeting was very scantily attended, a few men of the Syloo Tribe, with two Syloo's Karbarees, and Rutton Pooyea's brother, with a few of his people, only having come down to Kassalong, where it was held, while none of Howlong's people and none of the more considerable Chiefs of the Rutton Pooyea and Syloo Tribes came to meet us.

6. I have already reported at length on this subject, and this is not the place to give in detail the reasons to which were due the failure of the meeting; but the chief reasons are, I think, that the Kookies, like all savages, are very indolent and lazy and are tired of coming down year after year to see us, and they seem to have been disappointed in not having received some large sums of money, which were apparently promised them unauthorizedly by our emissaries in former years, and do not now believe they would receive all that is promised them. Howlong and Syloo, too, have never come down; they seem to dread treachery on our part should they render themselves into our power. I am now trying to induce those Chiefs to meet me through Mân Raja, one of the Chiefs holding a part of these Tracts under Government, who is reported to have great friendship with Rutton Pooyea and some influence with Oahn Nooya and Vandoola, the Chiefs of the other two Kookie* tribes.†

* Syloo.
Howlong.

† Since writing the above my Interpreter, who has returned from a visit to the Kookies, has told me that all the Chiefs have agreed to come in if the Mân Raja will go to them, or send his son as a hostage till their safe return. A further report as to the result of the measures now being taken will be submitted.

7. The Shindoos and Khoomees live at a much greater distance from the country inhabited by the subjects of our Government than do the Kookies, and with them we have as yet opened no communication, and I scarcely think it possible for us to reach the Shindoo country except by the Koladyne, near the banks of which river their villages are situated. The above two tribes have been in the habit for many years of descending into that portion of the Hill Tracts south of the Kurnafoolee which is locally known by the name of the Poang's country, slaying the Poang Rajah's ryots, burning his villages, and taking off all the women and children they can seize. Hitherto they have been left to the protection of the Poang, who received a remission of Rupees 2,600 for such a purpose, but he has repeatedly proved himself unable to cope with his savage neighbours. Last year two distinct raids were made by Shindoos in the Poang's country, each of which was attended with great loss of life to the peaceful Hillmen and to the leading away captive by the savages of many of the subjects of the British Government. Elaborate reports have been written on this subject, I need therefore give only the outlines of each attack.

8. On the 15th and 19th January a band of Shindoos attacked two villages, killed three men, one woman, and a girl, and carried away twenty-three men, women, and children into slavery, where, with the exception of the two men who escaped to the Howlong Kookies, they have remained ever since.

9. Again in the month of April a band of Shindoos attacked a body of twenty-six Bengalee wood-cutters, shot five, and captured nine, one of whom escaped. The savages then attacked a Mugh Village, and out of fifty-six inhabitants killed four, mortally wounded two, and took thirty prisoners. Besides this one child was drowned in attempting to escape from them. None of the captives have returned.

10. Mr. Makgill, with a view of ransoming these persons, wrote to the Deputy Commissioner of Akyab. The matter was referred to the Chief Commissioner, who was in favor of a conference to be held on the Koladyne, but Colonel Phayre prohibited the using of any compulsory measures, and negatived Mr. Makgill's proposition to connect the posts of Akyab with the Hill Tract posts on the ground that it would prove quite useless. As far as my information goes nothing, however, has been done in the matter of ransom up to date.

11. Police.—In consequence of these continual raids, and to prevent the annual massacres to which Her Majesty's subjects in the Poang's country have been subject, strong representations were made to Government to sanction a Police Force to assist the Poang in guarding his country, and for this purpose Mr. Carnac, Captain Graham, and yourself were appointed to determine what Force of Police was necessary for all the duties that would devolve upon it.

12. You settled that the Force north of the Kurnafoolee, including the Reserve for the whole country, should be 150 men,‡ and considered that 80 men should be stationed at four posts in the Poang's country. As it had also been found that Hillmen would not enlist on the former pay of 6 and 7 Rupees, and as none but Hillmen could live in these Hills, the pay was raised to Rupees 8, 9, and 10.

2 Posts of twenty men on Rankheong - 40

13. As these changes were authorized only in 1865 the full number sanctioned has not yet been enlisted, and the southern posts have not been taken up;§ but Mr. Scott, the Assistant Superintendent, is using his best endeavors to complete his complement and has gone down to the Poang's country to fix upon the sites where the stockades are to be made. Orders have also been issued to the Poang Raja to equip seventy men to be stationed at three other posts who will be taught the English drill by our Constables. With this Force it is hoped we shall be able to prevent the Shindoos from committing their usual ravages; but as the Frontier is very long, communication very difficult, and as the Joomeas build their villages in midst of dense jungle, thus laying themselves open to a surprise, I cannot state with any confidence that we shall be successful.

§ Since writing the above the following posts have been taken up:—
Phuroh Kheong, Chetmah Kheong, Narai Cherree—all south of the Kurnafoolee.

14. Besides these reasons there is, I consider, a still graver cause for fear. In the margin of paragraph 12 I have shewn the sanctioned strength in each post; by this you can see that in only two posts is the number of men in excess of twenty, and there are three of even smaller strength

15. When it is considered that out of the available Force at each post some men will be required to guard the stockade, and one or two may be ill, I am much afraid that the remainder, enlisted as they are from the timid races of these Hills, mixed with a few Munipoorees and some Bengalees, would not dare to venture out of their stockades to attack any marauding body of savages.

16. In your joint Report (paragraph 10) you assume, because the Kookies have not committed any raids since the northern posts have been taken up, that the Shindoos will also cease their expeditions when the southern posts are established. Even granting the premises, I cannot come to the same conclusion, for the Shindoos have never been punished or made to feel our power as have the Kookies, nor have we tried to conciliate the Shindoos by yearly presents, and in the above proposition an important point seems to me to have been overlooked which, I consider, affects the whole argument. In the margin I give the approximate numbers of men in each post in the years 1861, 1862, 1863, and 1664 as I have learnt them from Mr. Scott, who was here at the time. By this you will see that in 1864-65 not much more than a quarter of the men were or are sanctioned for the posts first mentioned than were stationed there in 1861, but there were more than twice as many in 1862, while in 1863 the whole Northern Frontier between Kassalong and Ramghur was left bare of men, so that it can scarcely be said with any justice that the Kookies have not attacked us because we had posts, and, excepting in 1863, our present power to prevent and punish raids cannot be compared with the power we had in the previous years.

Manik Cherree ...	6	6	6	6	6

17. Since their decrease in strength our posts have never been put to the trial; the Kookies having been defeated by the larger guards, may dread to encounter the smaller ones, but the Shindoos come fresh into the field without previous defeat to damp them, and I am afraid, if either the Shindoos or Kookies should descend, that they will discover that the posts at their present strength need not prevent them from ravaging the country.

18. For these reasons I have always urged that each Frontier post should be manned by at least thirty-five men.

19. When the new Police was first introduced in the Hill Tracts its Officers seemed to be under the impression that they were bound to act precisely as they would have done in a Bengal Regulation District, and as the method of procedure of the Courts is quite distinct some inconvenience was the result, especially in the Poang's country, as the Poang has been for many years invested with Police powers, and it was considered likely that the two sets of Police would clash. This has been remedied by the interference of the Constabulary having been limited to heinous crimes and grave breaches of the peace.

20. Their principal duty will now be to guard the Frontier, to prevent the passage of arms and ammunition to the Kookies, and to prevent and detect robberies, murders, and armed riots.

21 Mr. Makgill was much opposed to division of the former power of the Superintendent of Hill Tracts by the appointment of a Superintendent of Police, whom he considered to be in a manner independent of his authority; but I am happy to state that, owing to the harmony existing in the official relations between myself and Mr. Scott, I have been sensible of little of this weakening of authority, and, as far as my experience goes, I have had no reason to think that such division has yet been detrimental to this District.

22. Mr. Scott has considerable experience of the Hill people, is very anxious to do his duty well, and spares no exertion in travelling about the District, looking to the drill of his men, and seeing that they are effective for active duty. This last is the most important part of the work of a Police Officer in the Hill Tracts.

I concur in the good opinion here expressed of Mr. Scott.
W. G. Y.,
Commissioner.

23. Justice.—I append Statements of the Criminal, Civil, and Revenue cases instituted and disposed of during the past year.

24. I have prepared a simple annual Statement for 1864, shewing the description of Criminal cases tried, and the number of persons convicted, acquitted, and who await trial. As this is the first Statement of the kind submitted hitherto, I am unable to institute any complete comparison between this and the previous years; but Captain Graham, in his Report for 1862, states that one culpable homicide, one attempt to murder, one murder, two dacoities, one highway robbery, one rape, and one suspicion of murder appeared in his Statements. These were, however, explained away; the culpable homicide arose from mortification ensuing on a slight wound given in a quarrel; the attempt at murder was, one Sepoy of the 5th Bengal Military Police Battalion shooting at another and missing him; the murder was an accident out-shooting deer; in one of the dacoities nothing was robbed, and the other was not a dacoity at all; the highway robbery was committed in Chittagong and there was no proof that Hillmen were concerned in it; the rape case arose from a man eloping with a girl to marry her according to the Hill custom, which is not looked upon by Hillmen as an offence, and the suspicion of murder came from Chittagong; a man it seems had gone into the jungles and was not seen again, but no one was suspected of killing him. And Mr. Makgill reports for 1863 that no crime worse than a case of wounding occurred in that year, so that more crime appears to have been committed by the actual Hill tribes this year than in former years.

25. Doubtless more offences are committed than came before the Courts, for this reason an increase in the convictions and in the number of heinous cases tried is, I think, a sign of the well working of the Courts and Police; but on the other hand, it is probably better, in petty cases, that the people should adhere to their old customs of arbitration, either by the Village Elders or by their Dewans or Rowajahs, and an increase in petty Criminal cases is therefore to be deprecated.

I quite concur in the remarks made in this paragraph.
W. G. Y.,
Commissioner.

26. The following cases alone call for a brief notice:—

In the murder case two Mooroongs—Tewai and Sewango—came together to a Bengalee Village: Tewai said he had cotton to sell and induced two Mahomedans to take Rupees 140 and go with him to buy it. Sewango had gone before Tewai and the Bengallees were seen going to Tewai's village, and afterwards he was seen with them carrying a dao and musket. As they did not return for some days a relative of the two Bengalees complained at the Thannah. On investigation a woman told the Police that Tewai's wife knew all about the matter, she, when asked, admitted he had confessed to her that he had murdered two Bengalees and he had burnt them; she shewed the Police the ashes of the murdered men; near these was found a key belonging to them which fitted the lock of a box in their houses, and a bloody cloth, and hidden under the earth was discovered a bloody dao and Tewai's musket. He afterwards confessed that he had shot both the Bengalees with one bullet for the sake of their money,* and he also admitted that he had no cotton to sell. The other defendant, against whom there was no evidence, and who had been sent up by the Police on suspicion, was discharged and Tewai was committed to your Court, where he was convicted of culpable homicide and sentenced to transportation for life.

* Before you he said the Bengalees had struck him and he shot them a little after.

27. In the attempt to commit culpable homicide a man and his son-in-law disputed about some cotton. Somebody (unknown) urged the son-in-law to shoot the old fellow, he raised his gun and fired, but the father-in-law got behind some jungle and the shot did not take effect. The man and a Dewan, who was present and said to be abetting, were committed to your Court; the first was sentenced to six months' rigorous imprisonment, the latter was acquitted.

28. The dacoity came before me on 31st December and was remanded for re-investigation. A man and his wife living out in the Jooms were bound at night and their houses looted by some seven or eight people, of whom, they say, they recognised three, but little property was taken and the complainants were not injured. Defendants say they are charged maliciously because of a quarrel about some Jooming ground.† The case of illegal assembly has been reported to you before, it is the one in which Ongya Phroo, a Mugh, gave out that he was going to be the new king in place of the Poang Raja and that his dominion would extend all over the Hill Tracts and from Cox's Bazaar to the Mugh Bazaar in Dacca. Some hundreds of armed villagers collected under this new Chief, but they committed no outrages and surrendered themselves to the Assistant Superintendent of Police and a few Constables as soon as they were ordered to do so. The pretender was imprisoned for six months' and two other ringleaders for three months each. In connection with this case I was ordered to inquire into and report upon the grievances that the Poang's ryots had against him. I found their only just complaint was that the Poang could not guard them from the Kookies and Shindoos, but this, owing rather to his poverty than to his want of inclination. The new Raja, as he is called, being afraid to live under the Poang again when released from prison came to me and I gave him a site near the Purrah Guard, where he will be safe from the Shindoos and the Poang, and will be a neighbour to the Guard, who would otherwise be twenty miles away from human habitation and would probably feel inclined to desert rather than live in their lonely position. Ongya Phroo wished to pay the Capitation Tax to me instead of to the Poang, and wished, in fact, to be independent of him, but this I have peremptorily forbidden, and when writing to the Poang not to prevent the migration of Ongya Phroo's villages, assured him that all his former rights as landlord over Ongya Phroo and his villagers would remain in force.

† This case has since been dismissed for want of evidence.

29. Registration.—Late in 1863 certain rules for registration very similar to those in force in Sonthal Pergunnahs were promulgated for the Hill Tracts. A term of three months was allowed for registration of all deeds, and a double fee was imposed for deeds registered after that term and within six months. As this was a novel rule to a people not much accustomed to pay attention to any law, many deeds were not registered within the time allowed and have thus become invalid and many complaints are made about it. Then the rules include almost every description of deed for the smallest sums; and as in this large Tract, where communication is very difficult, there are only two Courts, the principal of which alone is much resorted to, people are put to much trouble in having to come to register their deeds and thus commercial operations and time-bargains are greatly hampered.

30. I am thinking of proposing some modifications, but will discuss them at another time and in another letter. In the margin I have given a statement of the number of deeds registered, fees received, &c.

31. Tolls have been levied on the jungle produce of the Hills since 12th February 1862 on the River Kurnafoolee, and since 12th February 1864 in the Sunkoo, Matamohoree, and Bagkhallee Rivers. They give as much revenue to Government as the aggregate amount formerly* receivable from all other sources, are easily levied, and are so just and moderate that no one is injured by them. From the 1st January 1865 the principal river, the Kurnafoolee, has been farmed, under orders of Government, to the Kalindee Rance at an annual rental of Rupees 7,566, and I shall propose the letting of the other rivers to the Poang, but an Annual Report is not the place to treat of such matters.

* The exception now is the Waste Land of which much has been sold, as I shall proceed to shew.

32. Capitation Tax.—This Tax is a rude substitute for rent for the use of soil. It differs from rent in so much that the amount of the Tax is not proportioned to the amount of land cultivated, nor even to the number of cultivators, but is an unvarying sum levied upon each household, no matter whether few or many.

33. Different rates are taken by the different farmers, but all on the same principle and under the same rules, one of which is that no widow or widower, no unmarried man or maiden is charged any thing though they may, by inheritance or industry, be the richest persons in their villages and may cultivate the most land; but as rich men are never content till they have married, and women stay unmarried no longer than they can help, and the children leave their father's houses, marry and make new households, the families are generally pretty much of the same number and strength and little substantial injustice is done.

34. Another very curious rule is also in force and very cheerfully obeyed, that is, as the tax is not leviable on the land the people themselves are considered the farm. Thus if one of the Chiefs sells a Talook, he does not sell the right of levying the tax over any specified tract, but mentions the names of the Joomeas from whom and whose children the tax is to be taken, these men then consider themselves the Talook of the purchaser. Occasionally when a Talookdar makes himself unpopular, they abscond and go to another man and will then swear they are his property. Even parts of a Joomea household are sometimes sold, or they occasionally become the ijmallee† property of several men, but no sense of shame seems to attach to their condition in either case; nor, since the establishment of the Hill Superintendency, has there scarcely been a case, I believe, in which a Joomea has tried to escape payment of his tax to an unpopular Talookdar on the ground that he had left his part of the country and settled in another Chief's land, but the invariable defence is that they belong to another and never did belong to the unpopular man. This matter has had the closest attention of my predecessor, who wrote a long report on it, and I also have given much thought to the subject.

35. Although at the first view the Capitation Tax seems a very unjust and degrading form of rental, yet there are many difficulties in introducing a better system, and in no other way could the tax be gathered so cheaply; and besides as the people (as also the Tipperah Raja's subjects) see no harm in it and have been accustomed for many generations to this form of tax, there are not such urgent reasons for substituting a different system as there would be were the present tax unpopular. But undoubtedly some changes are required, and the rights of the Chiefs, which are at present very undefined, require to be fixed on a clear and intelligible basis. The subject is a long and intricate one and would take up too much time and space in an Annual Report; I will therefore let it lie over for a time until I can write a separate report on it.

36. I cannot give any returns of the amount paid by the different farmers, as among its other peculiarities the management and assessment of the tax is quite out of the province of the Superintendent. This is paid to the Collector of Chittagong, who, having no other concern with, or knowledge of, the Hill population, and no means of enquiry into the correctness or otherwise of the numbers returned, leaves the settlement of this tax with the Chiefs and people. As might be concluded, the ratio he takes are about one-fourth‡ the sum received§ by the Chiefs, to whom long leases have been given.‖ and complaints have been made to me by the Poang and the Mân Raja that their ryots, in order to pay the lighter tax, now swear themselves to be noabadees or late immigrants and get agreements from the Collector direct instead of from their own Chiefs.

37. Education.—In June 1863 a School for educating Hill children was started at Chundergona, and a grant* was obtained from Government of Rupees 123-8 per mensem. The measure was an experimental one and sanction was given for two years only. I shall report on this matter in full within a few days, and need now only observe that I have examined the boys and have found them, considering the short time the School has been in existence, very fairly advanced in English and to have acquired a very good knowledge of Bengallee. Even the slight education they have received has doubtless considerably enlarged their minds and will probably bear good fruit in the future, especially as many of the boys are sons and relatives of the Dewans and other considerable people in the Hills, and one is the heir of the Kalindee Ranee, a very old woman, and the richest of the Chiefs to whom the Capitation Tax has been farmed. The Mân Raja has also been very desirous to have a School in his village and offered to subscribe Rupees 10 a month towards it, but as the continued existence of the Chundergona School is doubtful, and funds must have been supplied from its surplus. I have not opened the other. I shall report on this matter in my letter about the Chundergona School.

39. At first much difficulty was experienced in obtaining Ameens, and as the rush for lots was chiefly in the rains and the Planters were very urgent for receiving immediate possession, prior survey and demarkation was dispensed with. This departure from rule was sanctioned by you under the belief that natural boundaries could be taken from the Topographical Survey Maps and a sufficiently approximate calculation of area made from them. Had nullahs or particular hills been fixed on as boundaries little or no difficulty would have been experienced, but the boundary in many lots was identical with that between the Hill Tracts and Zillah Chittagong. This boundary is a most intricate one, and in most places lies to the east of the surveyed areas of the frontier villages in Zillah Chittagong. It is impossible, without having the map, to discover what lands have been surveyed. The Ameens were not at first supplied with maps, and hearing that Mr. O'Donell had, in his survey of the Hill Tracts, "drawn his chain" for his base lines through fields in the plains, they, in some instances, laid down the boundary of the Waste Land lots on this line as far as they could discover it, thus including permanently-settled land within the boundaries of the Waste Land lots.

40. This error is not of much consequence, but will entail the re-survey of all such boundaries as have been found not to tally with the survey maps.

41. For some months it was expected that professional Surveyors from Mr. O'Donell's survey would be ordered to survey these lands, and only in December were orders received from the Government of Bengal, to the effect that the Ameens' survey, when tested by the Superintendent and by comparison with the Tophographical survey maps would be considered sufficient.

42. As I had not sufficient leisure from other important duties to be able to undertake the whole work myself, I applied for assistance, and Mr Davey, a Deputy Collector, who was formerly a professional Surveyor, was deputed for the purpose of assisting me in testing the Ameens' survey. He is now engaged in this duty.

43. Most of the surveys were made during the rains by Ameens insufficiently qualified for their work, and they seem to have put down slight stakes not properly rammed down to mark their stations. Now, owing to the above reasons, and the time that has elapsed between the first survey and the testing, these stakes are not to be found and much difficulty is experienced by Mr. Davey in testing.

44. I have reason to hope this difficulty will not occur in some of the lots last surveyed, or when the testing of all the present lots is finished that we shall again be embarrassed by similar carelessness.

45. Until the present year the Government expenditure in these Tracts has been greatly in excess of receipts, but this year the money to be received from Waste Lands will cover four years of the present expenditure.

* The maps of the country north of the Kurnafoolee are at present with the Survey Deputy Collector so I am unable to give the exact area, but if I remember right this is about correct. The area of the country south of the Kurnafoolee is 2,256,411 acres, or 3,525 square miles.

46. The surveyed area of these Hills is about 7,000 square miles or about 45* lacs of acres. The greater part of this sum well suited for tea and coffee, and all but a comparatively very small area is available for immediate sale and planting, so there is space for 2 or 300 Planters each with his 1,000 acres of land, therefore there is no probability within this generation of the lands being all sold, or, if labour is obtainable and coffee and tea planting remain nearly as profitable commercial speculations as they have hitherto proved, of this source of revenue failing for many years to come.†

47. On the eastern side of the Tract there are also high ranges of hills rising from 2 to 5,000 feet above the sea level, where there is a very heavy rain-fall, and which, I should think, would be admirably adapted for the growth of the Cinchona tree. As tea and coffee plantations extend, the savage tribes on the eastern Frontier will either be thrown further back or coerced or induced to live in a more peaceable way, in which case those Hills might be taken up for Cinchona plantations.

48. I should imagine that the climate and soil are both much like those of Burmah, and I confidently believe that teak and other Burmese timber trees would grow here to perfection. But as the pernicious mode of Joom cultivation has been practised without restriction in these Hills from time immemorial, and the people of Chittagong and Sundeep have been for generations in the habit of cutting and transporting all good timber trees, there is scarcely any thing worthy the name of forest left within easy reach of water carriage in the Hill Tracts.‡ With a little care and some expense for planting and conserving§ I have no doubt that fine forests of good timber could be grown; these in the end would, I should think, return cent per cent the expense of planting and looking after them.

W. G. Y.,
Commissioner.

49. I have hitherto had no leisure to commence any experiments, nor am I, from reading or personal experience, in the condition to give any authoritative opinion on the best way to develop the agricultural and other resources of the Hill Tracts, but I intend to study the subject and hope during this year (1865) to lay some plans before you for your consideration.

50. It has come to my knowledge that many persons have obtained "pottahs" (leases) from the Chittagong Collectorate for grass lands, wherein boundaries are given embracing large areas, but in which some very small area is mentioned. For instance, a piece of land may be rented with four streams for boundaries in which there are contained one thousand acres or kanies, whereas in the body of the lease they are stated to contain only ten kanies. As these lands are very profitable and require little or no labour they are under-let often for 50 or 100 times the rent paid to Government. The balance of gain has been obtained by fraud and misrepresentation and belongs of right to Government. I intend investigating these leases with a view to restore to Government that which rightfully belongs to it. This is difficult to do and requires time, for the holders of these leases are very chary in producing them, and in suits between different claimants possession is more generally insisted on than right. I will report any steps that I may take in this matter hereafter.

These are old pottahs given about the time of the Settlement of the Chittagong District, and they have often given us much trouble. They are usually signed by a Deputy Collector, and they seem to have been given upon most imperfect information and on doubtful authority.

W. G. Y.,
Commissioner.

51. Within these Hills there are some valleys and plains of large extent and so low and moist that paddy and other grains could be cultivated to great advantage in them; but as jungle-clearing is costly, labour nearly unprocurable, and as Bengalee ryots are averse to living in the Hills, these lands are likely to remain uncultivated for some years to come. But if any adventurous capitalist like Messrs. Morell in the Sunderbuns were to devote himself to cultivating these lands great profit to himself, and great gain to the country, would result. In future years doubtless these lands will be taken up and cultivated.

52. The population of these Hills is estimated to be about 60,000, but I consider the land could easily support ten times this number, and there is no calculating the improvement and progress possible in these Hills when capital and labour shall have been attracted to them. That this improvement has begun is proved by the great sales of land during the last year.*

* I would somewhat qualify this statement on re-consideration. As yet Planters have bought land only on the edge of the Hill Tracts, that is, on the eastern boundary of the plains, where local labour is plentiful. If land is bought further in local labour will not be procurable and it will have to be imported at a considerably enhanced cost from the plains, and if the great increase of plantations which the land would admit of actually takes place the surplus labour of Chittagong alone would not suffice to carry them on, but the labour markets of the whole of Bengal would be called on to supply the deficiency. However, there is steam communication by sea with Calcutta, and Chittagong is much nearer the labour markets than Assam and Cachar, and I believe the Bengalee Cooley would prefer Chittagong to the more distant tea Districts, and therefore that labour could be imported more cheaply, and I hope there would not be that enormous mortality which in Assam so terrifies the Coolies and makes them attempt to escape even though they know they are almost certain of being sent to Jail for doing so. Besides this I have heard some of the Planters say there is too much sand in the soil and although excellent tea will grow they will not obtain a sufficient number of flushes* to pay for the cost of importing Coolies. Whether this last fear is well grounded or not time and experience will shew, but the further I have gone into the interior the better the land seems to me to be, and perhaps this better quality of land might counter-balance, in some degree, the greater cost of imported over local labour.

* Technical term for each series of green leaflets such as are used for manufacturing tea. In Assam there are twelve or thirteen series in the year. In these Hills some of the Planters say there will not be more than six or seven, while others say there will be more than in Assam.

53. Crops.—In consequence of its high price the Joomeas have given most of their time to growing cotton and have grown less paddy than they usually do. The promise of the crops was at first very good, but, like last year, hords of rats ravaged the fields and destroyed, in many places, a full half or two-thirds of the produce, consequently grain is scarce and dear, and as the Joomeas are a very improvident race and borrow money at most usurious rates they are likely to suffer for some years from the scarcity now prevailing. But they will not suffer so much as they would have done some years ago, as the price of cotton is so high that even a small amount of it will buy them food till another season.

54. The constant dread of Kookies operates also to decrease the agricultural outturn of the District, as rumours of Shindoos and Kookies being out on the war-path are continually being circulated, and the villagers, as soon as they hear this, leave their fields and homesteads and crowd on the banks of the Kurnafoolee for safety.

55. I hope that the new posts will give more confidence, and as they are situated in fine Jooming lands, many hundreds of Joomeas might settle with both profit and safety around them.

56. Public Works.—The Public Works year ends on 31st April, it will be more convenient then to report upon what has been done than to do so now, otherwise parts of two years would come under review and it would be necessary to mention the grants for twenty-four months while the work would have been only for twelve months.

57. I may, however, mention that the road to connect the posts of Kassalong, Khakhuria, and Golabaree is being made under the superintendence of an Assistant Engineer, and it is hoped, may be completed this year, and that a hill path from Kunchun Nugur to Manick Cherroe and Golabaree and from thence to Ramghur was also cleared by the Mân Raja at an expense of Rupees 1,872-4 during the year under reveiw.

58. This last road was about sixty miles long, so the cost per mile averaged only a little more than Rupees 30. For such a sum, it will be evident, nothing but mere jungle-clearing could be attempted, and I have since heard that a great part of it has become again choked up with thatching grass. Provision was not made for keeping the road clear, and as it was completed just before the rains, and jungle grows up with wonderful rapidity on this country at that season, and the road was taken for the most part through grass kholas, it is not to be wondered at that such should have been the result.

59. I intend, as soon as the Superintendency Elephants are returned from the Bootan war, to visit that part of the country and will lay some suggestions before you as to how the road may be kept clear. I dare say the Mân Rajah would take a contract for such a purpose at a low rate.

60. Paths made by natives for their own convenience are cleared twice a year, and if we are to obtain any value for the money spent on the various roads, it will either be necessary to contract with the Hill Chiefs or others to keep them clear after they have been completed, or to pay a gang of Coolies to continnally traverse and clear the roads. The Police Force is far too weak to be able, unaided, to perform any such duty satisfactorily.

61. General Health.—The health of the people last year was good. In 1862 a great epidemic of small-pox broke out and before that cholera raged, but for the last few years the country has been free from epidemics.

62. This is to be ascribed to the paucity of the population, and the large area they are scattered over rather than to any precautions taken by them. The people in the Hills are not accustomed, as are the Chittagong people, to inoculation, and hitherto every attempt at vaccination has completely† failed. This is greatly to be regretted, as here there are no cast prejudices to overcome, and there would be no great difficulty in causing every man, woman, and child in the Hill Tracts to be vaccinated if success in the cases could only be obtained.

† Since the date of this report there have been three successful cases of vaccination and the lymph thus obtained is being employed for the vaccination of others.

W. G. Y.,
Commissioner.

63. Office Work and Routine.—When Captain Magrath was first appointed he had no Writers and kept no records, afterwards slowly the Office Establishment was increased to the present number. At first there was necessarily no attempt at routine, and up to the present time the business has not settled down to the smoothness with which it proceeds in Offices of larger standing. Only a short time before I assumed charge the Office Establishment was increased.

64. When I came the records both in the English and Bengalee Departments were in the greatest confusion, and reference to previous correspondence and work was very difficult. Nor had the system been introduced which obtains in Regulation District Offices of portioning out the work to the different ministerial officers and making each responsible for the due performance of his own duty; as a consequence it was impossible to fix blame upon any particular person when anything went wrong and each officer shirked the work and left it to be done by others.

65. The strength of the Establishment is now quite sufficient for the work devolving upon it' and I have portioned out the work and given each officer to understand that no excuse will be taken if anything in his Department is faulty.

66. The ministerial officers as a body are not deficient in ability, and I hope now that all business will be transacted with that punctuality and care that is usual in Regulation Districts, and you will have less cause to complain about statements sent in late and wrong than you have had since I first came, and that you will not have reason to send so many reminders of work left undone and letters unanswered as you have had.

67. Baboo Bhugwan Chunder Bose was for a few days the Assistant to the Superintendent, but I saw nothing of his work and can give no opinion on it. Since then Mr. Kelly, the Joint Magistrate, and Baboo Goloke Chunder Roy had charge and transacted in Chittagong the little business connected with the Assistantship. The work of neither has come before me, I am therefore not in a position to report on it.

68. Change in the Law.—Some time before I took charge a ruling of the Advocate-General was received laying down that all Laws (in which no special limit of local application is made) passed since Act XXII. of 1860* would apply to the Hill Tracts.

* An Act to remove the Hill Tracts east of Chittagong from the jurisdiction of the tribunals established under the general Regulations and Acts.

69. In reference to the above ruling you called upon Mr. Makgill† to give his opinion "on the whole question" in order "that an early report might be submitted to Government on the modifications which may be thus rendered necessary in the Rules of practice at present in force in the Hill Tracts."

† Letter No. 199, dated 16th July 1864.

70. In his reply‡ the matter is just touched on, the greater part of the letter being taken up by the reasons for increasing the Office Establishment; he only writes, paragraph 4;—"There does not appear to be any peculiar reason for exempting the Hill Tracts from the action of the Stamp Law, and I do not at present perceive that any very important effect is likely to be felt from its recognition," and does not give his opinion on the advisability or otherwise of having the other Laws introduced, or suggest any course for adoption with respect to the above ruling.

‡ No. 190, dated 5th August 1864.

71. There are no copies of Acts and Regulations in this Office, but I have sent for them; when they arrive, and I have looked over each Law, I will, if I find it necessary, report upon any that I think should not be introduced.

72. Although in the letter above quoted Mr. Makgill gave no decided opinion, I gather from his remarks in the last Annual Report that he was strongly against assimilating the system of Government of this country to that of a Regulation District. In the margin I give his remarks, in which I entirely concur; and I greatly regret the ruling,§ as its effect will evidently be to produce the assimilation which Mr. Makgill deprecates.

"I would strenuously urge that the assimilation of the system of Government of this country to that of a Regulation District is most unadvisable. The condition of the two cases is totally different. Besides the important differences of race and character, it should be remembered that the people of these Tracts are a nomad race, having no tie to any particular spot of soil and owe a sort of feudal allegiance to their Chiefs. It may be conceived how difficult it is to apply to a people so constituted the Procrustean Rules of the Acts and Regulations, and wide latitude must always be allowed to the Officer in charge of these Tracts in passing executive orders: he should have the fullest means of doing so, and he alone should be responsible for the well-being of the District."

§ I do not think that the ruling will have the effect apprehended. It applies only to Laws of general application, and not to the Codes of Procedure and other Laws which the Legislature has (properly) considered to be inapplicable to Non-Regulation Districts.

W. G. Young,

Commissioner.

Commissioner's Office;
Chittagong,
The 27th March 1865.

Resolution by the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,—(dated the 8th June 1865.)

READ a letter from the Commissioner of Chittagong, No. 76, dated the 26th March last, giving cover to the Annual Report of the Superintendent of the Hill Tracts of Chittagong for the year 1864.

1. The Lieutenant-Governor observes that the matter discussed in paragraphs 1 to 10 of the Report have formed the subject of a separate correspondence and the Superintendent's remarks do not therefore require notice here.

2. The question of Police Posts treated in paragraphs 11 to 22 has also been separately disposed of. The Lieutenant-Governor notices with pleasure the very favorable mention made in paragraph 22 of Mr. P. G. Scott, Assistant Superintendent of Police.

3. Paragraphs 23 to 28, and the Statements appended relating to the administration of Civil and Criminal justice, do not call for any special remarks. The result of commitments in Criminal cases is not very favorable.

4. PARAGRAPHS 29 AND 30.—The Lieutenant-Governor awaits the Report promised in paragraph 30 of the alterations which the Superintendent proposes to make in the system of Registration. The large proportion of cases in which registry was refused during the year is somewhat remarkable and should have been explained.

5. In the Statement given on the margin of paragraph 31 of tolls levied on the natural products of the Hills during the year 1864 the Lieutenant-Governor notices a great difference in the ratios of receipts to cost of collection. On the Matamohoree Rupees 981 were collected at a cost of Rupees 140; while it cost Rupees 290 to gather in tolls to the amount of Rupees 589 on the River Sunko. This requires explanation.

6. Paragraphs 32 to 36 relate to the Capitation Tax. This tax, though a rude substitute for rent for the use of the soil, is, in the Lieutenant-Governor's opinion, by no means an unjust and degrading form of rental; nor is it an unpopular tax among the Hill people. The remarks in paragraph 36, however, indicate the necessity for an immediate change in one respect, and the Lieutenant-Governor does not understand why it has not already been carried out. Article XI. of the Rules laid down for the guidance of the Superintendent of the Hill Tracts when that office was first created expressly declares that it will be the duty of that Officer to collect the revenue of the Hills. This Rule should now at once be put in force.

7. PARAGRAPH 37.—Education.—On this subject the Lieutenant-Governor awaits the special Report promised by the Superintendent.

8. PARAGRAPHS 38-52.—Waste Lands.—The errors in surveying are much to be regretted. The Ameens employed should have been supplied from the first with the Survey Maps of the permanently-settled Territory and of the Hills.

9. With reference to paragraph 48 the Commissioner should report whether he would advise the introduction into the Hill Tracts of the provisions of Act VII. of 1865, (for the protection of Forests,) and the Conservator of Forests should submit a Report on the timber in the Forests of Chittagong.

10. The irregularities noticed in paragraph 50 will be checked when the revenue of the Hill Tracts is placed under the Superintendent.

11. Paragraphs 53 to 72 do not call for any remarks.

12. The acknowledgments of Government are due to Mr. Kilby for his intelligent and interesting Report.

From J. GEOGHEGAN, ESQ., Under-Secretary to the Government of Bengal, to DR. T. ANDERSON, Conservator of Forests L. P.,—(No. 3684, dated the 8th June 1865.)

I AM directed to forward to you the accompanying extract (paragraph 48) from the Annual Report on the Hill Tracts of Chittagong for the year 1864, and to request that you will have the goodness to submit a report on the timber trees which grow or can be grown in those tracts.

Report on the progress of Tea Cultivation in the Assam Division.

From LIEUTENANT-COLONEL H. HOPKINSON, Agent to the Governor General and Commissioner of Assam, to the Secretary to the Government of Bengal,—(No. 160, dated Gowhatty, the 20th April 1865)

I HAVE the honor to submit the following report on the progress of Tea cultivation in this Division during the past year:—

2. I have condensed in the Tabular Statement on the margin the information obtained from the Returns of District Officers in regard—(1*st*,) to the number of Tea Gardens now in Assam; (2*nd*,) the amount of local and imported labour employed on them; (3*rd*,) the extent of waste land taken up for Tea cultivation; (4*th*,) the tenures under which it is held; (5*th*,) the area cleared and planted to the close of the year of report; (6*th*,) the outturn for 1863 and last year and the expected outturn for season 1865.

3. Official records have supplied the details of waste land taken up for Tea; but in regard to the outturn and extent of cultivation of each District, Deputy Commissioners have had to rely chiefly on information obtained from the Planters themselves.

4. Where for comparison the outturn and cultivation of 1863 are shewn in the Statement now submitted, it will be observed that, with the exception of Luckimpore, the figures for the other Districts do not agree with those exhibited in my Annual Report for that year. It is not easy to explain the cause of this, in most instances I believe it to be owing to Planters being able to furnish more complete information now than what they were able to give when the Statements for 1863 were being prepared. In some few cases discrepancies may, I think, be attributed to changes in the managership of factories, for, except in rare cases, Planters do not retain copies of the forms they fill in each year. They have, therefore, to trust a good deal to memory when they are asked to give particulars of their operations for former years.

5. Nearly all the Deputy Commissioners of this Division notice the difficulty which they experience in collecting the necessary information required to be embodied in their Annual Tea Reports—a difficulty which, they unanimously agree in saying, keeps increasing each year with the extension of Tea planting.

6. A suggestion which I made to District Officers about the close of last year to endeavor to form a Committee of Planters to aid them in procuring reliable information on the points most acquired has, I regret to say, been found on trial to be not generally practicable. Captain Sconce, the Deputy Commissioner of Seebsagur, stated that, on mentioning the subject to some of the Planters of his District, "objections were raised on the ground that gentlemen who are willing to furnish the Deputy Commissioner with official informations as to their own estates are reticent with regard to each other." The other Deputy Commissioners reported on the subject much to the same effect as Captain Sconce.

7. It is most desirable that Annual Reports on the progress of Tea cultivation in Assam should not be discontinued, at least until the proportion which the trade assumes renders it unnecessary to watch its further development. Meanwhile I think it important that the Reports which are submitted should be as accurate as they can be made. I purpose, therefore, to call on Deputy Commissioners, after consultation with some of the influential Planters of their Districts, to prepare and submit, for my consideration and eventual reference to Government, a well devised scheme by which the desired object can be obtained.

8. Following the classification of former years, I proceed first to notice the progress of Tea operations in the District of Luckimpore :—

9. Luckimpore.—There were about 4,000 acres of waste land brought under cultivation during the year, making the total extent of land planted with Tea in this District close on 12,000 acres. The Deputy Commissioner, Captain Comber, states that planting is now on such a large scale that the local labour available is found altogether insufficient to cultivate and work the gardens already in existence, and that, during his cold weather tour in the District, he saw fine old gardens from which no Tea had been made from want of hands to pluck the leaves; this may probably account for the falling off of nigh 10,000 lbs. of Tea observable by the Returns, but Captain Comber accounts for it as follows :—

"I account for this by the fact that in the "previous year the plants had been over-pluck-"ed, and that in consequence it was necessary to "nurse them this season, in addition to which "the fall of rain this year fell short of what is "usual and the yield of leaf was consequently "less; on the other hand there were gardens which "this year attained the age at which they are "usually plucked. I may here remark, however, "that the data on which these statistics are "based, though certainly exhibiting a fair approxi-"mation, cannot be considered altogether "reliable. I have been for the last two and a half "months endeavoring to obtain correct inform-"ation from the Planters, and although none offer "any objection to afford it, they still put off or "neglect to fill in the Returns, and I have been "obliged, in some instances, to supply the omis-"sions from my own personal knowledge of the "gardens and the labour and means of the parties "working them. The working of the older and "more extensive estates, however, I believe to "be correctly stated."

10. In connexion with the fall in the price of Tea seed, Captain Comber makes the following remarks to shew that the extension of Tea planting has not thereby been in any way discouraged :—

"The value of Tea seed has fallen considerably since my last Report was submitted. The best seed which last year fetched Rupees 200 the maund can scarcely find purchasers this year, and yet there is no indication of Tea-planting becoming an unpopular occupation; on the contrary, both the number of the European Assistants have increased and their salaries have also risen. The great Companies now find that they can afford to send out educated young men from England on salaries sufficient to make them look to Assam as the spot in which their independence, if not their fortune, is to be achieved. I believe within the last two months two more large Companies have been formed in London, and a staff of young Assistants are on their way out from England to learn the business of Tea-planting and Tea-making."

11. Seebsagur.—In the Seebsagur District there are now 18,421 acres of land cultivated with Tea, of this 2,992 acres were planted out during the year of report. The Deputy Commissioner believes that further extensions were arrested only from insufficient labour. The outturn of manufactured Tea was 17,18,838 lbs., showing an increase of 1,56,885 lbs. over the outturn of the previous year.

12. In noticing the operations of the Waste Land Rules in his District and their bearing on Tea planting, Lieutenant Sconce remarks as follows :—

"The Waste Land Rules have on the whole disappointed European Planters. There has been a great deal of competition introduced in the land sales by speculating Natives,* who have caused the price to rise enormously, and in many instances the real value of the land has been so much exceeded that the purchasers have been unable to part with their lots. For the moment, Government may have appeared to have profited, but it remains to be seen whether or not bidders can pay the exorbitant prices within the prescribed period. These speculators can have done little to advance the country. Few of them are capitalists, and none mean to import labour or spend much money in opening out the jungle. Those who have overbid the real value of the land and are unable to sell again are simply obstructing others who would be willing and able to extend Tea planting. Real Tea Planters are regretting the abolition of the old Rules of 1854, which had advantages not existing in the new Rules.

* Note—There have been a greater number of speculating Europeans. It was the keen competition among the Europeans that gave the hint to the Natives to bid up for the land in order to sell again to the Europeans.
H. H.

"That the Rule requiring survey before sale was ever suspended cannot be more regretted than it is by Officers, whose duty it is to administer the new Rules. To do justice to opposing claimants and to guard the interests of Government without the guide of a preliminary survey is absolutely impossible, it is merely working in the dark and the result is unsatisfactory to every body. The present system allows unprincipled grasping persons to extend their limits beyond their right, (for it matters little how vigilant fiscal Officers are when boundaries are unknown,) old established rights are jeopardized, entire lots or portions of lots may be put up to sale more than once, and consequently litigation is promoted, whilst the total absence of survey prevents the truth from being discovered. The original clamour which called forth these Rules has now passed by, the European Planters have had a taste of what they wanted, and there is a feeling of disappointment arising, I believe, from the fee-simple not being obtainable without a sale by auction. The dissatisfaction with these Rules is made manifest by the eagerness with which the common tenure of the country is now accepted."

13. Nowgong.—In Nowgong Tea planting appears to have progressed favorably during the year; 1,687 acres of waste lands were cleared and planted, making the total area under cultivation in the District 5,700 acres. The outturn of manufactured Tea is returned as 1,61,226 lbs., or 8,226 lbs. less than that of the previous year

14. Applications for waste lands for Tea planting were not numerous during the year; the Deputy Commissioner, Mr Raban, accounts for this in the following able remarks on the

aste lands :—

ne applications for land have not been numerous as might have been expected, many of the Planters tell me that they been deterred from applying, not so much he fear of competition at the sales as by the s and difficulties previous to advertisement.

ately I do not see at present what materials there will be for the satisfactory decision of these disputes. Owing to the pressure of Office work the Sketch Maps have not been identified on the ground by Deputy Collectors, and I think from all I see and hear it will be very difficult to identify them hereafter. The Sketch Maps do not shew the interior of the grant, and I am afraid the names given to many of the streams and swamps are purely arbitrary, and that there will be great doubts about their identification presently.

"The desire to obtain immediate possession and to prevent subsequent augmentation of the auction price in consequence of improvements effected by the applicants has led to the system of cultivation leases being in great favor. During the year seven of these leases were granted for 270 acres of land and seventeen applications were made. These leases are in favor with the more wealthy Natives, and I think the system deserves every encouragement as it encourages improvement without any immediate sacrifice of Revenue, and is preparing the way for a settlement more satisfactory than the present."

15. Mr. Raban notices the demand for labour in the District as follows:—

"The demand for labour is beginning to exceed the supply, and though this District, with a little assistance from Durrung, has hitherto met its requirements, Planters are now beginning to have recourse to importations from Bengal and Hindustan. The growing trade of the District is fast finding occupation and maintenance for those who worked for the Planters, and it is more profitable, as well as more pleasant for the Ryot, to grow and sell mustard, rice, and cotton than to work in a Tea garden. The Ryot is beginning to clear himself from the indebtedness in which he was sunk by the famine of 1857 and an advance loses much of its attractions: very few coolies have hitherto been imported from Bengal."

16. DURRUNG.—Next to Luckimpore the largest clearances made during the year appear to have been in Durrung. The area now under Tea cultivation in this District is 4,734 acres, or considerably more than double what it was last year. The outturn of manufactured Tea was 58,800 lbs., or nearly three times the outturn of the preceding season. Captain Lamb, the Deputy Commissioner, says that there is an abundance of local labour available in the District, provided the plantations are well situated in the vicinity of the large villages which can be drawn on for labour. Captain Lamb adds that the Ryots are beginning to look on service in Tea factories as more profitable than attending to their crops. It will be observed that in the Nowgong District Mr. Raban reports quite differently as regards the Ryots of his District, which is separated from Durrung only by the River Berhampooter; the cause of this difference of feeling may be ascribed to the Durrung District being inhabited by Cacharies, a hardworking industrious people, from whom, before the growth of Tea planting in the District itself, labourers for the rest of Assam were obtained; the population of Nowgong on the other hand is thoroughly Assamese.

17. So anxious are Planters in Durrung to exclude others from settling near them that many have purchased large tracts of waste land in the vicinity of their present plantations, and as all these lots have been sold without survey and their boundaries are unknown, it is impossible, in most instances, for new settlers to acquire land in the neighbourhood of old plantations, which of course are near the most eligible [illegible] as regards labour. The Planters in Durrung have also succeeded in effecting a combination among themselves to prevent any competition at the land sales, and the land in Durrung has consequently been almost all of it sold at, or very little above, the upset price.

18. KAMROOP.—The Kamroop District was, I believe, the last of all the Districts of Assam (with the exception of Gowalparah) into which Tea planting was introduced. One thousand one hundred and fifty acres were brought under cultivation during the year of review, making a total area of 2,703 acres now cultivated with Tea in this District. The Deputy Commissioner seems to think that the operation of the Sale Rules has tended to discourage settlers, as he says that they consider it a great hardship and injustice that lands prospected and selected by them at considerable trouble and expense should be put up to public sale, at which they may be outbid by people, who thus reap the fruits of their labour and experience.

19. The Deputy Commissioner thinks that Planters in his District will soon have to rely entirely on imported coolies to work their gardens, as local labour is becoming exhausted, wages having risen so very high that a cooly after a short period of service realizes sufficient to become independent and turn cultivator, when he makes more by the sale of his produce than he would by remaining in service.

20. GOWALPARAH.—Gowalparah is a permanently-settled District, and, with one exception, the twenty-two Tea gardens in it are all owned by Natives, who lease their land from the Zemindars rent-free for the first two or three years, from which would appear that Zemindars are beginning to encourage Tea planting. Captain Morton reports thus of the local labour by which these Tea estates are worked:—

"The coolies on the estates are for the most part paid in kind. They receive an advance of, say, Rupees 30, and enter into agreement to serve so many years. Whilst in service they receive a seer of rice besides a little oil and salt per diem, and a Burkapur (cotton covering) and Gamcha (cloth to tie round the head) annually. A small amount in the way of cash payment is deducted annually from the original advance.

"There certainly are to be found men who will accept service on such terms in preference to the free and highly paid service of Government, but it is not to be wondered at that the gardens dependent on their labour are very backward."

21. The following extract from Captain Morton's Report will explain why European Planters have not settled in Gowalparah:—

"There is no lack of good soil for Tea in this District. The land under the Garrow Hills is perhaps second to none in Assam, but the permanent settlement of Gowalparah will, so long as any land in Assam is to be brought or [illegible] from Government, debar Europeans from en[illegible] the District."

22. GENERAL REMARKS.—At the close of t[illegible] year of report there were 366 Proprietors of Te[illegible] plantations in Assam, of these nineteen [illegible] exhibited in the Di[illegible] trict Returns as

1.	Assam Tea Company.	Limited Liability
2.	Upper Assam ditto.	Companies, the nam[illegible]
3.	Debroogbur ditto.	of which are given
4.	British India ditto.	the margin, 198
5.	Luckimpore ditto.	individual Europe[illegible]
6.	Muttuck ditto.	Planters or Europe[illegible]
7.	Jorehaut ditto.	Firms, consisting
8.	Golaghat ditto.	two or more perso[illegible]
9.	Seebsagur ditto.	in partnership, [illegible]
10.	East India ditto.	149 are Natives.
11.	Bishnath ditto.
12.	Durrung ditto.
13.	Tezpore ditto.
14.	Colonial ditto.
15.	Imperial ditto.
16.	Amicable ditto.
17.	Cachar and Assam ditto.
18.	Central Assam ditto.
19.	Lower Assam ditto.

23. The gre[illegible] portion of the N[illegible] Proprietors are the Seebsagur District, and the extent of [illegible] operations, with few exceptions, are not exhibi[illegible] in the Return received from that District believe that several of these Native Propri[illegible] are merely owners of grants with nominal [illegible] ances on them.

24. The total area of waste land taken for Tea planting in Assam is 5,16,475 acres; this about a twelfth portion only, or 43 [illegible] has been brought under cultivation, 12,838 acres cleared and planted in the [illegible] report.

25. The outturn of last year wa[illegible] lbs. of manufactured Tea, being ov[illegible] lbs. less than what was estimated [illegible] year. In two Districts, viz., Luckimpo[illegible] Nowgong, there is a decrease shewn in t[illegible] turn as compared with last year; in th[illegible] four Districts the crop appears to ha[illegible] more abundant, and an increase—[illegible] not a very large one—is shewn over t[illegible] of 1863.

26. The estimated outturn for the [illegible] year, i. e., 1865, is 32,26,765 lbs., [illegible] obtained would give the value as re[illegible] England of the Tea trade of Assam [illegible] 3,00,000 lbs.

27. There are 36,258 labourers ([illegible] women and children) employed in t[illegible] gardens in Assam. Of this number 11,[illegible] imported and 24,341 are local. View[illegible] extent of land under cultivation, there[illegible] grounds for apprehension that some of t[illegible] already cleared must be allowed to run ag[illegible] jungles during the ensuing year since the [illegible] of labourers available does not give even [illegible] for each acre under cultivation, and we kn[illegible] the concurrent testimony of the best [illegible] experienced Planters that no factory [illegible] efficiently worked with a less pro[illegible] labour.

28. No Returns have been kept of t[illegible] of deaths and desertions amongst [illegible] labourers, but under the operations o[illegible] recently passed for regulating Cooly C[illegible] information on these important heads wi[illegible] wanting in future.
